"Jafsie" In Secret Meeting With Hauptmann In Jersey Jail

Dr. Condon In Surprise Visit To Hauptmann

Rumor "Jafsie" Has Failed To Identify Lindbergh Suspect

WALTER FURCHT CHANGES STORY

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 25.—James M. Fawcett, attorney for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, Lindbergh kidnaping case suspect, explained today that he had had nothing to do with obtaining the alibi story of Walter Furcht, which the former construction foreman of the Majestic apartments in New York City repudiated yesterday.

"I want particularly to point out that I had nothing to do with the discovery of Furcht," Fawcett declared. "My own investigators, in fact, had been unable to locate him. But I am glad that his duplicity has been uncovered, because this would have proven very embarrassing if it had occurred later on."

Should Tell Truth.

The prisoner's wife, Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, said:

"I'm glad it came out now. I've got so much faith in my husband's innocence that I feel that witnesses, either for the prosecution or the defense, should tell the truth.

"If this had not come out until my husband's trial, it would have hurt his case very badly. I had nothing to do with Furcht coming forward in the first place. All the witnesses should tell the truth. My husband doesn't need and doesn't want the help of people who tell lies."

Announcement of Furcht's disavowal of his story that Hauptmann had worked under him in the Majestic apartments until 5 p. m. on the day of the kidnaping and then had reported for work on the following morning was made after Hauptmann, arraigned in Flemington, had been granted a delay in the start of his trial until January 2.

Talks With Condon.

This long postponement was unexpected enough, but even more surprising was the discovery that Dr. John F. Condon, aged ransom intermediary, had slipped into the Flemington jail and spent more than an hour in earnest conversation with the suspect.

Every effort was made to keep this visit a secret and to guard the results of the conference. But it was

There is little reason why the curfew law enforcement by the police should not be extended permanently at least so far as enforcement pertains to "gangs" running wild on the streets at night. RAFAEL LOPEZ DE ONATE — ELLEN WILSON McADOO

Marriage license clerks at Riverside, Cal., refused to grant a license to wed to Ellen Wilson McAdoo, granddaughter of Woodrow Wilson, and Rafael Lopez De Onate, born in the Philippines, until De Onate proved he had no Malay or Filipino blood in his veins. De Onate, a film actor, offered the bureau evidence of his Spanish ancestry which officials studied. Senator McAdoo's daughter and De Onate are pictured above.

FIRST ALLOCATIONS MADE FOR OLD AGE PENSIONS

For Old Age Assistance in Lawrence county in December and January an allowance of $6732.04 for each of the two months has been made according to members of the Mothers Assistance Board here, the board which will handle the cases.

At the meeting of the board on Wednesday afternoon the final plans for the opening of the office were finished. The office will be in the court house or close by, and there will be an employed secretary on hand to take care of applications in and out.

In a few days it is anticipated that the work of getting out the 800 or more applications will start and upon the receipt of them the investigations will start.

The money allocated to the board for December and January will not be sufficient to pay every case as much as they might seem to be eligible for but the board hopes when the fund is operating smoothly to be able to add to this.

Food To Be Received At Jameson Hospital Lobby And At Downtown Store

INGATHERING WILL CONTINUE SATURDAY

With indications pointing to the largest food ingathering in the history of the hospital, the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide society has made arrangements to have several of its members in the lobby of the hospital throughout Friday and Saturday to receive the donations as they come in.

People who would find it difficult to leave their food gifts at the hospital are asked to leave them at Atkinson's Paint and Glass store on North Mill street.

Reports drifting in from committee women in the outlying districts seem to indicate the prospect of an unusually large donation of potatoes, onions and other non-perishable vegetables and fruits this year. It is believed that, as in years before, hundreds of glasses and jars of jellies, jams and fruits will be presented by the housewives of city and county.

LISBON, O., Oct. 25.—Adam Richetti, gunman-pal of Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, may be extradited to Columbia, Mo., before nightfall to face charges of murdering Highway Patrol Sergeant Ben Booth and Sheriff Roger Wilson.

Meanwhile, the 95-year-old jail which has been denounced as unfit more than once was being guarded by men recruited from this village and neighboring Ohio towns. Rifles formed virtually a steel fence around the ramshackle structure.

Another search for hoodlums got under way this morning. East Liverpool police were making efforts to trace a car containing two mystery men who appeared "too curious" as Floyd's body was placed on a baggage car and started on its journey to his mother's Oklahoma home. The pair, police revealed, were from the neighborhood of New Philadelphia, O., where George "Baby Face" Nelson was rumored sighted yesterday.

The pair, said to be between 35 and 40 years of age, asked directions to the railroad station after asking:

"Has the kid's body been packed?"

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Breaking all known speed records for passenger trains, the trim, stream-lined Diesel-powered Union Pacific "bullet train" arrived at Grand Central station at 9:57 a. m. today after a run of 56 hours and 57 minutes from Los Angeles.

The train, bearing several distinguished passengers, left the Pacific coast city at 10 p. m. Monday and in its unprecedented trans-continental dash bettered every railroad record for both sprints and sustained speed.

The train traveled between Dix and Potter, Neb., a distance of two miles, in one minute flat, to establish a record of 120 miles per hour.

Thousands Cheer

Over the 508-mile stretch between Cheyenne, Wyo., and Omaha, Neb., it average 84 miles an hour.

Its speed was 105 miles per hour over the 18 miles between Kimball, Wyo., and Sidney, Neb.

Prosaically named the M-10001, the blunt-nosed, cater-pillar like train was greeted by city officials and an enthusiastic crowd of several thousand persons at the Grand Central.

The train of six cars was drawn into the station by a huge New York Central electric locomotive.

The train will be on public exhibition here until Sunday night when it will be taken to Philadelphia.

Says Lindbergh Baby Murdered While In Crib

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The New York Evening Journal in a story published today said that the state of New Jersey's "trump card" against Bruno Richard Hauptmann is proof that the Lindbergh baby was murdered in his crib.

What the evidence is could not be ascertained, the Journal added.

But the evidence, the newspaper stated, is of the utmost importance in supporting the charge that the baby's murder was premeditated.

The nature of the evidence, it was further said, will be guarded until Hauptmann is brought to trial on January 2.

No Women In Durant's Ten Greatest Thinkers

Will Durant, world renowned philosopher and writer, offers no apologies for his "Ten Greatest Thinkers" named in a lecture at New Wilmington last night.

When asked by a News representative whether he had ever considered including a woman on the list, his reply was emphatically in the negative.

"No, I have never even considered such a thing," he said, gravely, "because it has been only in the last 50 years that they have had the opportunity of education. There have been great women, there have been women who showed great genious—but there have been none whom I could dare rank with my greatest thinkers."

Dr. Durant, in presenting his selection of thinkers to a crowd of several hundred listeners in the Westminster College chapel, explained that it could embrace philosophers and scientists alone—men who by their thoughts rather than by their actions or their passions, have most influenced mankind.

One by one he named Confucius, Plato, Aristotle, Thomas Aquinas, Copernicus, Bacon, Newton, Voltaire, Kant and Darwin—in the same breath mentioning innumerable persons he would like to have included.

Says Lindbergh Baby Murdered While In Crib

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The New York Evening Journal in a story published today said that the state of New Jersey's "trump card" against Bruno Richard Hauptmann is proof that the Lindbergh baby was murdered in his crib.

What the evidence is could not be ascertained, the Journal added.

But the evidence, the newspaper stated, is of the utmost importance in supporting the charge that the baby's murder was premeditated.

The nature of the evidence, it was further said, will be guarded until Hauptmann is brought to trial on January 2.

No Women In Durant's Ten Greatest Thinkers

Will Durant, world renowned philosopher and writer, offers no apologies for his "Ten Greatest Thinkers" named in a lecture at New Wilmington last night.

When asked by a News representative whether he had ever considered including a woman on the list, his reply was emphatically in the negative.

"No, I have never even considered such a thing," he said, gravely, "because it has been only in the last 50 years that they have had the opportunity of education. There have been great women, there have been women who showed great genious—but there have been none whom I could dare rank with my greatest thinkers."

Dr. Durant, in presenting his selection of thinkers to a crowd of several hundred listeners in the Westminster College chapel, explained that it could embrace philosophers and scientists alone—men who by their thoughts rather than by their actions or their passions, have most influenced mankind.

One by one he named Confucius, Plato, Aristotle, Thomas Aquinas, Copernicus, Bacon, Newton, Voltaire, Kant and Darwin—in the same breath mentioning innumerable persons he would like to have included.

"Jafsie" In Secret Meeting With Hauptmann In Jersey Jail

Dr. Condon In Surprise Visit To Hauptmann

Rumor "Jafsie" Has Failed To Identify Lindbergh Suspect

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 25.—James M. Fawcett, attorney for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, Lindbergh kidnaping case suspect, explained today that he had had nothing to do with obtaining the alibi story of Walter Furcht, which the former construction foreman of the Majestic apartments in New York City repudiated yesterday.

"I want particularly to point out that I had nothing to do with the discovery of Furcht," Fawcett declared. "My own investigators, in fact, had been unable to locate him. But I am glad that his duplicity has been uncovered, because this would have proven very embarrassing if it had occurred later on."

Should Tell Truth.

The prisoner's wife, Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, said:

"I'm glad it came out now. I've got so much faith in my husband's innocence that I feel that witnesses, either for the prosecution or the defense, should tell the truth.

"If this had not come out until my husband's trial, it would have hurt his case very badly. I had nothing to do with Furcht coming forward in the first place. All the witnesses should tell the truth. My husband doesn't need and doesn't want the help of people who tell lies."

Announcement of Furcht's disavowal of his story that Hauptmann had worked under him in the Majestic apartments until 5 p. m. on the day of the kidnaping and then had reported for work on the following morning was made after Hauptmann, arraigned in Flemington, had been granted a delay in the start of his trial until January 2.

Talks With Condon.

This long postponement was unexpected enough, but even more surprising was the discovery that Dr. John F. Condon, aged ransom intermediary, had slipped into the Flemington jail and spent more than an hour in earnest conversation with the suspect.

Every effort was made to keep this visit a secret and to guard the results of the conference. But it was

FIRST ALLOCATIONS MADE FOR OLD AGE PENSIONS

For Old Age Assistance in Lawrence county in December and January an allowance of $6732.04 for each of the two months has been made according to members of the Mothers Assistance Board here, the board which will handle the cases.

At the meeting of the board on Wednesday afternoon the final plans for the opening of the office were finished. The office will be in the court house or close by, and there will be an employed secretary on hand to take care of applications in and out.

In a few days it is anticipated that the work of getting out the 800 or more applications will start and upon the receipt of them the investigations will start.

The money allocated to the board for December and January will not be sufficient to pay every case as much as they might seem to be eligible for but the board hopes when the fund is operating smoothly to be able to add to this.

Food To Be Received At Jameson Hospital Lobby And At Downtown Store

INGATHERING WILL CONTINUE SATURDAY

With indications pointing to the largest food ingathering in the history of the hospital, the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide society has made arrangements to have several of its members in the lobby of the hospital throughout Friday and Saturday to receive the donations as they come in.

People who would find it difficult to leave their food gifts at the hospital are asked to leave them at Atkinson's Paint and Glass store on North Mill street.

Reports drifting in from committee women in the outlying districts seem to indicate the prospect of an unusually large donation of potatoes, onions and other non-perishable vegetables and fruits this year. It is believed that, as in years before, hundreds of glasses and jars of jellies, jams and fruits will be presented by the housewives of city and county.

LISBON, O., Oct. 25.—Adam Richetti, gunman-pal of Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, may be extradited to Columbia, Mo., before nightfall to face charges of murdering Highway Patrol Sergeant Ben Booth and Sheriff Roger Wilson.

Meanwhile, the 95-year-old jail which has been denounced as unfit more than once was being guarded by men recruited from this village and neighboring Ohio towns. Rifles formed virtually a steel fence around the ramshackle structure.

Another search for hoodlums got under way this morning. East Liverpool police were making efforts to trace a car containing two mystery men who appeared "too curious" as Floyd's body was placed on a baggage car and started on its journey to his mother's Oklahoma home. The pair, police revealed, were from the neighborhood of New Philadelphia, O., where George "Baby Face" Nelson was rumored sighted yesterday.

The pair, said to be between 35 and 40 years of age, asked directions to the railroad station after asking:

"Has the kid's body been packed?"

They disappeared, however, before

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 25.—With rousing enthusiasm, the American Legion at its sixteenth annual convention today called for an immediate $2,200,000,000 cash settlement of the bonus as a means of hastening recovery from the economic crisis.

The official result was announced as:

Against, 183.

Spend Into Recovery

The Legion declared it urged cash payment now because President Roosevelt was committed to a policy of spending the nation into recovery. The veterans asserted payment of the cash bonus would increase the public's purchasing power, relieve distress and lighten the relief burdens of states and cities.

It also demanded cancellation of all interest charges on the $1,674,220,000 loans already borrowed by veterans on their certificates.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

DR. CONDON IN SURPRISE VISIT TO HAUPTMANN

rumored that "Jafsie" had again failed to identify Hauptmann as the man to whom he paid the ransom in St. Raymond's cemetery, the Bronx.

Condon, it was learned, asked Hauptmann to tell him "everything he knew about the case." To which Hauptmann retorted that he had already told everything he knew to the authorities.

Reports Conflict.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Attorney General David T. Wilentz today refused to support or deny conflicting stories concerning the visit of Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon to the Hunterdon county jail at Flemington, N. J., where, for an hour and ten minutes yesterday afternoon Condon talked with Bruno Richard Hauptmann. Two versions of the visit were publicized in the press today. One, that Condon identified Hauptmann as the mysterious "John" who figured in the Lindbergh ransom payment and the other that Condon did not identify Hauptmann.

Wilentz said:

"My arrangement with Dr. Condon was that I would not reveal the result of his conference yesterday with Hauptmann. That arrangement still stands.

"You can say this: From the tone around the attorney general's office and the state police you ought to be able to make a surmise."

When reporters said they did not want to "surmise" he asserted:

"I will not stand for confirmation or denials of what went on there."

RED TAPE ON CHECKS

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla.—It requires from two to six months at an average cost of $3 to restore a lost federal relief check, according to Fred H. Lewis, local disbusing agent for the FERA. The cost and time involves telegraphic notice to stop payment of the check, confirmation by letter and other "red tape."

MISSOURI MOVES FOR EXTRADITION OF ADAM RICHETTI

Richetti's Wife Reported In Town.

Police Chief John H. Fultz, Wellsville, where Richetti was captured, announced a woman told the police station janitor there that she was Richetti's wife and wanted to know his whereabouts. The woman, accompanied by four men, drove out of town before Fultz could locate them, he said.

Fultz also announced that he and County Prosecutor George Lafferty would probably turn Richetti over to Maj. Lewis Means of the Missouri state highway patrol if the latter had the proper papers. Lafferty said he was anxious to get Richetti away from Lisbon because his presence meant constant danger to the community.

Means was expected to present Missouri's claim on Richetti to Gov. George White sometime today. The officer was then expected to continue here to pick up his prisoner.

High Feeling In Columbia.

Because of high feeling at Columbia, Means was expected to take Richetti directly to the state penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo., for safe-keeping. Officers at Columbia were quoted here as stating frankly they feared Richetti might be lynched if taken there.

Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis expected to hold his inquest into Floyd's death sometime later today. Depositions furnished by Melvin Purvis, chief United States operative in the Chicago district, and others who participated in the killer's death, were to furnish most of the evidence.

Reports persisted here that federal agents were scattered throughout the Columbiana county district and that the two mystery men who looked for "the kid's body" were rumored as the objects of one squad's search.

Papers Are Signed.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 25.—Extradition papers signed by Gov. Guy B. Park were enroute to Ohio today requesting the return of Adam Richetti, captured gangster, to stand trial at Columbia, Mo., for the murders of a sheriff and a patrolman.

Richetti was captured while in the company of the late Charles ("Pretty Boy") Floyd, and is now in jail at Lisbon, O.

Governor Park's extradition request was sent by air mail to Major L. M. Means of the Missouri state patrol at Lisbon. Major Means was to present the papers to Gov. George White of Ohio today.

Fear of a possible lynching caused Missouri authorities to arrange for Richetti being brought to the state penitentiary pending trial if the extradition is granted.

NATION'S BANKERS HEAR PRESIDENT

tution hall, received Mr. Roosevelt's eagerly awaited address with mixed emotions. They had hoped to hear something a little more to their liking.

They applauded his assertion that the government is ready and anxious to get out of the lending business as soon as possible; they cheered his endorsement of the private profit system in our economic life; they approved his indirect endorsement of dollar stabilization as soon as it is internationally feasible.

But a great many of them were disappointed. They had hoped for something more.

Few Reassurances.

They had hoped Mr. Roosevelt would assure them there would be no further devaluation of the dollar; they had hoped to hear a definite promise of a balanced federal budget at a definite date; they wanted to be assured of no further inflation; they were curious about the administration's tax plans in the new congress, if any; and they wanted to hear that the administration was not toying with the central bank idea in any serious way.

They heard few reassurances on these matters.

Instead, they heard an almost primer-like lesson on the duties and obligations of bankers to the community; a warning that the federal government stands between the banks and the people, and is prepared to assert its leadership if necessary; that the government has assumed the responsibility of seeing to it that banks are made safe for public deposit.

Seek Co-operation.

They heard, too, that they must be willing to cooperate with all the emergency governmental lending institutions which have been set up to facilitate recovery, the RFC, the SEC, the housing administration, and the others.

"All these new agencies," said the president, "are seeking consultation and cooperation with you bankers."

With all the president's admonitions to the bankers—and they were plentiful—he also struck a note of promise and cooperation.

"The time is ripe," he said, "for an alliance of all the forces intent upon the business of recovery. In such an alliance will be found business and banking, agriculture and industry and labor and capital.

"What an all-American team that is! The possibilities of such a team kindle the imagination—they encourage our determination—they make easier the tasks of those in your government who are leading it.

"The nation does not merely trust or hope that we will do our duty—the nation is justified in expecting that we will do our duty."

Truce Is Seen

Washington, Oct. 25.—A truce between the bankers and the New Dealers, who have been sniping at each other with critical comment for the past 18 months, appeared imminent today in the wake of some extraordinary frank talking on both sides.

Both sides made some concessions to end the guerilla warfare.

President Roosevelt proclaimed the administration's willingness to abandon the banking field as soon as the bankers themselves are willing to take up the burden; he assured the bankers of his desire to balance the budget as soon as possible; and endorsed currency stabilization as soon as that is feasible.

The bankers, on their part, through Jackson Reynolds, president of the powerful First National Bank of New York, and the temperate resolutions presented to the convention today, acknowledged they have a new conception of the difficulties that have faced Mr. Roosevelt and promised a new era of cooperation.

SPEECH CREATES NEW ATMOSPHERE

pressed disappointment that the president did not go further in his address, including a statement on balancing the budget, their public utterances reflected satisfaction.

Full Confidence.

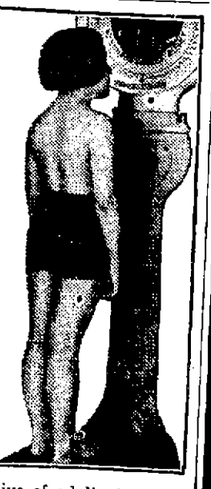
"We desire to assure the president that the banks have full confidence in the people," said Law. "The bankers liked the clear statement of the president that labor of mind and hand were entitled to fair profits for their labor.

"We have felt that emergency credit would be succeeded by private credit when the emergency was passed, and we welcomed the president's frank avowal that this was true and that traditional private credit would again resume its full function in fostering American progress."

THIS CHANGE gives Children a Chance

Avoid the mistake made by so many parents in treating children.

If your girl or boy is occasionally upset or ailing, why not make the "liquid test" described here?



Perhaps you have tried all sorts of ways to keep a child's bowels in proper condition, and failed.

Yet, a child who has been convalescing in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch.

The average mother gives any laxative the family may be using, while doctors give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Try This Way:

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic strong enough for adults. Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset a child's system.

Give that headachy or bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly of their own accord.

Doctors Say This:

A liquid laxative is safest for children of any age, because the dose can be regulated, and its action controlled. It is not wise to give a laxative of adult strength to a child, just because you give it less often or in less amounts. Stomach upsets and bowel troubles of growing boys and girls can often be traced to this mistake.

When you change to pure California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too. Those little upsets and complaints just disappear as a rule and the child is soon normal again. Try it!

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.

Delta Phi Sigma fraternity pledged 15: Kenneth Andrew, Turtle Creek; Robert Birch, Sharon; Lester Black, Butler; Ralph Clark, Providence, R. NO NRA CODE FOR ART OF TATTOOING

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—Brose E. Massey, tattoo artist, is still hoping for a new deal in the tattooing business. He said:

"I'm banking on a human failing — everybody likes decorated bodies."

Concerning the lack of an NRA code in his "art," Massey explained:

"Every jabber's slashing prices. Why some of 'em even give you a double heart for 50 cents. It's a robbery. Too many butchers in this business."

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

DR. CONDON IN SURPRISE VISIT TO HAUPTMANN

rumored that "Jafsie" had again failed to identify Hauptmann as the man to whom he paid the ransom in St. Raymond's cemetery, the Bronx.

Condon, it was learned, asked Hauptmann to tell him "everything he knew about the case.' To which Hauptmann retorted that he had already told everything he knew to the authorities.

Reports Conflict.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Attorney General David T. Wilentz today refused to support or deny conflicting stories concerning the visit of Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon to the Hunterdon county jail at Flemington, N. J., where, for an hour and ten minutes yesterday afternoon Condon talked with Bruno Richard Hauptmann. Two versions of the visit were publicized in the press today. One, that Condon identified Hauptmann as the mysterious "John" who figured in the Lindbergh ransom payment and the other that Condon did not identify Hauptmann.

Wilentz said:

"My arrangement with Dr. Condon was that I would not reveal the result of his conference yesterday with Hauptmann. That arrangement still stands.

"You can say this: From the tone around the attorney general's office and the state police you ought to be able to make a surmise."

When reporters said they did not want to "surmise" he asserted:

"I will not stand for confirmation or denials of what went on there."

RED TAPE ON CHECKS

TULSA, Okla.—It requires from two to six months at an average cost of $3 to restore a lost federal relief check, according to Fred H. Lewis, local disbusing agent for the FERA. The cost and time involves telegraphic notice to stop payment of the check, confirmation by letter and other "red tape."

MISSOURI MOVES FOR EXTRADITION OF ADAM RICHETTI

Richetti's Wife Reported In Town.

Police Chief John H. Fultz, Wellsville, where Richetti was captured, announced a woman told the police station janitor there that she was Richetti's wife and wanted to know his whereabouts. The woman, accompanied by four men, drove out of town before Fultz could locate them, he said.

Fultz also announced that he and County Prosecutor George Lafferty would probably turn Richetti over to Maj. Lewis Means of the Missouri state highway patrol if the latter had the proper papers. Lafferty said he was anxious to get Richetti away from Lisbon because his presence meant constant danger to the community.

Means was expected to present Missouri's claim on Richetti to Gov. George White sometime today. The officer was then expected to continue here to pick up his prisoner.

High Feeling In Columbia.

Because of high feeling at Columbia, Means was expected to take Richetti directly to the state penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo., for safe-keeping. Officers at Columbia were quoted here as stating frankly they feared Richetti might be lynched if taken there.

Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis expected to hold his inquest into Floyd's death sometime later today. Depositions furnished by Melvin Purvis, chief United States operative in the Chicago district, and others who participated in the killer's death, were to furnish most of the evidence.

Reports persisted here that federal agents were scattered throughout the Columbiana county district and that the two mystery men who looked for "the kid's body" were rumored as the objects of one squad's search.

Papers Are Signed.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 25.—Extradition papers signed by Gov. Guy B. Park were enroute to Ohio today requesting the return of Adam Richetti, captured gangster, to stand trial at Columbia, Mo., for the murders of a sheriff and a patrolman.

Richetti was captured while in the company of the late Charles ("Pretty Boy") Floyd, and is now in jail at Lisbon, O.

Governor Park's extradition request was sent by air mail to Major L. M. Means of the Missouri state patrol at Lisbon. Major Means was to present the papers to Gov. George White of Ohio today.

Fear of a possible lynching caused Missouri authorities to arrange for Richetti being brought to the state penitentiary pending trial if the extradition is granted.

They had hoped Mr. Roosevelt would assure them there would be no further devaluation of the dollar; they had hoped to hear a definite promise of a balanced federal budget at a definite date; they wanted to be assured of no further inflation; they were curious about the administration's tax plans in the new congress, if any; and they wanted to hear that the administration was not toying with the central bank idea in any serious way.

They heard few reassurances on these matters.

Instead, they heard an almost primer-like lesson on the duties and obligations of bankers to the community; a warning that the federal government stands between the banks and the people, and is prepared to assert its leadership if necessary; that the government has assumed the responsibility of seeing to it that banks are made safe for public deposit.

Seek Co-operation.

They heard, too, that they must be willing to cooperate with all the emergency governmental lending institutions which have been set up to facilitate recovery, the RFC, the SEC, the housing administration, and the others.

"All these new agencies," said the president, "are seeking consultation and cooperation with you bankers."

With all the president's admonitions to the bankers—and they were plentiful—he also struck a note of promise and cooperation.

"The time is ripe," he said, "for an alliance of all the forces intent upon the business of recovery. In such an alliance will be found business and banking, agriculture and industry and labor and capital.

"What an all-American team that is! The possibilities of such a team kindle the imagination—they encourage our determination—they make easier the tasks of those in your government who are leading it.

"The nation does not merely trust or hope that we will do our duty—the nation is justified in expecting that we will do our duty."

Truce Is Seen

Washington, Oct. 25.—A truce between the bankers and the New Dealers, who have been sniping at each other with critical comment for the past 18 months, appeared imminent today in the wake of some extraordinary frank talking on both sides.

Both sides made some concessions to end the guerilla warfare.

President Roosevelt proclaimed the administration's willingness to abandon the banking field as soon as the bankers themselves are willing to take up the burden; he assured the bankers of his desire to balance the budget as soon as possible; and endorsed currency stabilization as soon as that is feasible.

The bankers, on their part, through Jackson Reynolds, president of the powerful First National Bank of New York, and the temperate resolutions presented to the convention today, acknowledged they have a new conception of the difficulties that have faced Mr. Roosevelt and promised a new era of cooperation.

SPEECH CREATES NEW ATMOSPHERE

pressed disappointment that the president did not go further in his address, including a statement on balancing the budget, their public utterances reflected satisfaction.

Full Confidence.

"We desire to assure the president that the banks have full confidence in the people," said Law. "The bankers liked the clear statement of the president that labor of mind and hand were entitled to fair profits for their labor.

"We have felt that emergency credit would be succeeded by private credit when the emergency was passed, and we welcomed the president's frank avowal that this was true and that traditional private credit would again resume its full function in fostering American progress."

THIS CHANGE gives Children a Chance

Avoid the mistake made by so many parents in treating children.

If your girl or boy is occasionally upset or ailing, why not make the "liquid test" described here?

Perhaps you have tried all sorts of ways to keep a child's bowels in proper condition, and failed.

Yet, a child who has been convalescing in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch.

The average mother gives any laxative the family may be using, while doctors give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Try This Way:

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic strong enough for adults. Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset a child's system.

Give that headachy or bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly of their own accord.

Doctors Say This:

A liquid laxative is safest for children of any age, because the dose can be regulated, and its action controlled. It is not wise to give a laxative of adult strength to a child, just because you give it less often or in less amounts. Stomach upsets and bowel troubles of growing boys and girls can often be traced to this mistake.

When you change to pure California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too. Those little upsets and complaints just disappear as a rule and the child is soon normal again. Try it!

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.

NO NRA CODE FOR ART OF TATTOOING

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—Brose E. Massey, tattoo artist, is still hoping for a new deal in the tattooing business. He said:

"I'm banking on a human failing — everybody likes decorated bodies."

Concerning the lack of an NRA code in his "art," Massey explained:

"Every jabber's slashing prices. Why some of 'em even give you a double heart for 50 cents. It's a robbery. Too many butchers in this business."

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

DR. CONDON IN SURPRISE VISIT TO HAUPTMANN

rumored that "Jafsie" had again failed to identify Hauptmann as the man to whom he paid the ransom in St. Raymond's cemetery, the Bronx.

Condon, it was learned, asked Hauptmann to tell him "everything he knew about the case." To which Hauptmann retorted that he had already told everything he knew to the authorities.

Reports Conflict.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Attorney General David T. Wilentz today refused to support or deny conflicting stories concerning the visit of Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon to the Hunterdon county jail at Flemington, N. J., where, for an hour and ten minutes yesterday afternoon Condon talked with Bruno Richard Hauptmann. Two versions of the visit were publicized in the press today. One, that Condon identified Hauptmann as the mysterious "John" who figured in the Lindbergh ransom payment and the other that Condon did not identify Hauptmann.

Wilentz said:

"My arrangement with Dr. Condon was that I would not reveal the result of his conference yesterday with Hauptmann. That arrangement still stands.

"You can say this: From the tone around the attorney general's office and the state police you ought to be able to make a surmise."

When reporters said they did not want to "surmise" he asserted:

"I will not stand for confirmation or denials of what went on there."

Richetti's Wife Reported In Town.

Police Chief John H. Fultz, Wellsville, where Richetti was captured, announced a woman told the police station janitor there that she was Richetti's wife and wanted to know his whereabouts. The woman, accompanied by four men, drove out of town before Fultz could locate them, he said.

Fultz also announced that he and County Prosecutor George Lafferty would probably turn Richetti over to Maj. Lewis Means of the Missouri state highway patrol if the latter had the proper papers. Lafferty said he was anxious to get Richetti away from Lisbon because his presence meant constant danger to the community.

Means was expected to present Missouri's claim on Richetti to Gov. George White sometime today. The officer was then expected to continue here to pick up his prisoner.

High Feeling In Columbia.

Because of high feeling at Columbia, Means was expected to take Richetti directly to the state penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo., for safe-keeping. Officers at Columbia were quoted here as stating frankly they feared Richetti might be lynched if taken there.

Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis expected to hold his inquest into Floyd's death sometime later today. Depositions furnished by Melvin Purvis, chief United States operative in the Chicago district, and others who participated in the killer's death, were to furnish most of the evidence.

Reports persisted here that federal agents were scattered throughout the Columbiana county district and that the two mystery men who looked for "the kid's body" were rumored as the objects of one squad's search.

Papers Are Signed.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 25.—Extradition papers signed by Gov. Guy B. Park were enroute to Ohio today requesting the return of Adam Richetti, captured gangster, to stand trial at Columbia, Mo., for the murders of a sheriff and a patrolman.

Richetti was captured while in the company of the late Charles ("Pretty Boy") Floyd, and is now in jail at Lisbon, O.

Governor Park's extradition request was sent by air mail to Major L. M. Means of the Missouri state patrol at Lisbon. Major Means was to present the papers to Gov. George White of Ohio today.

Fear of a possible lynching caused Missouri authorities to arrange for Richetti being brought to the state penitentiary pending trial if the extradition is granted.

pressed disappointment that the president did not go further in his address, including a statement on balancing the budget, their public utterances reflected satisfaction.

Full Confidence.

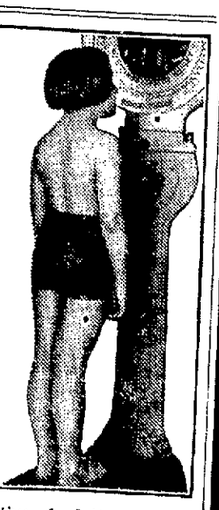
"We desire to assure the president that the banks have full confidence in the people," said Law. "The bankers liked the clear statement of the president that labor of mind and hand were entitled to fair profits for their labor.

"We have felt that emergency credit would be succeeded by private credit when the emergency was passed, and we welcomed the president's frank avowal that this was true and that traditional private credit would again resume its full function in fostering American progress."

THIS CHANGE gives Children a Chance

Avoid the mistake made by so many parents in treating children.

If your girl or boy is occasionally upset or ailing, why not make the "liquid test" described here?



Perhaps you have tried all sorts of ways to keep a child's bowels in proper condition, and failed.

Yet, a child who has been convalescing in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch.

The average mother gives any laxative the family may be using, while doctors give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Try This Way:

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic strong enough for adults. Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset a child's system.

Give that headachy or bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly of their own accord.

Doctors Say This:

A liquid laxative is safest for children of any age, because the dose can be regulated, and its action controlled. It is not wise to give a laxative of adult strength to a child, just because you give it less often or in less amounts. Stomach upsets and bowel troubles of growing boys and girls can often be traced to this mistake.

When you change to pure California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too. Those little upsets and complaints just disappear as a rule and the child is soon normal again. Try it!

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.

FIELD CLUB HAS DESSERT-BRIDGE

Delightful hospitality was extended women of the New Castle Field club Wednesday afternoon when they assembled in the club house to participate in the second of a new series of dessert-bridge parties, with Mrs. C. B. Fiester and Mrs. H. E. Sawdy associate hostesses.

The occasion attracted a nice number of players, and after the serving of delicious dessert at 1:30 o'clock, the card contests were in vogue. Lovely prizes for honor scores were carried off by Mrs. J. H. Gibson and Mrs. S. H. Rhoads.

In two weeks there will be another party of this nature held at the Field club, the hostesses to be announced.

On Saturday evening the regular dance for all members of the club will take place in the ballroom, and in observance of the Hallowe'en season, guests will attend in costume. A unique program has been arranged for this date, and it is expected a record crowd will share this mummers ball.

DINSMORE CLASS HAS GAY EVENING PARTY

A gay Hallowe'en masquerade party and scavenger hunt was combined into one last night as members of the Harry C. Dinsmore Bible class, of the First U. P. church, gathered for another of their monthly meetings.

Assembling in the Hillcrest avenue of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Book, the costumed group had fun trying to guess who and what the grotesque figures represented. Jay Rudolph remained unidentified the longest time, and Mrs. Harry Dinsmore's costume kept her unknown almost as long.

A little later, the crowd started out on an exciting hunt for mustache cups, World war newspapers and a long list of other hard-to-find articles. They ended their seach at an inn along the New Castle-Slippery Rock road, where an appetizing lunch was enjoyed.

Prize winners were revealed as Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Young and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Birt.

Guests of the class for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schellman, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Birt, this city; Paul L. Ringer, Mercer; Miss Jean Raney, James E. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis and Mrs. Harry Dinsmore, all of this city.

In the absence of their teacher, Mr. Dinsmore, who leaves soon for a three-weeks vacation, the class will be taught by Thomas Davis.

TROOP COMMITTEE HAS FAREWELL TEA

A pretty farewell courtesy to Mrs. George Westlake was the tea given Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in the home of Mrs. H. W. McKee, Jr., North Mercer street, by the troop committee of troop 2 Girl Scouts with the mothers of the girls as guests.

Throughout the reception hours the women came and expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Westlake for the interest she has taken in the girls. She was presnted with a fountain pen bearing the Girl Scout crest by the mothers and committee, with Mrs. McKee making the presentation speech.

Tea was served from a handsomely appointed table in the dining room, the centerpiece being a beautiful arrangement of purple and yellow baby mums combined with autumn leaves. Tall yellow tapers were the only lights used. Mrs. Tom Clark poured and the hostess was aided by members of the troop committee.

Mrs. Westlake, who has been captain of Girl Scout troop 2 for the past two years, will leave Saturday with her family to make her home in Florida.

Mrs. Cecil Gordon delightfully entertained a group of children at her home, 1619 Huron avenue, Monday evening, in honor of the seventh birthday of her daughter, Delores Edythe Leslie.

The children were dressed in clever little Hallowe'en suits and upon arrival each was presented with a favor. They all proceeded to the third floor of the home, which was pleasingly decorated with jack-o-lanterns, corn stalks, tree branches with leaves, crepe paper, and other suggestions of the season.

Singing and amusing games were enjoyed. Prizes were awarded to Geraldine Robb, Helen Colbert and Marian Campbell. Beverley Jean Leslie, oldest daughter of Mrs. Gordon, entertained the kiddies with several very artistic tap, acrobatic and toe dancing numbers.

A delicious luncheon was served at small tables, each decorated with a lighted taper as a centerpiece, and the honored one's table was beautiful with a large birthday cake topped with seven lighted candles gracing the center. The other luncheon appointments were of seasonal tones.

The honored one was presented with many lovely gifts and cards.

Transportation will be provided for those who do not have cars. They are to meet at the church at 8 o'clock.

MISS ANNE HITCHEN FETES DETROIT GUEST

Miss Anne Hitchen was a most gracious hostess Tuesday evening when she entertained in her home on Lutton street, in honor of Miss Florence Kenney, director of nurses at the Herman Kiefer hospital, Detroit, Mich. Miss Kenney was formerly a resident of Sharon and is a graduate of Buhl Hospital.

Three tables of bridge were in play during the evening and when play concluded lovely prizes were awarded Miss Kenney and DeWitt Shelatree. Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Shelatree and daughter Jean, Wampum, were out of town guests.

After play the guests were invited to the dining room where places were arranged for 12 about a large table centered with a bowl of gold and white mums, over which glowed the light from golden candles. Hallowe'en novelties were used as favors at each place.

Miss Kenney will return to Detroit today to resume her hospital duties.

Mummers and weird characters representing witchcraft of many descriptions, filed into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Weygant, 200 Richelieu avenue, Wednesday evening and were entertained informally, being members of the Cercle Royale Bridge club. After all had arrived on the scene and a guessing contest concluded, masks were removed and the true identity of each guest was revealed.

Bingo formed the diversion, and at the close of the program an appetizing Hallowe'en lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her sister-in-law, Miss Dorothy Weygant.

Those sharing the "fun-making Cercle" event, as special guests, included Mr. and Mrs. William Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCaskey and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Usselton.

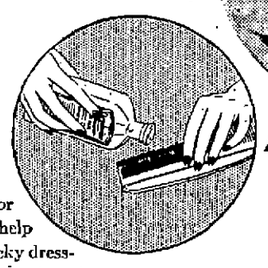
A DOLLAR WAVE
is it worth a penny to save it?

DANDERINE insures your hair for a penny a day.



When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it. It isn't a sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave any telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone quickly after applying, but not that marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

When you've washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going helter-skelter.

Use a dash of Danderine every day—every time you comb your hair—to be sure of your hair all day long! To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to know that it's free from dandruff.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And what no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time! It doesn't affect the color.

With all the care you give your hair, it's a pity to omit this last touch that means so much. It's no trouble! Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and pleasant as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of your hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy Danderine at any drugstore for only thirty-five cents; larger sizes, 60c and $1.00.

FIELD CLUB HAS DESSERT-BRIDGE

Delightful hospitality was extended women of the New Castle Field club Wednesday afternoon when they assembled in the club house to participate in the second of a new series of dessert-bridge parties, with Mrs. C. B. Fiester and Mrs. H. E. Sawdy associate hostesses.

The occasion attracted a nice number of players, and after the serving of delicious dessert at 1:30 o'clock, the card contests were in vogue. Lovely prizes for honor scores were carried off by Mrs. J. H. Gibson and Mrs. S. H. Rhoads.

In two weeks there will be another party of this nature held at the Field club, the hostesses to be announced.

On Saturday evening the regular dance for all members of the club will take place in the ballroom, and in observance of the Hallowe'en season, guests will attend in costume. A unique program has been arranged for this date, and it is expected a record crowd will share this mummers ball.

DINSMORE CLASS HAS GAY EVENING PARTY

A gay Hallowe'en masquerade party and scavenger hunt was combined into one last night as members of the Harry C. Dinsmore Bible class, of the First U. P. church, gathered for another of their monthly meetings.

Assembling in the Hillcrest avenue of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Book, the costumed group had fun trying to guess who and what the grotesque figures represented. Jay Rudolph remained unidentified the longest time, and Mrs. Harry Dinsmore's costume kept her unknown almost as long.

A little later, the crowd started out on an exciting hunt for mustache cups, World war newspapers and a long list of other hard-to-find articles. They ended their seach at an inn along the New Castle-Slippery Rock road, where an appetizing lunch was enjoyed.

Prize winners were revealed as Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Young and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Birt.

Guests of the class for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schellman, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Birt, this city; Paul L. Ringer, Mercer; Miss Jean Raney, James E. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis and Mrs. Harry Dinsmore, all of this city.

In the absence of their teacher, Mr. Dinsmore, who leaves soon for a three-weeks vacation, the class will be taught by Thomas Davis.

TROOP COMMITTEE HAS FAREWELL TEA

A pretty farewell courtesy to Mrs. George Westlake was the tea given Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in the home of Mrs. H. W. McKee, Jr., North Mercer street, by the troop committee of troop 2 Girl Scouts with the mothers of the girls as guests.

Throughout the reception hours the women came and expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Westlake for the interest she has taken in the girls. She was presnted with a fountain pen bearing the Girl Scout crest by the mothers and committee, with Mrs. McKee making the presentation speech.

Tea was served from a handsomely appointed table in the dining room, the centerpiece being a beautiful arrangement of purple and yellow baby mums combined with autumn leaves. Tall yellow tapers were the only lights used. Mrs. Tom Clark poured and the hostess was aided by members of the troop committee.

Mrs. Westlake, who has been captain of Girl Scout troop 2 for the past two years, will leave Saturday with her family to make her home in Florida.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT BERNARD HOME

The home of Mrs. A. C. Bernard, Park avenue, was cleverly decorated in Hallowe'en suggestions Wednesday evening when she and Mrs. John T. Griffith entertained the wives of the Metropolitan Insurance men at a card party.

Five tables were in play during the evening and at conclusion of the games, Mrs. Ralph Fischer and Mrs. McCready Eroe held the prize winning scores at bridge, while Mrs. Lewis Sulca and Viola Wallace were successful at 500.

The small tables were rearranged and prettily appointed in the season's suggestions when a delicious menu of refreshments was served.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Cecil Gordon delightfully entertained a group of children at her home, 1619 Huron avenue, Monday evening, in honor of the seventh birthday of her daughter, Delores Edythe Leslie.

The children were dressed in clever little Hallowe'en suits and upon arrival each was presented with a favor. They all proceeded to the third floor of the home, which was pleasingly decorated with jack-o-lanterns, corn stalks, tree branches with leaves, crepe paper, and other suggestions of the season.

Singing and amusing games were enjoyed. Prizes were awarded to Geraldine Robb, Helen Colbert and Marian Campbell. Beverley Jean Leslie, oldest daughter of Mrs. Gordon, entertained the kiddies with several very artistic tap, acrobatic and toe dancing numbers.

A delicious luncheon was served at small tables, each decorated with a lighted taper as a centerpiece, and the honored one's table was beautiful with a large birthday cake topped with seven lighted candles gracing the center. The other luncheon appointments were of seasonal tones.

The honored one was presented with many lovely gifts and cards.

Ghost Party Planned.

At the home of Mrs. Ed O'Neill on the Butler road Monday evening a ghost party will be held and it will be the Queen Esther class of the Third U. P. church, taught by Mrs. Bernard Hook, who will enjoy this occasion. Husbands and escorts will be special guests.

Transportation will be provided for those who do not have cars. They are to meet at the church at 8 o'clock.

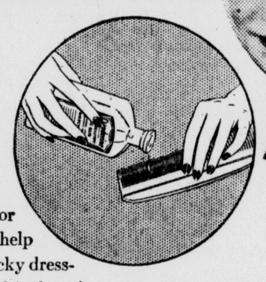
A DOLLAR WAVE is it worth a penny to save it?

DANDERINE insures your hair for a penny a day.



When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it. It isn't a sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave any telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone quickly after applying, but not that marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

When you've washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going helter-skelter.

Use a dash of Danderine every day—every time you comb your hair—to be sure of your hair all day long! To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to know that it's free from dandruff.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And what no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time! It doesn't affect the color.

With all the care you give your hair, it's a pity to omit this last touch that means so much. It's no trouble! Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and pleasant as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of your hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy Danderine at any drugstore for only thirty-five cents; larger sizes, 60c and $1.00.

MOPPING UP THE OUTLAWS

BACK in prohibition days the chief of the biggest band of criminals that this country ever had known was Al Capone, labeled Public Enemy No. 1. The government got him finally, not for deeds of violence, but for evasion of the income tax. Most of the important members of his gang and of rival gangs in the illicit beer and liquor traffic disposed of themselves in desperate warfare.

There had been cases of kidnaping and there had been bands of outlaws previous to prohibition, but they increased in numbers as beer and liquor profits grew less. It was the fate of the Lindbergh baby that aroused public sentiment to a universal demand for action against dangerous racketeers of all types. The so-called Lindbergh law passed by congress clothed federal agents of the Department of Justice with powers that they had not hitherto had. Now, working alone or in co-operation with state and municipal authorities, they are in a position to render a public service of supreme importance.

It is splendid work they have performed in running down the organized outlaws of the West. It was a long chase and they had after John Dillinger, who succeeded Capone as Public Enemy No. 1, and his gunmen, but three months ago they got him. Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd next became Public Enemy No. 1, and Floyd they shot to death on Monday. Between the deaths of Dillinger and Floyd a long list of outlaws more or less connected with them have been killed or imprisoned. It has been almost a clean sweep. There remain George (Baby Face) Nelson, a member of the Dillinger gang, as Public Enemy No. 1, and John Hamilton, also a Dillinger follower, now recorded as Public Enemy No. 2. That the pair will be caught is almost certain.

It is proved beyond doubt that the Department of Justice in touch with local detectives is capable of dealing with organized crime. Not only have bank robbers and outlaws of that character been taught a severe lesson, but kidnaper after kidnaper has been ferreted out. The ease with which the latest attempt to gain ransom money has been solved serves notice that the game has become too dangerous to indulge in with hope of escape. The captor of Mrs. Stoll of Louisville, Thomas R. Robinson, Jr., can not long be a fugitive.

That poor little child ot the Lindberghs did not die in vain.

PASSING OF THE GHOSTS

It might be remarked at Hallowe'en time, that that occasion was once the field day for all ghosts. As the season when the spirits of the departed were supposed to wander abroad, Hallowe'en was a favorite time for telling ghost stories. The company gathered about the first on the hearth listened to many such a tale of returned spirits. Those were unsophisticated times, and many people's hair would stand on end as they heard these tales of headless horsemen and supernatural knockings.

About all we have left of the ancient tradition of ghosts, which once caused terror to the mind of man, is found in the modern doings at Hallowe'en. The pretty capers of the kids with their lanterns and freak costumes have taken the place of the ghostly presences at which men and women used to faint in terror.

And the boy who tips over your garbage pail, or who rings your door bell until the battery is run out, has taken the place of the fateful visitor before whom our grandparents quailed. It is well to get rid of useless superstitions, but if the boys carry their ghostly conduct so far as to destroy property and make householders a lot of trouble, they need a ghostly visitant in the shape of the material slipper.

DANGER SEASON FOR SKIDDING AUTO

This is the time of the year, when many accidents are caused by skidding automobiles. In many places the highways are covered with leaves and in rainy weather, unless your automobile is in first class condition in all respects, skidding is practically unavoidable.

In addition to bad road conditions, other causes are badly aligned brakes, worn tires and wrong use of brakes. Brakes should be adjusted in such a way that the braking force on one side of the car should be as near that of the other as possible, and in the case of four-wheel brakes, so that the back brakes are stronger than the front. The aligning of brakes is a fairly complicated job and should be done only by an expert, since brakes that are too strong may be even more dangerous than those that are too weak.

To prevent skids, don't apply brakes with a strong, continuous pressure, but slow down by alternately applying and releasing brakes until most of the momentum has been killed. To get out of a skid, release your brakes if you've applied them and turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid—and be quick about it!

PROSPERITY PROGRAM IN REVERSE

A great many economists are coming to the conclusion that we have "put the horse before the cart" in attempting to raise prices before the increase in business demanded such a rise.

The first effect is not to give the worker wages which will give him a potentially greater purchasing power, but to increase the cost of the finished product to such an extent that the public quits buying.

Therefore instead of the workers having greater employment and more money to spend, there is a decrease in the number of jobs and in the purchasing power of wages.

Certainly prosperity cannot be brought about in such fashion. When a merchant seeks to move a surplus stock of goods he does it by cutting the price so that the people will buy. To destroy one-third of his stock and raise the price on the balance would increase neither his customers nor his profits. The same is true of industry and business as a whole.

Attractive prices which stimulate buying will eventually set the wheels of industry in motion, and this in turn will bring more work at higher wages, and ultimate prosperity.

If you ask a musician guest to play for you, why not ask a painter guest to decorate your walls?

LA PAZ

I'D LIKE TO go to La Paz. Some day, before I'm too old to travel, I'd like to see La Paz, wander through its streets, enjoy the pleasant fact that at last, after all these years, I am finally in that little city.

I like being where I am. I wouldn't for any price want to live anywhere else. It's where I feel at home, where I am happiest. Whatever happens here it is MY city and I love it. And when I go away, the return is always a rich experience and it is good to breathe this air again and be back where my heart is happiest. . . But I would like, just once, to see La Paz.

It's a city far down toward the southern tip of the Lower California peninsula. An old city, with an old cathedral in it that lifts itself high above the low buildings. . . And I don't exactly know why I want to go there. I've never talked to anybody who was ever there. I haven't read a great deal about La Paz. . . But, somehow, it has captured my roaming imagination. . . I'd like to go to New Mexico and to Yucatan and to Terra del Fuego and I'd like to see Alhambra and Avignon in France and the Rhine where the Lorelei sang, and I'd like to be in Iceland for a while, and like to climb the winding road that leads to the top of Quebec, and visit Victoria in British Columbia, and wander through the old part of New Orleans—and there are many other places where I'd like to be.

But somehow I'll not be entirely satisfied until I am at last in La Paz . . . You have been there and you say that I'll probably be disappointed? I beg your pardon, but I disagree. Somehow I have an idea I shall not. . . . By going there I may free myself of this idea I have about La Paz. I shall satisfy a pleasant dream. I shall have added a quietly enriching experience to life. I shall not be sorry whatever La Paz turns out to be. . . . And perhaps it will not matter greatly if I never get to that sunbaked little city of La Paz.

We walk through lives possessed by dreams. And sometimes those dreams cause us greaat pain and disappointment and rack us with their futility. And sometimes they are mere mild wishes, vague longings of no great consequence. My wish to see La Paz, just once, is one of those more harmless aspirations. . . . But just the same, I do wish I could spend a few days in that La Paz.

PROMOTION IS BASED ON MERIT

Your pettish disposition has put you on the "outs" with many of those with whom you work.

Little things that should not disturb a sensible person make you peevish.

You imagine you are imposed upon and frequently carry your imagination so far that you think you are being talked about when little groups gather.

You may be jealous of the popularity of others in your department.

Indeed, there are some cases to justify these conclusions.

But usually those persons are advanced whose efforts entitle them to it.

In these times, when business is becoming more and more a matter of speed in production and superior quality of workmanship, promotion shows proficiency and efficiency or it would not be justified.

Working forces were reduced long ago; the persons retained were those best fitted to lead or to carry the ideas of their superiors.

Those who are most expert and most energetic among the workers will be, and should be, accorded the favors.

If you think only a pull will advance you, you are not giving your best to your employers, and perhaps they know it!

AFTER MANY YEARS

I used to be Prince Charming,
But that was years ago.
I now am John Alarming
With faults that plaintly show.
When I was wooing Nellie
She never dreamed or guessed
How many times the jelly
Would stain my shirt and vest.

Time was she thought me clever,
But that was in our youth.
Now done with that forever
She knows the bitter truth.
How swiftly fancies perish
Upon this earthly stage!
The little jests I cherish
Are mouldy now with age.

When we were both romancing
She never seemed to see
At night when we were dancing
How awkward I could be.
What varnish can be thinner
Then that which young hopes spread?
She sees me now at dinner
As one who dunks his bread.

The way my mother raised me
Completely turned her head.
Long years ago she praised me,
Whate'er I did or said.
But now my faults are many
As sadly she'll allow.
Of polish I've not any
I'm just her husband now!

And, after dinner read a mystery book for two hours. Then again early to bed. That Drop In New Deal Support Southern Observer Finds Swing Left Huey Long Still Gaining Strength

Central Press

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A new light is cast on the Literary Digest poll showing a falling off in support of the New Deal in the past six months.

The falling off was observable particularly in the south and in northern industrial regions.

A writer for Central Press—William G. Gaudet, of New Orleans—has just motored from New Orleans to New York. He has stopped at various places en route to obtain the views of the average man.

He reports:

1. It is true that support of the New Deal is faltering in the south—chiefly because the average man of the south is swinging over, for the first time, to something more radical, or, rather, more comprehensive.

2. For the first time since the Civil war, the southern conservative is beginning to leave the Democratic party—or, rather, the part of the Democratic party which subscribes to the New Deal or to Huey Long.

A similar survey in one or two northern industrial centers by me discloses much the same trend.

SINCLAIR

Central Press observers in California believe Upton Sinclair will be defeated by a narrow margin for governor. San Francisco will defeat him, if he is defeated.

But Sinclair in defeat is likely to be stronger nationally than Sinclair victorious, according to some practical politicians in the Democratic party. As a governor, Sinclair probably would temper his program to conform largely with the national New Deal program. As a leader of a cause which is gaining thousands of converts nationally he is likely to become such a potent force by 1936 that he may play a part in the presidential conventions.

Huey Long, on the other hand, is likely to be steam-rollered by National Chairman Jim Farley's machine.

UTOPIANS

Sinclair's Utopian society has a weekly newspaper, issued in Los Angeles, which supports President Roosevelt as vigorously as it supports Upton Sinclair.

Thus any charges that this paper makes in all probability will have the benefit of an administration hearing.

And one of those charges involves corrupt practices, concerning which there already is a senate committee waiting.

The Sinclair publication lists a number of large corporations, as well as the Los Angeles Clearing House association and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and makes these allegations:

"This week we point the finger at the business institutions and firms listed below, clients and patrons of the California Intelligence Service bureau, and leave it to them to admit or deny that they furnished any of the funds used by Florian De Donato and his California Intelligence Service bureau in the conspiracy to destroy the Utopian society of America and the plot to crush and throttle the right of free assembly and free speech in the city of Los Angeles."

TOWNSEND PLAN

Los Angeles is the home of cults.

The strongest, next to the Utopians, is the Townsend Old Age pension plan. In fact, nationally, it is stronger than the Utopians.

Dr. M. E. Townsend, Los Angeles physician, formulated a plan by which every citizen 60 years or more, who has no independent income and who has no criminal record, shall receive a pension of $200 a month. But every cent of that $200 must be spent the same month in the United States.

AIDING THE "POOR"

King Alexander of Yugoslavia left a fortune of $10,000,000, out of his annual salary and expenses of one million.

He had been supporting the "poorer" royalty of Europe—largely his wife's relatives. Or, rather, the taxpayers of Yugoslavia, where wages are the lowest in the world, had been supporting the king's relatives.

Now the money descends largely to his wife, and to the youthful heir to the throne, as well as to the lesser relatives.

But the question arises, since disclosure of the sums received by the late king—will the Yugoslavians continue to pay such high tribute to royalty, as well as support financially a government which is a dictatorship?

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25

The World War Day-By-Day—Oct. 25, 1914—On the anniversary of the Charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava in the war of the Turks, British and French on the Russians, immortalized by poet Alfred Tennyson, the Turks preparing to go to war on the side of the Germans against the Russians, French and British.

Tennyson wrote his memorable poem, of course, as testimony of superb British courage. Actually, it was a citaton of official stupidity. The 600 were needlessly sent into the jaws of death and 402 sacrificed because of the blundering misconception of an order.

The officer, like the doctor, buries his mistakes. Regardless of the intelligence of the man in the ranks, it is

"Theirs not to make reply,
Theirs not to reason why,
theirs but to do and die."

Not 400, but 4,00 and many more German soldiers were similarly sacrificed in attempting to take and hold narrow strip of Channel coast the Germans wanted for a base for attacks on the hated England. The Allies were trying to cut off the German army on the coast from the main force and their two-sided attack made the vicinity of Neuport another valley of death. Monitors seized by Britain from Brazil, steamed up and down a half mile off coast, whipping the Germans with shrapnel into farms and villages from which they were expelled by high explosive shells of Allied field artillery.

Reluctant to forego what the night before had appeared a certain victory, German officers ordered charge after charge. The men charged in solid masses, singing "Die Wacht am Rhein," and the close order formation made it easy for the British soldiers and marines, who had reserved their fire for close range, to mow them down with machine guns and rifles. In one spot, 2,500 gray-clad bodies clogged the Yser Canal, and its waters ran red.

New hordes of Germans filled the gaps and the rushes continued. The officers had orders to get through to Dixmude that night, cost what it may. They failed, not because their men failed to obey orders, for they crossed the waterways as they were bid, but, once through, they were mowed down by machine guns, torn into human fragments by shells, bayoneted back over their own dead into the canal.

From dark till dawn, at almost every point on the line, man opposed man at bayone length. Many wrestled and died drowning each other in the canal. A few Germans got across the bridges, but they never came back. A huge Belgian stood out like a Hercules in the midst of this Herculean fray: he used his rifle like an ax near a bridge and felled man after man with skull-crushing blows until a bullet brought him down.

The casualties of the Allies were heavy, too. New levies only a few weeks under arms, beardless boys, were thrust into the maw of the machine of destruction to fill the aching voids in the ranks.

History Up-To-Date—Oct. 25, 1694—A public fountain in Alicant was drained and cleaned. Into it were poured four hogsheads of brandy, one pipe of malaga wine, 20 gallons of lime juice, 2,500 lemons, 1,300 pounds of sugar, five pounds of grated nutmeg, eight hogsheads of water. The whole was topped with 300 toasted biscuits. A boy rowed around in a small boat, built expressly for the purpose, filling cups and assisting guests who fell in.

Thus did Admiral Edward Russell, Earl of Orford, 43, commander of the British Mediterranean fleet, prepare a toast to his king by the officers of his fleet. It was a huge success: 6,000 men got drunk.

Oct. 25, 1825—The greatest work of internal improvement consiructed in the U. S. previous to the transcontinental railroad, was completed, and the first boat moved through the Erie Canal. A grand aquatic procession from Albany proceeded to the sea, and Governor DeWitt Clinton poured a keg of Lake Erie water into the ocean.

Robert Stevens had pleaded with the sponsors of the canal to construct a railway instead. There were no railways then, and the sponsors were afraid to experiment. Within 20 years after it was built, the canal boats were made antiquated by the snorting locomotives.

Oct. 25, 1859—A Mayflower descendent who tried to free the slaves went on trial in Charlestown, Va.

MOPPING UP THE OUTLAWS

BACK in prohibition days the chief of the biggest band of criminals that this country ever had known was Al Capone, labeled Public Enemy No. 1. The government got him finally, not for deeds of violence, but for evasion of the income tax. Most of the important members of his gang and of rival gangs in the illicit beer and liquor traffic disposed of themselves in desperate warfare.

There had been cases of kidnaping and there had been bands of outlaws previous to prohibition, but they increased in numbers as beer and liquor profits grew less. It was the fate of the Lindbergh baby that aroused public sentiment to a universal demand for action against dangerous racketeers of all types. The so-called Lindbergh law passed by congress clothed federal agents of the Department of Justice with powers that they had not hitherto had. Now, working alone or in co-operation with state and municipal authorities, they are in a position to render a public service of supreme importance.

It is splendid work they have performed in running down the organized outlaws of the West. It was a long chase and they had after John Dillinger, who succeeded Capone as Public Enemy No. 1, and his gunmen, but three months ago they got him. Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd next became Public Enemy No. 1, and Floyd they shot to death on Monday. Between the deaths of Dillinger and Floyd a long list of outlaws more or less connected with them have been killed or imprisoned. It has been almost a clean sweep. There remain George (Baby Face) Nelson, a member of the Dillinger gang, as Public Enemy No. 1, and John Hamilton, also a Dillinger follower, now recorded as Public Enemy No. 2. That the pair will be caught is almost certain.

It is proved beyond doubt that the Department of Justice in touch with local detectives is capable of dealing with organized crime. Not only have bank robbers and outlaws of that character been taught a severe lesson, but kidnaper after kidnaper has been ferreted out. The ease with which the latest attempt to gain ransom money has been solved serves notice that the game has become too dangerous to indulge in with hope of escape. The captor of Mrs. Stoll of Louisville, Thomas R. Robinson, Jr., can not long be a fugitive.

That poor little child ot the Lindberghs did not die in vain.

PASSING OF THE GHOSTS

It might be remarked at Hallowe'en time, that that occasion was once the field day for all ghosts. As the season when the spirits of the departed were supposed to wander abroad, Hallowe'en was a favorite time for telling ghost stories. The company gathered about the first on the hearth listened to many such a tale of returned spirits. Those were unsophisticated times, and many people's hair would stand on end as they heard these tales of headless horsemen and supernatural knockings.

About all we have left of the ancient tradition of ghosts, which once caused terror to the mind of man, is found in the modern doings at Hallowe'en. The pretty capers of the kids with their lanterns and freak costumes have taken the place of the ghostly presences at which men and women used to faint in terror.

And the boy who tips over your garbage pail, or who rings your door bell until the battery is run out, has taken the place of the fateful visitor before whom our grandparents quailed. It is well to get rid of useless superstitions, but if the boys carry their ghostly conduct so far as to destroy property and make householders a lot of trouble, they need a ghostly visitant in the shape of the material slipper.

DANGER SEASON FOR SKIDDING AUTO

This is the time of the year, when many accidents are caused by skidding automobiles. In many places the highways are covered with leaves and in rainy weather, unless your automobile is in first class condition in all respects, skidding is practically unavoidable.

In addition to bad road conditions, other causes are badly aligned brakes, worn tires and wrong use of brakes. Brakes should be adjusted in such a way that the braking force on one side of the car should be as near that of the other as possible, and in the case of four-wheel brakes, so that the back brakes are stronger than the front. The aligning of brakes is a fairly complicated job and should be done only by an expert, since brakes that are too strong may be even more dangerous than those that are too weak.

To prevent skids, don't apply brakes with a strong, continuous pressure, but slow down by alternately applying and releasing brakes until most of the momentum has been killed. To get out of a skid, release your brakes if you've applied them and turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid—and be quick about it!

PROSPERITY PROGRAM IN REVERSE

A great many economists are coming to the conclusion that we have "put the horse before the cart" in attempting to raise prices before the increase in business demanded such a rise.

The first effect is not to give the worker wages which will give him a potentially greater purchasing power, but to increase the cost of the finished product to such an extent that the public quits buying.

Therefore instead of the workers having greater employment and more money to spend, there is a decrease in the number of jobs and in the purchasing power of wages.

Certainly prosperity cannot be brought about in such fashion. When a merchant seeks to move a surplus stock of goods he does it by cutting the price so that the people will buy. To destroy one-third of his stock and raise the price on the balance would increase neither his customers nor his profits. The same is true of industry and business as a whole.

Attractive prices which stimulate buying will eventually set the wheels of industry in motion, and this in turn will bring more work at higher wages, and ultimate prosperity.

If you ask a musician guest to play for you, why not ask a painter guest to decorate your walls?

LA PAZ

I'D LIKE TO go to La Paz. Some day, before I'm too old to travel, I'd like to see La Paz, wander through its streets, enjoy the pleasant fact that at last, after all these years, I am finally in that little city.

I like being where I am. I wouldn't for any price want to live anywhere else. It's where I feel at home, where I am happiest. Whatever happens here it is MY city and I love it. And when I go away, the return is always a rich experience and it is good to breathe this air again and be back where my heart is happiest. . . But I would like, just once, to see La Paz.

It's a city far down toward the southern tip of the Lower California peninsula. An old city, with an old cathedral in it that lifts itself high above the low buildings. . . And I don't exactly know why I want to go there. I've never talked to anybody who was ever there. I haven't read a great deal about La Paz. . . But, somehow, it has captured my roaming imagination. . . I'd like to go to New Mexico and to Yucatan and to Terra del Fuego and I'd like to see Alhambra and Avignon in France and the Rhine where the Lorelei sang, and I'd like to be in Iceland for a while, and like to climb the winding road that leads to the top of Quebec, and visit Victoria in British Columbia, and wander through the old part of New Orleans—and there are many other places where I'd like to be.

But somehow I'll not be entirely satisfied until I am at last in La Paz . . . You have been there and you say that I'll probably be disappointed? I beg your pardon, but I disagree. Somehow I have an idea I shall not. . . . By going there I may free myself of this idea I have about La Paz. I shall satisfy a pleasant dream. I shall have added a quietly enriching experience to life. I shall not be sorry whatever La Paz turns out to be. . . . And perhaps it will not matter greatly if I never get to that sunbaked little city of La Paz.

We walk through lives possessed by dreams. And sometimes those dreams cause us greaat pain and disappointment and rack us with their futility. And sometimes they are mere mild wishes, vague longings of no great consequence. My wish to see La Paz, just once, is one of those more harmless aspirations. . . . But, just the same, I do wish I could spend a few days in that La Paz.

PROMOTION IS BASED ON MERIT

Your pettish disposition has put you on the "outs" with many of those with whom you work.

Little tnings that should not disturb a sensible person make you peevish.

You imagine you are imposed upon and frequently carry your imagination so far that you think you are being talked about when little groups gather.

You may be jealous of the poupularity of others in your department.

Indeed, there are some cases to justify these conclusions.

But usually those persons are advanced whose efforts entitle them to it.

In these times, when business is becoming more and more a matter of speed in production and superior quality of workmanship, promotion shows proficiency and efficiency or it would not be justified.

Working forces were reduced long ago; the persons retained were those best fitted to lead or tc carry the ideas of their superiors.

Those who are most expert and most energetic among the workers will be, and should be, accorded the favors.

If you think only a pull will advance you, you are not giving your best to your employers, and perhaps they know it!

AFTER MANY YEARS

I used to be Prince Charming,
But that was years ago.
I now am John Alarming
With faults that plaintly show.
When I was wooing Nellie
She never dreamed or guessed
How many times the jelly
Would stain my shirt and vest.

Time was she thought me clever,
But that was in our youth.
Now done with that forever
She knows the bitter truth.
How swiftly fancies perish
Upon this earthly stage!
The little jests I cherish
Are mouldy now with age.

When we were both romancing
She never seemed to see
At night when we were dancing
How awkward I could be.
What varnish can be thinner
Then that which young hopes spread?
She sees me now at dinner
As one who dunks his bread.

The way my mother raised me
Completely turned her head.
Long years ago she praised me,
Whate'er I did or said.
But now my faults are many
As sadly she'll allow.
Of polish I've not any
I'm just her husband now!

A Pennsylvanian, Lovell Short, went riding with a friend and his face was injured in an accident. He sued his friend and a sympathetic jury awarded him damages because the accident had so affected his tear ducts they flowed continuously. (Maybe the jury was moved by his tears.)

An impulse to be sociable resulted fatally for William Abel, 19-year-old Tennessee lad. Riding on a truck, he released his hold to wave to some girls—and the truck struck a bump, throwing him through the windshield of a passing car.

TIRED BUSINESS MAN? NO, NOT ALWAYS SO

Contrary to the general treatment prescribed, when the "tired business man" seeks relaxation and cure by attending musical comedy, there comes the suggestion, more or less from the field of athletics. Frequently the "tired business man" is suffering only from worry and nervous excitement so the following is suggested:

Forget the show or late gathering. On the first night, go to bed early. Then up betimes. Thrash the will into shape. Cut loose on the hardest day's work ever. Go home, take a shower. And, after dinner read a mystery book for two hours. Then again early to bed. The following day should see the "tired business man" pleased with his accomplishments of the day before and returned to normal.

The former bullfighter rushed home to get his muleta and sword, and as speedily returned to the market where the animal was eating a hearty meal of vegetables. A few waves of the muleta and brandishes of the sword and Antonio measured his thrust to plunge the steel down through the bull's neck, and somebody had steak.

That Drop In New Deal Support
Southern Observer Finds Swing Left
Huey Long Still Gaining Strength

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A new light is cast on the Literary Digest poll showing a falling off in support of the New Deal in the past six months.

The falling off was observable particularly in the south and in northern industrial regions.

A writer for Central Press—William G. Gaudet, of New Orleans—has just motored from New Orleans to New York. He has stopped at various places en route to obtain the views of the average man.

He reports:

1. It is true that support of the New Deal is faltering in the south—chiefly because the average man of the south is swinging over, for the first time, to something more radical, or, rather, more comprehensive.

2. For the first time since the Civil war, the southern conservative is beginning to leave the Democratic party—or, rather, the part of the Democratic party which subscribes to the New Deal or to Huey Long.

A similar survey in one or two northern industrial centers by me discloses much the same trend.

SINCLAIR

Central Press observers in California believe Upton Sinclair will be defeated by a narrow margin for governor. San Francisco will defeat him, if he is defeated.

But Sinclair in defeat is likely to be stronger nationally than Sinclair victorious, according to some practical politicians in the Democratic party. As a governor, Sinclair probably would temper his program to conform largely with the national New Deal program. As a leader of a cause which is gaining thousands of converts nationally he is likely to become such a potent force by 1936 that he may play a part in the presidential conventions.

Huey Long, on the other hand, is likely to be steam-rollered by National Chairman Jim Farley's machine.

UTOPIANS

Sinclair's Utopian society has a weekly newspaper, issued in Los Angeles, which supports President Roosevelt as vigorously as it supports Upton Sinclair.

Thus any charges that this paper makes in all probability will have the benefit of an administration hearing.

And one of those charges involves corrupt practices, concerning which there already is a senate committee waiting.

The Sinclair publication lists a number of large corporations, as well as the Los Angeles Clearing House association and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and makes these allegations:

"This week we point the finger at the business institutions and firms listed below, clients and patrons of the California Intelligence Service bureau, and leave it to them to admit or deny that they furnished any of the funds used by Florian De Donato and his California Intelligence Service bureau in the conspiracy to destroy the Utopian society of America and the plot to crush and throttle the right of free assembly and free speech in the city of Los Angeles."

TOWNSEND PLAN

Los Angeles is the home of cults.

The strongest, next to the Utopians, is the Townsend Old Age pension plan. In fact, nationally, it is stronger than the Utopians.

Dr. M. E. Townsend, Los Angeles physician, formulated a plan by which every citizen 60 years or more, who has no independent income and who has no criminal record, shall receive a pension of $200 a month. But every cent of that $200 must be spent the same month in the United States.

AIDING THE "POOR"

King Alexander of Yugoslavia left a fortune of $10,000,000, out of his annual salary and expenses of one million.

He had been supporting the "poorer" royalty of Europe—largely his wife's relatives. Or, rather, the taxpayers of Yugoslavia, where wages are the lowest in the world, had been supporting the king's relatives.

Now the money descends largely to his wife, and to the youthful heir to the throne, as well as to the lesser relatives.

But the question arises, since disclosure of the sums received by the late king—will the Yugoslavians continue to pay such high tribute to royalty, as well as support financially a government which is a dictatorship?

TODAY Is The Day

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25

The World War Day-By-Day—Oct. 25, 1914—On the anniversary of the Charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava in the war of the Turks, British and French on the Russians, immortalized by poet Alfred Tennyson, the Turks preparing to go to war on the side of the Germans against the Russians, French and British.

Tennyson wrote his memorable poem, of course, as testimony of superb British courage. Actually, it was a citaton of official stupidity. The 600 were needlessly sent into the jaws of death and 402 sacrificed because of the blundering misconception of an order.

The officer, like the doctor, buries his mistakes. Regardless of the intelligence of the man in the ranks, it is

"Theirs not to make reply,
Theirs not to reason why,
theirs but to do and die."

Not 400, but 4,00 and many more German soldiers were similarly sacrificed in attempting to take and hold narrow strip of Channel coast the Germans wanted for a base for attacks on the hated England. The Allies were trying to cut off the German army on the coast from the main force and their two-sided attack made the vicinity of Neuport another valley of death. Monitors seized by Britain from Brazil, steamed up and down a half mile off coast, whipping the Germans with shrapnel into farms and villages from which they were expelled by high explosive shells of Allied field artillery.

Reluctant to forego what the night before had appeared a certain victory, German officers ordered charge after charge. The men charged in solid masses, singing "Die Wacht am Rhein," and the close order formation made it easy for the British soldiers and marines, who had reserved their fire for close range, to mow them down with machine guns and rifles. In one spot, 2,500 gray-clad bodies clogged the Yser Canal, and its waters ran red.

New hordes of Germans filled the gaps and the rushes continued. The officers had orders to get through to Dixmude that night, cost what it may. They failed, not because their men failed to obey orders, for they crossed the waterways as they were bid, but, once through, they were mowed down by machine guns, torn into human fragments by shells, bayoneted back over their own dead into the canal.

From dark till dawn, at almost every point on the line, man opposed man at bayone length. Many wrestled and died drowning each other in the canal. A few Germans got across the bridges, but they never came back. A huge Belgian stood out like a Hercules in the midst of this Herculean fray: he used his rifle like an ax near a bridge and felled man after man with skull-crushing blows until a bullet brought hm down.

The casualties of the Allies were heavy, too. New levies only a few weeks under arms, beardless boys, were thrust into the maw of the machine of destruction to fill the aching voids in the ranks.

History Up-To-Date—Oct. 25, 1694—A public fountain in Alicant was drained and cleaned. Into it were poured four hogsheads of brandy, one pipe of malaga wine, 20 gallons of lime juice, 2,500 lemons, 1,300 pounds of sugar, five pounds of grated nutmeg, eight hogsheads of water. The whole was topped with 300 toasted biscuits. A boy rowed around in a small boat, built expressly for the purpose, filling cups and assisting guests who fell in.

Thus did Admiral Edward Russell, Earl of Orford, 43, commander of the British Mediterranean fleet, prepare a toast to his king by the officers of his fleet. It was a huge success: 6,000 men got drunk.

Oct. 25, 1825—The greatest work of internal improvement constructed in the U. S. previous to the transcontinental railroad, was completed, and the first boat moved through the Erie Canal. A grand aquatic procession from Albany proceeded to the sea, and Governor DeWitt Clinton poured a keg of Lake Erie water into the ocean.

Robert Stevens had pleaded with the sponsors of the canal to construct a railway instead. There were no railways then, and the sponsors were afraid to experiment. Within 20 years after it was built, the canal boats were made antiquated by the snorting locomotives.

Oct. 25, 1859—A Mayflower descendent who tried to free the slaves went on trial in Charlestown, Va.

Mark Twain once edited a newspaper. A subscriber wrote him that he had found a spider in his paper and wanted to know if it meant good luck or bad. This was Mark's answer:

"Old subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck or bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

MOPPING UP THE OUTLAWS

BACK in prohibition days the chief of the biggest band of criminals that this country ever had known was Al Capone, labeled Public Enemy No. 1. The government got him finally, not for deeds of violence, but for evasion of the income tax. Most of the important members of his gang and of rival gangs in the illicit beer and liquor traffic disposed of themselves in desperate warfare.

There had been cases of kidnaping and there had been bands of outlaws previous to prohibition, but they increased in numbers as beer and liquor profits grew less. It was the fate of the Lindbergh baby that aroused public sentiment to a universal demand for action against dangerous racketeers of all types. The so-called Lindbergh law passed by congress clothed federal agents of the Department of Justice with powers that they had not hitherto had. Now, working alone or in co-operation with state and municipal authorities, they are in a position to render a public service of supreme importance.

It is splendid work they have performed in running down the organized outlaws of the West. It was a long chase and they had after John Dillinger, who succeeded Capone as Public Enemy No. 1, and his gunmen, but three months ago they got him. Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd next became Public Enemy No. 1, and Floyd they shot to death on Monday. Between the deaths of Dillinger and Floyd a long list of outlaws more or less connected with them have been killed or imprisoned. It has been almost a clean sweep. There remain George (Baby Face) Nelson, a member of the Dillinger gang, as Public Enemy No. 1, and John Hamilton, also a Dillinger follower, now recorded as Public Enemy No. 2. That the pair will be caught is almost certain.

It is proved beyond doubt that the Department of Justice in touch with local detectives is capable of dealing with organized crime. Not only have bank robbers and outlaws of that character been taught a severe lesson, but kidnaper after kidnaper has been ferreted out. The ease with which the latest attempt to gain ransom money has been solved serves notice that the game has become too dangerous to indulge in with hope of escape. The captor of Mrs. Stoll of Louisville, Thomas R. Robinson, Jr., can not long be a fugitive.

That poor little child of the Lindberghs did not die in vain.

PASSING OF THE GHOSTS

It might be remarked at Hallowe'en time, that that occasion was once the field day for all ghosts. As the season when the spirits of the departed were supposed to wander abroad, Hallowe'en was a favorite time for telling ghost stories. The company gathered about the first on the hearth listened to many such a tale of returned spirits. Those were unsophisticated times, and many people's hair would stand on end as they heard these tales of headless horsemen and supernatural knockings.

About all we have left of the ancient tradition of ghosts, which once caused terror to the mind of man, is found in the modern doings at Hallowe'en. The pretty capers of the kids with their lanterns and freak costumes have taken the place of the ghostly presences at which men and women used to faint in terror.

And the boy who tips over your garbage pail, or who rings your door bell until the battery is run out, has taken the place of the fateful visitor before whom our grandparents quailed. It is well to get rid of useless superstitions, but if the boys carry their ghostly conduct so far as to destroy property and make householders a lot of trouble, they need a ghostly visitant in the shape of the material slipper.

DANGER SEASON FOR SKIDDING AUTO

This is the time of the year, when many accidents are caused by skidding automobiles. In many places the highways are covered with leaves and in rainy weather, unless your automobile is in first class condition in all respects, skidding is practically unavoidable.

In addition to bad road conditions, other causes are badly aligned brakes, worn tires and wrong use of brakes. Brakes should be adjusted in such a way that the braking force on one side of the car should be as near that of the other as possible, and in the case of four-wheel brakes, so that the back brakes are stronger than the front. The aligning of brakes is a fairly complicated job and should be done only by an expert, since brakes that are too strong may be even more dangerous than those that are too weak.

To prevent skids, don't apply brakes with a strong, continuous pressure, but slow down by alternately applying and releasing brakes until most of the momentum has been killed. To get out of a skid, release your brakes if you've applied them and turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid—and be quick about it!

PROSPERITY PROGRAM IN REVERSE

A great many economists are coming to the conclusion that we have "put the horse before the cart" in attempting to raise prices before the increase in business demanded such a rise.

The first effect is not to give the worker wages which will give him a potentially greater purchasing power, but to increase the cost of the finished product to such an extent that the public quits buying.

Therefore instead of the workers having greater employment and more money to spend, there is a decrease in the number of jobs and in the purchasing power of wages.

Certainly prosperity cannot be brought about in such fashion. When a merchant seeks to move a surplus stock of goods he does it by cutting the price so that the people will buy. To destroy one-third of his stock and raise the price on the balance would increase neither his customers nor his profits. The same is true of industry and business as a whole.

Attractive prices which stimulate buying will eventually set the wheels of industry in motion, and this in turn will bring more work at higher wages, and ultimate prosperity.

If you ask a musician guest to play for you, why not ask a painter guest to decorate your walls?

It's got so youngsters never listen to anything their parents say except, "How much do you want?"

LA PAZ

I'D LIKE TO go to La Paz. Some day, before I'm too old to travel, I'd like to see La Paz, wander through its streets, enjoy the pleasant fact that at last, after all these years, I am finally in that little city.

I like being where I am. I wouldn't for any price want to live anywhere else. It's where I feel at home, where I am happiest. Whatever happens here it is MY city and I love it. And when I go away, the return is always a rich experience and it is good to breathe this air again and be back where my heart is happiest. . . But I would like, just once, to see La Paz.

It's a city far down toward the southern tip of the Lower California peninsula. An old city, with an old cathedral in it that lifts itself high above the low buildings. . . And I don't exactly know why I want to go there. I've never talked to anybody who was ever there. I haven't read a great deal about La Paz. . . But, somehow, it has captured my roaming imagination. . . I'd like to go to New Mexico and to Yucatan and to Terra del Fuego and I'd like to see Alhambra and Avignon in France and the Rhine where the Lorelei sang, and I'd like to be in Iceland for a while, and like to climb the winding road that leads to the top of Quebec, and visit Victoria in British Columbia, and wander through the old part of New Orleans—and there are many other places where I'd like to be.

But somehow I'll not be entirely satisfied until I am at last in La Paz . . . You have been there and you say that I'll probably be disappointed? I beg your pardon, but I disagree. Somehow I have an idea I shall not. . . . By going there I may free myself of this idea I have about La Paz. I shall satisfy a pleasant dream. I shall have added a quietly enriching experience to life. I shall not be sorry whatever La Paz turns out to be. . . . And perhaps it will not matter greatly if I never get to that sunbaked little city of La Paz.

We walk through lives possessed by dreams. And sometimes those dreams cause us greaat pain and disappointment and rack us with their futility. And sometimes they are mere mild wishes, vague longings of no great consequence. My wish to see La Paz, just once, is one of those more harmless aspirations. . . . But, just the same, I do wish I could spend a few days in that La Paz.

Your pettish disposition has put you on the "outs" with many of those with whom you work.

Little things that should not disturb a sensible person make you peevish.

You imagine you are imposed upon and frequently carry your imagination so far that you think you are being talked about when little groups gather.

You may be jealous of the popularity of others in your department.

Indeed, there are some cases to justify these conclusions.

But usually those persons are advanced whose efforts entitle them to it.

In these times, when business is becoming more and more a matter of speed in production and superior quality of workmanship, promotion shows proficiency and efficiency or it would not be justified.

Working forces were reduced long ago; the persons retained were those best fitted to lead or to carry the ideas of their superiors.

Those who are most expert and most energetic among the workers will be, and should be, accorded the favors.

If you think only a pull will advance you, you are not giving your best to your employers, and perhaps they know it!

"What position did you hold in your last place?" asked the merchant.

"I was a doer, sir."

"A doer! What's that?"

"Well, sir, you see, when my employer wanted anything done he would tell the cashier, the cashier would tell the bookkeeper, the bookkeeper would tell the clerk and the clerk would tell me."

"And what would happen then?"

"Well, sir, as I hadn't any one to tell it to I'd do it."

The late King Alexander of Belgrade got a salary of a million a year and left ten million dollars when he died. This money was in several European banks. ODD ACCIDENTS

Little Jean Johnson stood on the curb in a Maryland city waiting to cross the street. A door of a passing truck flew open, struck him on the head and fractured his skull.

A Pennsylvanian, Lovell Short, went riding with a friend and his face was injured in an accident. He sued his friend and a sympathetic jury awarded him damages because the accident had so affected his tear ducts they flowed continuously. (Maybe the jury was moved by his tears.)

An impulse to be sociable resulted fatally for William Abel, 19-year-old Tennessee lad. Riding on a truck, he released his hold to wave to some girls—and the truck struck a bump, throwing him through the windshield of a passing car.

A husband and wife served on the same jury in a Minnesota case. Of course the jury disagreed.

Margaret Sanger is developing a humorous trend.

She now wants a law requiring couples to take out a state license before they can have children.

We hope no one pays any attention to that. Nice state of affairs it would be if we had married people going around bootlegging babies.

TIRED BUSINESS MAN? NO, NOT ALWAYS SO

Contrary to the general treatment prescribed, when the "tired business man" seeks relaxation and cure by attending musical comedy, there comes the suggestion, more or less from the field of athletics. Frequently the "tired business man" is suffering only from worry and nervous excitement so the following is suggested:

Forget the show or late gathering. On the first night, go to bed early. Then up betimes. Thrash the will into shape. Cut loose on the hardest day's work ever. Go home, take a shower. And, after dinner read a mystery book for two hours. Then again early to bed. The following day should see the "tired business man" pleased with his accomplishments of the day before and returned to normal.

Antonio Sanchez, a retired toreador, going homeward in the early hours of a Madrid morning had an unexpected encounter with a bull which had escaped from a slaughter house herd. The former bullfighter rushed home to get his muleta and sword, and as speedily returned to the market where the animal was eating a hearty meal of vegetables. A few waves of the muleta and brandishes of the sword and Antonio measured his thrust to plunge the steel down through the bull's neck, and somebody had steak.

That Drop In New Deal Support Southern Observer Finds Swing Left Huey Long Still Gaining Strength

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A new light is cast on the Literary Digest poll showing a falling off in support of the New Deal in the past six months.

The falling off was observable particularly in the south and in northern industrial regions.

A writer for Central Press—William G. Gaudet, of New Orleans—has just motored from New Orleans to New York. He has stopped at various places en route to obtain the views of the average man.

He reports:

1. It is true that support of the New Deal is faltering in the south—chiefly because the average man of the south is swinging over, for the first time, to something more radical, or, rather, more comprehensive.

2. For the first time since the Civil war, the southern conservative is beginning to leave the Democratic party—or, rather, the part of the Democratic party which subscribes to the New Deal or to Huey Long.

A similar survey in one or two northern industrial centers by me discloses much the same trend.

SINCLAIR

Central Press observers in California believe Upton Sinclair will be defeated by a narrow margin for governor. San Francisco will defeat him, if he is defeated.

But Sinclair in defeat is likely to be stronger nationally than Sinclair victorious, according to some practical politicians in the Democratic party. As a governor, Sinclair probably would temper his program to conform largely with the national New Deal program. As a leader of a cause which is gaining thousands of converts nationally he is likely to become such a potent force by 1936 that he may play a part in the presidential conventions.

Huey Long, on the other hand, is likely to be steam-rollered by National Chairman Jim Farley's machine.

UTOPIANS

Sinclair's Utopian society has a weekly newspaper, issued in Los Angeles, which supports President Roosevelt as vigorously as it supports Upton Sinclair.

Thus any charges that this paper makes in all probability will have the benefit of an administration hearing.

And one of those charges involves corrupt practices, concerning which there already is a senate committee waiting.

The Sinclair publication lists a number of large corporations, as well as the Los Angeles Clearing House association and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and makes these allegations:

"This week we point the finger at the business institutions and firms listed below, clients and patrons of the California Intelligence Service bureau, and leave it to them to admit or deny that they furnished any of the funds used by Florian De Donato and his California Intelligence Service bureau in the conspiracy to destroy the Utopian society of America and the plot to crush and throttle the right of free assembly and free speech in the city of Los Angeles."

TOWNSEND PLAN

Los Angeles is the home of cults.

The strongest, next to the Utopians, is the Townsend Old Age pension plan. In fact, nationally, it is stronger than the Utopians.

Dr. M. E. Townsend, Los Angeles physician, formulated a plan by which every citizen 60 years or more, who has no independent income and who has no criminal record, shall receive a pension of $200 a month. But every cent of that $200 must be spent the same month in the United States.

AIDING THE "POOR"

King Alexander of Yugoslavia left a fortune of $10,000,000, out of his annual salary and expenses of one million.

He had been supporting the "poorer" royalty of Europe—largely his wife's relatives. Or, rather, the taxpayers of Yugoslavia, where wages are the lowest in the world, had been supporting the king's relatives.

Now the money descends largely to his wife, and to the youthful heir to the throne, as well as to the lesser relatives.

But the question arises, since disclosure of the sums received by the late king—will the Yugoslavians continue to pay such high tribute to royalty, as well as support financially a government which is a dictatorship?

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25

The World War Day-By-Day—Oct. 25, 1914—On the anniversary of the Charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava in the war of the Turks, British and French on the Russians, immortalized by poet Alfred Tennyson, the Turks preparing to go to war on the side of the Germans against the Russians, French and British.

Tennyson wrote his memorable poem, of course, as testimony of superb British courage. Actually, it was a citaton of official stupidity. The 600 were needlessly sent into the jaws of death and 402 sacrificed because of the blundering misconception of an order.

The officer, like the doctor, buries his mistakes. Regardless of the intelligence of the man in the ranks, it is

"Theirs not to make reply.
Theirs not to reason why,
theirs but to do and die."

Not 400, but 4,00 and many more German soldiers were similarly sacrificed in attempting to take and hold narrow strip of Channel coast the Germans wanted for a base for attacks on the hated England. The Allies were trying to cut off the German army on the coast from the main force and their two-sided attack made the vicinity of Neuport another valley of death. Monitors seized by Britain from Brazil, steamed up and down a half mile off coast, whipping the Germans with shrapnel into farms and villages from which they were expelled by high explosive shells of Allied field artillery.

Reluctant to forego what the night before had appeared a certain victory, German officers ordered charge after charge. The men charged in solid masses, singing "Die Wacht am Rhein," and the close order formation made it easy for the British soldiers and marines, who had reserved their fire for close range, to mow them down with machine guns and rifles. In one spot, 2,500 gray-clad bodies clogged the Yser Canal, and its waters ran red.

New hordes of Germans filled the gaps and the rushes continued. The officers had orders to get through to Dixmude that night, cost what it may. They failed, not because their men failed to obey orders, for they crossed the waterways as they were bid, but, once through, they were mowed down by machine guns, torn into human fragments by shells, bayoneted back over their own dead into the canal.

From dark till dawn, at almost every point on the line, man opposed man at bayone length. Many wrestled and died drowning each other in the canal. A few Germans got across the bridges, but they never came back. A huge Belgian stood out like a Hercules in the midst of this Herculean fray: he used his rifle like an ax near a bridge and felled man after man with skull-crushing blows until a bullet brought him down.

The casualties of the Allies were heavy, too. New levies only a few weeks under arms, beardless boys, were thrust into the maw of the machine of destruction to fill the aching voids in the ranks.

History Up-To-Date—Oct. 25, 1694—A public fountain in Alicant was drained and cleaned. Into it were poured four hogsheads of brandy, one pipe of malaga wine, 20 gallons of lime juice, 2,500 lemons, 1,300 pounds of sugar, five pounds of grated nutmeg, eight hogsheads of water. The whole was topped with 300 toasted biscuits. A boy rowed around in a small boat, built expressly for the purpose, filling cups and assisting guests who fell in.

Thus did Admiral Edward Russell, Earl of Orford, 43, commander of the British Mediterranean fleet, prepare a toast to his king by the officers of his fleet. It was a huge success: 6,000 men got drunk.

Oct. 25, 1825—The greatest work of internal improvement constructed in the U. S. previous to the transcontinental railroad, was completed, and the first boat moved through the Erie Canal. A grand aquatic procession from Albany proceeded to the sea, and Governor DeWitt Clinton poured a keg of Lake Erie water into the ocean.

Robert Stevens had pleaded with the sponsors of the canal to construct a railway instead. There were no railways then, and the sponsors were afraid to experiment. Within 20 years after it was built, the canal boats were made antiquated by the snorting locomotives.

Oct. 25, 1859—A Mayflower descendent who tried to free the slaves went on trial in Charlestown, Va.

Ellen McAdoo Postpones Plans For Her Marriage

Ancestry Of Her Proposed Husband Figures In Change In Plans

International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25—Her road to romance apparently blocked by parental and legal objections, Ellen Wilson McAdoo, 19 year old daughter of U. S. Senator William Gibbs McAdoo today had announced postponement of her marriage plans—for the present at least.

The debutante granddaughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson, however, emphatically declared that postponement of plans for her marriage to Rafael Lopez De Onate, dashing 38 year old screeen actor, did not mean abandonment of plans for the weding and that they "hoped to marry some time in the future."

The statement of Miss McAdoo and De Onate, concerning their wedding plans, which were thrown into the limelight when the marriage license clerk at Riverside, Cal. announced his intention of investigating the ancestry of the actor who was born in the Phillippine Islands, came after announcement there that Senator McAdoo would disown and diginherit his daughter if she married De Onate.

Fatal Bus Crash Is Being Probed

Driver Says Mechanism Of Auto Failed To Work And Caused Indiana Fatal Crash

(International News Service)

INDIANA, Pa., Oct. 25—While plans for the disposal of the bodies of two victims of a bus crash ten miles east of here were going forward, doctors, in Indiana hospital today were fighting to save the life of Morris Israel, New York, who was reported in critical condition.

Meanwhile, investigations were started into the crash that took the lives of Mrs. J R. Jensen, of Chicago and H. M. Martin of San Francisco by county and state authorities. Pending an inquest, Charles Kenneke, Huntingdon, Pa., driver of the bus, was held in jail.

State highway patrolmen and District Attorney William M. Ruddock, of Indiana county said the driver's story was that the steering apparatus and brakes of the vehicle failed to respond as the bus began a mad dash down a long hill and plunged over the embankment into Laurel Run, turning over three times.

The remainder of those injured in the crash were expected to recover, hospital attaches asserted.

When Roosevelt Served as Navy Secretary, Making His Bow as National Public Figure

Views of Roosevelt while serving as assistant secretary of navy.

TWENTY YEARS before he took office as president of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt first appeared in the public eye as a national figure. This was while he served as assistant secretary of the navy in the cabinet of President Wilson. Graduating from the Columbia law school in 1907, Roosevelt was elected to the New York state senate three years later, and was re-elected in 1912. During the same year he was a delegate to the Democratic national convention at Baltimore, where he supported Wilson's candidacy. After being appointed to the navy post in 1913, Roosevelt was in Europe on inspection from July to September in 1918, and was there again in charge of mobilization in 1919.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Ghosts and witches reigned supreme over the annual Hallowe'en party of Troop No. 12 in the home of Scoutmaster Ray Zeigler. The home was very cleverly decorated with autumn leaves and an "old witch" ruled from her hide-out in one corner of the room.

The scouts came masked. The prize for the funniest costume went to B. Hanna and for the best costume to B. Edmunds. Prizes for the best dressed couple went to F. Robinson and W. Zahniser. Games suited to the occasion were played and prizes were won by E. Lutz, G. Miller and Don Wimer.

The party also honored Charles Brest, assistant scoutmaster of the troop, who is leaving to take up his new duties as skipper of the Sea Scout ship "Neshannock" of Highland troop 18.

After a few short announcements a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Roy Zeigler, Mrs. Hollis Critchlow and Mrs. Charles Brest. The party broke up early so that the scouts could get home safe from the curfew law.

Commissioner Davis and Troop Committeeman I. J. Miller were special guests.

Ancestry Of Her Proposed Husband Figures In Change In Plans

International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25—Her road to romance apparently blocked by parental and legal objections, Ellen Wilson McAdoo, 19 year old daughter of U. S. Senator William Gibbs McAdoo today had announced postponement of her marriage plans—for the present at least.

The debutante granddaughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson, however, emphatically declared that postponement of plans for her marriage to Rafael Lopez De Onate, dashing 38 year old screeen actor, did not mean abandonment of plans for the weding and that they "hoped to marry some time in the future."

The statement of Miss McAdoo and De Onate, concerning their wedding plans, which were thrown into the limelight when the marriage license clerk at Riverside, Cal. announced his intention of investigating the ancestry of the actor who was born in the Phillippine Islands, came after announcement there that Senator McAdoo would disown and disinherit his daughter if she married De Onate.

INDIANA, Pa., Oct. 25—While plans for the disposal of the bodies of two victims of a bus crash ten miles east of here were going forward, doctors, in Indiana hospital today were fighting to save the life of Morris Israel, New York, who was reported in critical condition.

Meanwhile, investigations were started into the crash that took the lives of Mrs. J R. Jensen, of Chicago and H. M. Martin of San Francisco by county and state authorities. Pending an inquest, Charles Kenneke, Huntingdon, Pa., driver of the bus, was held in jail.

State highway patrolmen and District Attorney William M. When Roosevelt Served as Navy Secretary, Making His Bow as National Public Figure

Views of Roosevelt while serving as assistant secretary of navy.

TWENTY YEARS before he took office as president of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt first appeared in the public eye as a national figure. Graduating from the Columbia law school in 1907, Roosevelt was elected to the New York state senate three years later, and was re-elected in 1912. During the same year he was a delegate to the Democratic national convention at Baltimore, where he supported Wilson's candidacy. After being appointed to the navy post in 1913, Roosevelt was in Europe on inspection from July to September in 1918, and was there again in charge of mobilization in 1919.

Ghosts and witches reigned supreme over the annual Hallowe'en party of Troop No. 12 in the home of Scoutmaster Ray Zeigler. The home was very cleverly decorated with autumn leaves and an "old witch" ruled from her hide-out in one corner of the room.

The scouts came masked. The prize for the funniest costume went to B. Hanna and for the best costume to B. Edmunds. Prizes for the best dressed couple went to F. Robinson and W. Zahniser. Games suited to the occasion were played and prizes were won by E. Lutz, G. Miller and Don Wimer.

The party also honored Charles Brest, assistant scoutmaster of the troop, who is leaving to take up his new duties as skipper of the Sea Scout ship "Neshannock" of Highland troop 18.

After a few short announcements a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Roy Zeigler, Mrs. Hollis Critchlow and Mrs. Charles Brest. The party broke up early so that the scouts could get home safe from the curfew law.

Knock Out that COLD!
Give It No Chance To Get Going!
A cold once underway is a cold hard to drive away! Let no cold endanger you. At the first chill or sneeze, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It usually makes short work of a cold because it is expressly a cold remedy and because it gets at a cold from the inside. A cold, you know, is an internal infection and calls for internal treatment.
Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine means COMPLETE relief because it is COMPLETE treatment. It does all the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. That's the action you want and anything less is taking chances. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute.

Knock Out that COLD!
Give It No Chance To Get Going!
A cold once underway is a cold hard to drive away! Let no cold endanger you. At the first chill or sneeze, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It usually makes short work of a cold because it is expressly a cold remedy and because it gets at a cold from the inside. A cold, you know, is an internal infection and calls for internal treatment.
Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine means COMPLETE relief because it is COMPLETE treatment. It does all the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. That's the action you want and anything less is taking chances. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute.

Surveys Business

Blaine B. Coles

To examine business conditions, Blaine B. Coles, banker of Portland, Ore., stopped at various places on his way to the American Bankers' Association convention in Washington. He reports opposition among business men against the NRA in Minneapolis and Chicago. In Boston optimism prevails but in New York, especially in Wall Street, there is pessimism. As for the northwest, Coles says business conditions are better than a year ago, but that the improvement would be more marked "if the president would state his program on monetary matters, the NRA and the AAA."

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Surveys Business

Blaine B. Coles

To examine business conditions, Blaine B. Coles, banker of Portland, Ore., stopped at various places on his way to the American Bankers' Association convention in Washington. He reports opposition among business men against the NRA in Minneapolis and Chicago. In Boston optimism prevails but in New York, especially in Wall Street, there is pessimism. As for the northwest, Coles says business conditions are better than a year ago, but that the improvement would be more marked "if the president would state his program on monetary matters, the NRA and the AAA."

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Knock Out that COLD!
Give It No Chance To Get Going!
A cold once underway is a cold hard to drive away! Let no cold endanger you. At the first chill or sneeze, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It usually makes short work of a cold because it is expressly a cold remedy and because it gets at a cold from the inside. A cold, you know, is an internal infection and calls for internal treatment.
Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine means COMPLETE relief because it is COMPLETE treatment. It does all the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. That's the action you want and anything less is taking chances. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute.

Surveys Business

Blaine B. Coles

To examine business conditions, Blaine B. Coles, banker of Portland, Ore., stopped at various places on his way to the American Bankers' Association convention in Washington. He reports opposition among business men against the NRA in Minneapolis and Chicago. In Boston optimism prevails but in New York, especially in Wall Street, there is pessimism. As for the northwest, Coles says business conditions are better than a year ago, but that the improvement would be more marked "if the president would state his program on monetary matters, the NRA and the AAA."

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Rail Pension Law Declared Invalid

District Of Columbia Court Says Crosser Bill Violates U. S. Constitution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Another bit of New Deal legislation, the Crosser measure which established a pension system for railroad employes, was declared unconstitutional Wednesday in the District of Columbia Supreme court. The bill was introduced in Congress by Representative Robert Crosser of Cleveland.

Although an appeal by the government and an eventual test in the United States Supreme court was regarded as certain, the decision stimulated a sluggish stock market.

"The act is unconstitutional because it extends its provisions to persons not engaged in interstate commerce," declared Justice Alfred A. Wheat in his opinion.

The American Railway association in its attack upon the law, asserted it affected many employes who were engaged only in intrastate commerce and that it violated the fifth amendment by taking property without due process of law.

Merriam Favored To Beat Sinclair

Hottest Political Controversy Since 1916 Rocking State Of California

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—California today basked in the hottest political controversy involving national figures since the famous episode of 1916 when an alleged slight of Senator Hiram Johnson in the Golden States by Charles Evans Hughes cost the Republican nominee for president the state and the national election to Woodrow Wilson.

It all came about over the asserted declaration of Upton Sinclair, former Socialist, and now Democratic candidate for governor of California, that he would be elected if President Roosevelt issued a statement on certain policies.

President Replies

President Roosevelt retorted in Washington that he planned to make no statement of any kind during the campaign in California.

Governor Frank F. Merriam, Republican candidate, and Raymond Haight, Progressive-Commonwealth nominee, were in Northern California making their final appeals to voters in that section.

Merriam continued a favorite in the betting odds which ranged from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

HOLC Loans To Pass $600,000 Present Month

While it is likely that the local branch of the Home Owners Loan corporation will not succeed in reaching one million dollars worth of loans passed for the month of October it looks probable that the total will be chasing $600,000.

Today's total shows 153 loans passed for closing this month, which means approximately $460,000. There are many titles that are ready to be turned in for closing and Don F. McGrew, manager of the local branch, estimates there will be an average of ten daily closed for the balance of the month.

Silk Dye Workers Are Out On Strike

(International News Service)

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 25—Twenty five thousand silk dyers and finishers of this area did not report to work today because of a strike call last night and this important branch of the textile industry was called down completely in one of the first major strikes since President Roosevelt's plea for a truce between labor and industry.

No disorder was reported at the many plants which finish silk and payon products. A few pickets had no difficulty in turning back the few who had not received word of the strike call, which was issued when negotiations for renewal of a contract which expired last midnight failed.

Here's the New Way to Put on 10 to 15 Lbs. of Good Solid Flesh and Feel Like a Million Dollars.

Thin, pale, rundown folks—even "Naturally Skinny" men and women—are amazed at this new easy way to put on healthy needed pounds quickly. Gains of 15 to 20 lbs. in 1 month are reported regularly.

Kelp-A-Malt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, gets right down to the cause of thin, underweight conditions and adds weight "2 ways in 1."

First, Kelp-A-Malt's natural minerals help produce digestive juices which alone enable you to digest fats and starches—the weight-making elements in food. Second, Kelp-A-Malt's natural IODINE regulates and nourishes the internal glands which control assimilation—the process of converting digested food into firm, flesh, new strength and energy. 3 tablets contain more iron and copper than 1 lb. of spinach or 7½ lbs. of tomatoes; more calcium than 6 eggs; more phosphorus than 1 ½ lbs. carrots; more natural IODINE than 1600 lbs. of beef.

Try Kelp-A-Malt for a week. You'll be delighted with the results. It costs but little at New Castle Cut Rate Drug Store.

Rail Pension Law Declared Invalid

District Of Columbia Court Says Crosser Bill Violates U. S. Constitution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Another bit of New Deal legislation, the Crosser measure which established a pension system for railroad employes, was declared unconstitutional Wednesday in the District of Columbia Supreme court. The bill was introduced in Congress by Representative Robert Crosser of Cleveland.

Although an appeal by the government and an eventual test in the United States Supreme court was regarded as certain, the decision stimulated a sluggish stock market.

"The act is unconstitutional because it extends its provisions to persons not engaged in interstate commerce," declared Justice Alfred A. Wheat in his opinion.

The American Railway association in its attack upon the law, asserted it affected many employes who were engaged only in intrastate commerce and that it violated the fifth amendment by taking property without due process of law.

Merriam Favored To Beat Sinclair

Hottest Political Controversy Since 1916 Rocking State Of California

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—California today basked in the hottest political controversy involving national figures since the famous episode of 1916 when an alleged slight of Senator Hiram Johnson in the Golden States by Charles Evans Hughes cost the Republican nominee for president the state and the national election to Woodrow Wilson.

It all came about over the asserted declaration of Upton Sinclair, former Socialist, and now Democratic candidate for governor of California, that he would be elected if President Roosevelt issued a statement on certain policies.

President Replies

President Roosevelt retorted in Washington that he planned to make no statement of any kind during the campaign in California.

Governor Frank F. Merriam, Republican candidate, and Raymond Haight, Progressive-Commonwealth nominee, were in Northern California making their final appeals to voters in that section.

Merriam continued a favorite in the betting odds which ranged from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It is expected that every teacher in the New Castle public school system will attend.

HOLC Loans To Pass $600,000 Present Month

While it is likely that the local branch of the Home Owners Loan corporation will not succeed in reaching one million dollars worth of loans passed for the month of October it looks probable that the total will be chasing $600,000.

Today's total shows 153 loans passed for closing this month, which means approximately $460,000. There are many titles that are ready to be turned in for closing and Don F. McGrew, manager of the local branch, estimates there will be an average of ten daily closed for the balance of the month.

Silk Dye Workers Are Out On Strike

(International News Service)

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 25—Twenty five thousand silk dyers and finishers of this area did not report to work today because of a strike call last night and this important branch of the textile industry was called down completely in one of the first major strikes since President Roosevelt's plea for a truce between labor and industry.

No disorder was reported at the many plants which finish silk and rayon products. A few pickets had no difficulty in turning back the few who had not received word of the strike call, which was issued when negotiations for renewal of a contract which expired last midnight failed.

REPORT THREE CASES OF CONTAGION HERE

Several scarlet fever cases today were reported to the city health officer, which is nothing unusual at this period of the year, according to health bureau attaches. The patients are as follows:

Jean Rose, 1003 Beckford street; Anna Scilla, eight, 846 Dewey avenue, and Elizabeth Kennedy, eight, 1013 Lorrain avenue.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST
Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.
If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.
Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.
Those subject to sick headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath.
Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

Rail Pension Law Declared Invalid

District Of Columbia Court Says Crosser Bill Violates U. S. Constitution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Another bit of New Deal legislation, the Crosser measure which established a pension system for railroad employes, was declared unconstitutional Wednesday in the District of Columbia Supreme court. The bill was introduced in Congress by Representative Robert Crosser of Cleveland.

Although an appeal by the government and an eventual test in the United States Supreme court was regarded as certain, the decision stimulated a sluggish stock market.

"The act is unconstitutional because it extends its provisions to persons not engaged in interstate commerce," declared Justice Alfred A. Wheat in his opinion.

The American Railway association in its attack upon the law, asserted it affected many employes who were engaged only in intrastate commerce and that it violated the fifth amendment by taking property without due process of law.

Merriam Favored To Beat Sinclair

Hottest Political Controversy Since 1916 Rocking State Of California

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—California today basked in the hottest political controversy involving national figures since the famous episode of 1916 when an alleged slight of Senator Hiram Johnson in the Golden States by Charles Evans Hughes cost the Republican nominee for president the state and the national election to Woodrow Wilson.

It all came about over the asserted declaration of Upton Sinclair, former Socialist, and now Democratic candidate for governor of California, that he would be elected if President Roosevelt issued a statement on certain policies.

President Replies

President Roosevelt retorted in Washington that he planned to make no statement of any kind during the campaign in California.

Governor Frank F. Merriam, Republican candidate, and Raymond Haight, Progressive-Commonwealth nominee, were in Northern California making their final appeals to voters in that section.

Merriam continued a favorite in the betting odds which ranged from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

HOLC Loans To Pass $600,000 Present Month

While it is likely that the local branch of the Home Owners Loan corporation will not succeed in reaching one million dollars worth of loans passed for the month of October it looks probable that the total will be chasing $600,000.

Today's total shows 153 loans passed for closing this month, which means approximately $460,000. There are many titles that are ready to be turned in for closing and Don F. McGrew, manager of the local branch, estimates there will be an average of ten daily closed for the balance of the month.

Silk Dye Workers Are Out On Strike

(International News Service)

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 25—Twenty five thousand silk dyers and finishers of this area did not report to work today because of a strike call last night and this important branch of the textile industry was called down completely in one of the first major strikes since President Roosevelt's plea for a truce between labor and industry.

No disorder was reported at the many plants which finish silk and payon products. A few pickets had no difficulty in turning back the few who had not received word of the strike call, which was issued when negotiations for renewal of a contract which expired last midnight failed.

Here's the New Way to Put on 10 to 15 Lbs. of Good Solid Flesh and Feel Like a Million Dollars.

Thin, pale, rundown folks—even "Naturally Skinny" men and women—are amazed at this new easy way to put on healthy needed pounds quickly. Gains of 15 to 30 lbs. in 1 month are reported regularly.

Kelp-A-Malt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, gets right down to the cause of thin, underweight conditions and adds weight "2 ways in 1."

First, Kelp-A-Malt's natural minerals help produce digestive juices which alone enable you to digest fats and starches—the weight-making elements in food. Second, Kelp-A-Malt's natural IODINE regulates and nourishes the internal glands which control assimilation—the process of converting digested food into firm, flesh, new strength and energy. 3 tablets contain more iron and copper than 1 lb. of spinach or 7½ lbs. of tomatoes; more calcium than 6 eggs; more phosphorus than 1 ½ lbs. carrots; more natural IODINE than 1600 lbs. of beef.

Try Kelp-A-Malt for a week. You'll be delighted with the results. It costs but little at New Castle Cut Rate Drug Store.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On In Harrisburg— And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Nearly 40,000 indigent aged men and women in Pennsylvania will celebrate Christmas and the New Year with new hope and happiness. For their last few years they may enjoy security.

No more threat of the almshouse! No need to depend on the uncertain help of friends or children already staggering under other burdens!

For more than 10 years I have done all in my power to bring help to these aged neighbors of ours. It gives me special happiness that, while I am still in office, the state should assume its responsibility of caring for these men and women, who, after a life-time of loyal service as citizens, find themselves, through no fault of their own, face to face with want.

In 1923 I signed Pennsylvania's first Old Age Assistance Act. The Old Age Assistance Commission which I had appointed summoned the first old age assistance conference of its kind ever held in the United States. Representatives of 30 leading state organizations, of six other states and delegates from county assistance boards met here in Harrisburg and discussed the subject from every angle. But the act never went into effect, because the Supreme Court declared it unconstitutional.

At subsequent sessions of the legislatures, several attempts were made to amend the constitution so that a pension act could be passed. These efforts all failed.

When I returned to the Capitol for my second term, Pennsylvania had made no further progress toward old age assistance although 25 other states passed such legislation in the decade between 1923 and 1933.

Then came our session of 1934, and at last, I had the satisfaction of signing the present Old Age Assistance Act which had been prepared, introduced, and passed as an administration measure. It is not all I want—but it is a great step forward.

In the United States 28 states now have Old Age Assistance Acts closely resembling ours. We do not find much variation in the conditions. Clauses relating to residence requirements, inability to provide self-support, and grants follow along similar lines. The amount granted is about the same in this and other states, $30 a month for the first member of a family and $15 a month for other aged members of the household.

Our act is good. In at least one respect, it is the fairest of all our assistance legislation. It relieves the counties of financial responsibility. The state provides all funds except the one item of county administration.

Under mothers' assistance many widows have been unable to secure the help that the act undertakes to provide. The counties in which they lived could not or would not contribute the fifty-fifty appropriation required by law. There are no such strings tied to this new old age assistance law. An aged person in this state who is eligible for assistance need never worry about continuing to receive a pension. The commonwealth guarantees adequate funds.

Many applications have already been received. These applications must be made to the Mothers' Assistance Boards in each county. Each application is being given personal investigation. Both investigation and administration of the old age fund are under the supervision of the Mothers' Assistance Fund Boards of Trustees of the various counties. Assignment to them of this new responsibilit by the legislature is a gratifying endorsement of their previous good work for mothers' assistance.

The act will become effective December 1st. Payments under the act are due at the end of December. Arrangements are being made to notify all eligible applicants before Christmas that their applications have been approved and that their money will reach them promptly at the beginning of the New Year.

Men and women over 70 years old, who meet the residence and other requirements may rest assured that they will be provided for. Long before Christmas, some 40,000 of our aged fellow citizens will know that their future is secure.

If you tire easily—

why not reason out the cause of this unnatural condition?

Your first thought may be, "I must eat more." That's not all. You should enjoy what you do eat. Frequently, the blood cells are low . . . and this, perhaps, is what makes you feel weak. If this is your trouble the stomach may not be calling for sufficient food. Zest to eat may be lacking. But what a difference S.S.S. makes when taken just before meals. Just try it and notice how your appetite and digestion improve.

S.S.S. stimulates the flow of gastric juices and also supplies the precious mineral elements so necessary in blood-cell and hemo-glo-bin up-building. Do try it. It may be the rainbow you need to brush away present discouragement over your health condition.

Do not be blinded by the efforts of a few unethical dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.

S.S.S. the world's great blood medicine

Union Constable To Watch Hallowe'eners

Destructive and rowdy hallowe'en gangs in Union township had better keep out of the path of Constable Thomas O'Brien or else pay, through fines or possibly jail trips, a penalty for their malicious fun. O'Brien served such a notice today, and he intends to enforce the edict more vigorously this season.

He said that, like in New Castle, all children under 16 years of age must be inside by 9 p. m. each evening. They will be stopped when they are found outside.

Honesty may be a policy, as Franklin said. People let their policies lapse when they get hard up.

You never hear of a female Shylock. Imagine a woman wailing about losing a pound of flesh.

The whiskey drinkers of the world have become used to Irish whiskey having a "kick" in it, they say, and it would do the Irish liquor industry no good to lower the strength to the Scottish level.

Union Constable To Watch Hallowe'eners

Destructive and rowdy hallowe'en gangs in Union township had better keep out of the path of Constable Thomas O'Brien or else pay, through fines or possibly jail trips, a penalty for their malicious fun.

O'Brien served such a notice today, and he intends to enforce the edict more vigorously this season.

He said that, like in New Castle, all children under 16 years of age must be inside by 9 p. m. each evening. They will be stopped when they are found outside.

Honesty may be a policy, as Franklin said. People let their policies lapse when they get hard up.

Weaker Whisky Alarms Ireland

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—Irish whiskey distillers are protesting a governmental proposal that their product be reduced to the strength of Scottish whiskey—from 24 degrees to 30 degrees "under proof."

The whiskey drinkers of the world have become used to Irish whiskey having a "kick" in it, they say, and it would do the Irish liquor industry no good to lower the strength to the Scottish level.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

Fourth Plane Arrives In Race

American Team Continues Race After Being Jailed In Persia

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Oct. 25.—A fourth plane, second to fly Britain's flag, breezed smoothly into Melbourne today as the century old state of Victoria started a round of honors and festivities for the winners in the 11,300 mile race.

Lieut. Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller arrived at 4:59 o'clock this morning (11:59 p. m. Wednesday, E. S. T.) their journey in a Dehavilland Comet like the machine that came in first almost exactly two days before, consumed 4 days, 22½ hours.

Although fourth, they were not certain of any prize, even one of the three in the handicap classification, since they lost time at Mount Isa, which is not a control point, and other machines close in their wake have greater time and other allowances.

Rested, bathed and shaven, their predecessors began enjoying the fruits of their victory.

Meanwhile, still winging eastward, although conceded little chance in the handicap event following their delay at Muhammerah, Persia, part of which they spent in jail, John H. Wright and John Polando landed at Bushire, Persia, at 8:04 p. m., E. S. T. Wednesday, after their release from jail through the intercession of British residents. They spent the night at Shaiba, near Basta.

Residents of Darwin were peering northward in expectation of the early arrival of squadron leader Malcolm MacGregor and Henry Walker of New Zealand. They left Batavia for the Australian landfall at 10:31 p. m. E. S. T. Wednesday.

MODERN YOUTH

The small boy had been naughty and was sent to his room as a punishment. He was so quiet that his parents went to see what he was doing and found him writing a letter.

"Is that a letter of apology?" they asked.

"If you want to know," he replied, "I'm writing to the archbishop to get a divorce from both of you!"

U. S. Protests Oil Monopoly By Japanese In Manchukuo Against Supply Reserve

So far, the Japanese government has failed to give any satisfactory reply to the representations and the United States is still pressing the issue.

Since there are numerous Pitt alumni in the district, the committee in charge has sent out invitations to many former Pitt students. Secretary Hallock will explain some of the functions of the organization. Plans will be perfected for the current year, it was announced.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—With gasoline selling at 11 cents a gallon in Philadelphia and eights cents a gallon in Camden, N. J., independent gasoline dealers of this area awaited action on their plea to President Robsevelt to end the price-slashing war.

The appeal to the President, in the form of a telegram representing 200 independent dealers in this area, stated:

"The price war of the petroleum industry was started deliberately by major petroleum interests as a camouflage for their real purpose—to eliminate independent competition and thus force the eventual raising of prices."

Meanwhile, gasoline was quoted at 12½ cents by the Sun, Standard and Vacuum companies. The Sinclair Company maintained a 12-cent rate, the lowest among the large companies.

Civil War In Spain Fatal To Estimated 2,500

MADRID, Oct. 25.—More than 2,500 persons were killed in the Asturian provinces during the recent civil war, Madrid newspapers estimated today on the basis of first reports received from a government commission investigating the situation.

The Asturias were the center of the bitterest fighting of the entire revolt, hostilities in these provinces lasting long after the revolt had been quelled elsewhere. The large city of Oviedo was in the hands of rebels for more than a week.

Fourth Plane Arrives In Race

American Team Continues Race After Being Jailed In Persia

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Oct. 25.—A fourth plane, second to fly Britain's flag, breezed smoothly into Melbourne today as the century old state of Victoria started a round of honors and festivities for the winners in the 11,300 mile race.

Lieut. Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller arrived at 4:59 o'clock this morning (11:59 p. m. Wednesday, E. S. T.) their journey in a Dehavilland Comet like the machine that came in first almost exactly two days before, consumed 4 days, 22½ hours.

Although fourth, they were not certain of any prize, even one of the three in the handicap classification, since they lost time at Mount Isa, which is not a control point, and other machines close in their wake have greater time and other allowances.

Rested, bathed and shaven, their predecessors began enjoying the fruits of their victory.

Meanwhile, still winging eastward, although conceded little chance in the handicap event following their delay at Muhammerah, Persia, part of which they spent in jail, John H. Wright and John Polando landed at Bushire, Persia, at 8:04 p. m., E. S. T. Wednesday, after their release from jail through the intercession of British residents. They spent the night at Shaiba, near Basta.

Residents of Darwin were peering northward in expectation of the early arrival of squadron leader Malcolm MacGregor and Henry Walker of New Zealand. They left Batavia for the Australian landfall at 10:31 p. m. E. S. T. Wednesday.

MODERN YOUTH

The small boy had been naughty and was sent to his room as a punishment. He was so quiet that his parents went to see what he was doing and found him writing a letter.

"Is that a letter of apology?" they asked.

"If you want to know," he replied, "I'm writing to the archbishop to get a divorce from both of you!"

The Governor Says

What Is Going On In Harrisburg— And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Nearly 40,000 indigent aged men and women in Pennsylvania will celebrate Christmas and the New Year with new hope and happiness. For their last few years they may enjoy security.

No more threat of the almshouse! No need to depend on the uncertain help of friends or children already staggering under other burdens!

For more than 10 years I have done all in my power to bring help to these aged neighbors of ours. It gives me special happiness that, while I am still in office, the state should assume its responsibility of caring for these men and women, who, after a life-time of loyal service as citizens, find themselves, through no fault of their own, face to face with want.

In 1923 I signed Pennsylvania's first Old Age Assistance Act. The Old Age Assistance Commission which I had appointed summoned the first old age assistance conference of its kind ever held in the United States. Representatives of 30 leading state organizations, of six other states and delegates from county assistance boards met here in Harrisburg and discussed the subject from every angle. But the act never went into effect, because the Supreme Court declared it unconstitutional.

At subsequent sessions of the legislatures, several attempts were made to amend the constitution so that a pension act could be passed. These efforts all failed.

When I returned to the Capitol for my second term, Pennsylvania had made no further progress toward old age assistance although 25 other states passed such legislation in the decade between 1923 and 1933.

Then came our session of 1934, and at last, I had the satisfaction of signing the present Old Age Assistance Act which had been prepared, introduced, and passed as an administration measure. It is not all I want—but it is a great step forward.

In the United States 28 states now have Old Age Assistance Acts closely resembling ours. We do not find much variation in the conditions. Clauses relating to residence requirements, inability to provide self-support, and grants follow along similar lines. The amount granted is about the same in this and other states, $30 a month for the first member of a family and $15 a month for other aged members of the household.

Our act is good. In at least one respect, it is the fairest of all our assistance legislation. It relieves the counties of financial responsibility. The state provides all funds except the one item of county administration.

Under mothers' assistance many widows have been unable to secure the help that the act undertakes to provide. The counties in which they lived could not or would not contribute the fifty-fifty appropriation required by law. There are no such strings tied to this new old age assistance law. An aged person in this state who is eligible for assistance need never worry about continuing to receive a pension. The commonwealth guarantees adequate funds.

Many applications have already been received. These applications must be made to the Mothers' Assistance Boards in each county. Each application is being given personal investigation. Both investigation and administration of the old age fund are under the supervision of the Mothers' Assistance Fund Boards of Trustees of the various counties. Assignment to them of this new responsibilit by the legislature is a gratifying endorsement of their previous good work for mothers' assistance.

The act will become effective December 1st. Payments under the act are due at the end of December. Arrangements are being made to notify all eligible applicants before Christmas that their applications have been approved and that their money will reach them promptly at the beginning of the New Year.

Men and women over 70 years old, who meet the residence and other requirements may rest assured that they will be provided for. Long before Christmas, some 40,000 of our aged fellow citizens will know that their future is secure.

If you tire easily—

why not reason out the cause of this unnatural condition?

Your first thought may be, "I must eat more." That's not all. You should enjoy what you do eat. Frequently, the blood cells are low . . . and this, perhaps, is what makes you feel weak. If this is your trouble the stomach may not be calling for sufficient food. Zest to eat may be lacking. But what a difference S.S.S. makes when taken just before meals. Just try it and notice how your appetite and digestion improve.

S.S.S. stimulates the flow of gastric juices and also supplies the precious mineral elements so necessary in blood-cell and hemo-glo-bin up-building. Do try it. It may be the rainbow you need to brush away present discouragement over your health condition.

Do not be blinded by the efforts of a few unethical dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.

S.S.S. the world's great blood medicine

Union Constable To Watch Hallowe'eners

Destructive and rowdy hallowe'en gangs in Union township had better keep out of the path of Constable Thomas O'Brien or else pay, through fines or possibly jail trips, a penalty for their malicious fun. O'Brien served such a notice today, and he intends to enforce the edict more vigorously this season.

He said that, like in New Castle, all children under 16 years of age must be inside by 9 p. m. each evening. They will be stopped when they are found outside.

Honesty may be a policy, as Franklin said. People let their policies lapse when they get hard up.

You never hear of a female Shylock. Imagine a woman wailing about losing a pound of flesh.

Weaker Whisky Alarms Ireland

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—Irish whiskey distillers are protesting a governmental proposal that their product be reduced to the strength of Scottish whiskey—from 24 degrees to 30 degrees "under proof."

The whiskey drinkers of the world have become used to Irish whiskey having a "kick" in it, they say, and it would do the Irish liquor industry no good to lower the strength to the Scottish level.

Defiant Warning Issued By Japan

Fleet Equal To U. S. And Britain Is Demand—May Start Naval Race

ALL LIMITATIONS MAY BE DISCARDED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A defiant warning that Japan will embark upon a "lone wolf" naval policy unless granted full equality with the British and American fleets was made in authoritative Japanese circles here.

The proposals which the Japanese delegation is making to the American and British representatives in London were outlined by these authoritative sources in a press conference initiated by them.

Japan was described as being determined to obtain the principle of full equality at all costs.

No Compromise.

Whether this warning was intended merely as a threat to influence the British and American governments to acquiesce to Japan's desire for naval equality or actually represented the intention of Tokyo remained to be seen. However, the Japanese sources sought to make it appear that Tokyo would accept no compromise on the question of equality.

Japan's position was outlined as a "take it or leave it" proposition. Either the United States and Britain would grant Japan the right to build a fleet as powerful as either the American or British or Japan would throw overboard all existing naval limitation treaties and build as it desired.

In this connection, it was reported Japan was entirely prepared to engage in a naval building race with the United States and Britain or both.

Abolish Capital Ships.

Japan, it was said, would like to see both the United States and Great Britain abolish all capital ships and airtraft carriers. This has been proposed by the Japanese delegation in London.

Japan, it was further stated, has reached the stage where it no longer is willing to concede naval superiority to either the United States or Britain. Tokyo's contention is that such superiority costs Japan loss of prestige in the eyes of China and may tempt the Chinese to attack her.

Furthermore, the Japanese were represented as failing to understand why the United States should wish to maintain a fleet stronger than their own if it not directed at them.

The intimation here was that Japan wishes to possess a free hand to do as she pleases in Asia and does not want to see any foreign fleet strong enough to interfere with her Asiatic policies.

James Hinish, proprietor of a gasoline station, Grant and Sampson streets, conferred informally with council relative to the action council ordered taken after it was alleged he had violated the law in reconstructing driveways. Following the conference, according to Streets Director Butler, the proprietor agreed to alleviate the situation according to the desires of council.

Police yesterday received word that schoolboys had set fire to leaves at Grant and North Mercer streets. A resident extinguished the blaze. This is a bad practice for the boys to start. Mr. Van Loon Says.

We Build Good Planes.

Why Pedro Jumped.

Quadruplets, All Died.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MR. VAN LOON, able writer, who is "Dutch," and proud of it, and doesn't want anybody to call him a Netherlander, or anything but just a plain "Dutchman", wishes this fact made clear.

The two Dutchmen that followed so closely behind the British winners of the 11,000-mile air race were really demonstrating serious flying. They did not fly any made-to-order racing machine,

They piloted a regular commercial plane, and they carried passengers, as airplanes should do. By the way, you should read Van Loon's article about the Pacific Ocean in the November Cosmopolitan Magazine. It will make you think hard.

BRITISH AVIATORS, interested in making flying pay for itself, say that the Dutch fliers' American machine, a Douglas air liner, with Wright cyclone motors, and the United States Boeing transport plane, in which Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn were trailing for third place, are "straight stock commercial planes."

The British race winner is a "bullet-like racer."

This doesn't take away from the credit of the plucky Englishmen or diminish in any way their marvelous performance in cutting the flying time from London to Australia by 100 hours. They made the flight to Darwin in 52 hours. But the race does show that private enterprise in the United States is able to build useful commercial planes.

THE LONDON Evening News says:

"We are miles behind other countries in commercial air transports. The race was an ordinary trip for the Douglas. The efficiency of American engines and aircraft was such that at no point did it have to stay long on the ground. Only one Royal Air Force fighting plane is as fast as this flying train. To compare it with our civil aircraft is too degrading."

Those that mourn the Americans' defeat may be comforted by that statement in a British newspaper.

WHILE THE swift planes were racing eleven thousand miles toward Australia, the Piccards made a successful ascent ten miles into the stratosphere—the first in which a woman has ever participated.

Dr. Piccard hoped to learn something more about the mysterious cosmic rays that, even as you read this, are drilling holes through your body at the rate of thousands a second, coming nobody knows whence. It is a complicated universe and we know little about it.

HERE IS a suicide story, brand new. Pedro Cirocito, fisherman of the Island of Cerralvo, found a pearl weighing 100 karats, thought it was worth $100,000. When, at La Paz, Lower California, dealers would give him only $1,000 for his pearl, Pedro hurled his pearl into the ocean, jumped in after it, was torn to pieces by sharks.

Moralists could have convinced him that $100,000, if he had got the money, would have done him no good. He did not wait.

PATRICK MULLIGAN, of New York, unemployed chauffeur, penniless, learned just before midnight that his wife, Cecelia, aged 25, had given birth to three boys and one girl in the Lincoln hospital, first quadruplets born in that hospital in more than 50 years.

The four babies, total weight only ten pounds, lived only four hours. Perhaps that illustrates the difference between the life chance of babies born in the city and babies born in the country air, as were the still living Dionne Canadian quintuplets.

THE BABIES were dead, they were small, but they must be buried, undertakers and burial plots must be paid for and Patrick Mulligan, in his small top floor apartment with no money, feared they would go to potters' field, which would break their mother's heart.

Publicity has power, however. Now a Bronx undertaker has come forward and offered his services without charge. As a result, the babies will receive a proper burial in a cemetery in consecrated ground.

WALTER WINCHELL, whose intellectual pabulum is exclusive information from the cradle to the grave, and even before the cradle, writes that inside information, which to his sorrow he cannot print, shows him that Hauptmann really is guilty of the Lindbergh kidnaping.

The suggestion made here that Hauptmann's friend, Fisch, who went to Germany and died there, might have left the ransom money with Hauptmann, is outside the realm of probability, according to Mr. Winchell.

Winchell, young and a good reporter, is probably right. But before executing Hauptmann somebody should be SURE that he is guilty.

PACIFIST LADIES and gentlemen who think the United States should promote peace by remaining unprepared, please read:

One of the best known men in the United States, perhaps THE best known man in the United States, next to the President, traveling in a crowded subway, felt the hand of a pickpocket stealing under his coat toward his wallet in his inside pocket.

The gentleman about to be robbed stood still, until, suddenly, the pickpocket's hand came in contact with "a gun" that the distinguished individual always carried.

THE EFFECT on the pickpocket was amusing and instantaneous. His face turned white, he withdrew his hand, suddenly, violently. The owner of the gun burst out laughing.

The effect of that gun on that pickpocket was exactly the same as the effect on foreign nations would be if they came prowing around here and found Uncle Sam in possession of a submarine fleet big enough to sink the commercial navies of the world and a fighting air fleet big enough to destroy the cities of any foolish attacking nation.

Such fleets of submarines and airplanes would have a remarkable protective effect IF Uncle Sam possessed them. Unfortunately, he is an unprotected infant, convinced that his eight billion dollar lump of gold in Washington and big bank deposits are all the protection he needs.

WASHINTON, where American bankers are gathered to discuss worries and sorrows, announces that the banks have "been assured of President Roosevelt's friendly help."

How are the mighty fallen! There was a time when presidents were assured of the bankers' friendly help, and the assurance made the presidents very happy.

BOYS CONFESS THEY CAUSED TRAIN WRECK

Two youths of Warren, O., one 12 years of age and the other 11, have confessed that they maliciously broke a switch lock and tampered it enough to wreck a Pennsylvania railroad freight train at North Warren last Sunday morning, Superintendent E. S. Reed of the Pennsylvania railroad was notified by Warren police authorities today.

The report also said another lad, aged nine, had confessed that he was an accessory.

Winchell, young and a good reporter, is probably right. But before executing Hauptmann somebody should be SURE that he is guilty.

PACIFIST LADIES and gentlemen who think the United States should promote peace by remaining unprepared, please read:

One of the best known men in the United States, perhaps THE best known man in the United States, next to the President, traveling in a crowded subway, felt the hand of a pickpocket stealing under his coat toward his wallet in his inside pocket.

The gentleman about to be robbed stood still, until, suddenly, the pickpocket's hand came in contact with "a gun" that the distinguished individual always carried.

THE EFFECT on the pickpocket was amusing and instantaneous. His face turned white, he withdrew his hand, suddenly, violently. The owner of the gun burst out laughing.

The effect of that gun on that pickpocket was exactly the same as the effect on foreign nations would be if they came prowing around here and found Uncle Sam in possession of a submarine fleet big enough to sink the commercial navies of the world and a fighting air fleet big enough to destroy the cities of any foolish attacking nation.

Such fleets of submarines and airplanes would have a remarkable protective effect IF Uncle Sam possessed them. Unfortunately, he is an unprotected infant, convinced that his eight billion dollar lump of gold in Washington and big bank deposits are all the protection he needs.

WASHINTON, where American bankers are gathered to discuss worries and sorrows, announces that the banks have "been assured of President Roosevelt's friendly help."

How are the mighty fallen! There was a time when presidents were assured of the bankers' friendly help, and the assurance made the presidents very happy.

Fourth Plane Arrives In Race

American Team Continues Race After Being Jailed In Persia

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Oct. 25.—A fourth plane, second to fly Britain's flag, breezed smoothly into Melbourne today as the century old state of Victoria started a round of honors and festivities for the winners in the 11,300 mile race.

Lieut. Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller arrived at 4:59 o'clock this morning (11:59 p. m. Wednesday, E. S. T.) their journey in a Dehavilland Comet like the machine that came in first almost exactly two days before, consumed 4 days, 22½ hours.

Although fourth, they were not certain of any prize, even one of the three in the handicap classification, since they lost time at Mount Isa, which is not a control point, and other machines close in their wake have greater time and other allowances.

Rested, bathed and shaven, their predecessors began enjoying the fruits of their victory.

Meanwhile, still winging eastward, although conceded little chance in the handicap event following their delay at Muhammerah, Persia, part of which they spent in jail, John H. Wright and John Polando landed at Bushire, Persia, at 8:04 p. m., E. S. T. Wednesday, after their release from jail through the intercession of British residents. They spent the night at Shaiba, near Basta.

Residents of Darwin were peering northward in expectation of the early arrival of squadron leader Malcolm MacGregor and Henry Walker of New Zealand. They left Batavia for the Australian landfall at 10:31 p. m. E. S. T. Wednesday.

MODERN YOUTH

The small boy had been naughty and was sent to his room as a punishment. He was so quiet that his parents went to see what he was doing and found him writing a letter.

"Is that a letter of apology?" they asked.

"If you want to know," he replied, "I'm writing to the archbishop to get a divorce from both of you!"

Representations Made To Japan

U. S. Protests Oil Monopoly By Japanese In Manchukuo Against Supply Reserve

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—The United States government has made formal representations to Japan against the proposed Japanese oil monopoly in Manchukuo, it was learned authoritatively today.

This government also has made formal representations to Tokyo against the Japanese demands that American, as well as British and Dutch oil companies, maintain a six-months supply reserve in Japan at all times.

So far, the Japanese government has failed to give any satisfactory reply to the representations and the United States is still pressing the issue.

Gasoline Prices In East Lowered

Gas Sells For 11 Cents Per Gallon In Philadelphia—Camden, N. J., Is Eight

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—With gasoline selling at 11 cents a gallon in Philadelphia and eights cents a gallon in Camden, N. J., independent gasoline dealers of this area awaited action on their plea to President Robsevelt to end the price-slashing war.

The appeal to the President, in the form of a telegram representing 200 independent dealers in this area, stated:

"The price war of the petroleum industry was started deliberately by major petroleum interests as a camouflage for their real purpose—to eliminate independent competition and thus force the eventual raising of prices."

Meanwhile, gasoline was quoted at 12½ cents by the Sun, Standard and Vacuum companies. The Sinclair Company maintained a 12-cent rate, the lowest among the large companies.

Gasoline Price War Goes On As Motorists Cheer

Gasoline Price Is Reduced To 12 And One-Half Cents In Pittsburgh Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—This city's gasoline price war went on relentlessly today as Gulf and Standard Oil cracked their prices another half-cent a gallon.

The latest slash brings the price down to 12½ cents a gallon, including four cents in taxes. The new price is a reduction of 5½ cents in the last two weeks.

Civil War In Spain Fatal To Estimated 2,500

(International News Service)

MADRID, Oct. 25.—More than 2,500 persons were killed in the Asturian provinces during the recent civil war, Madrid newspapers estimated today on the basis of first reports received from a government commission investigating the situation.

The Asturias were the center of the bitterest fighting of the entire revolt, hostilities in these provinces lasting long after the revolt had been quelled elsewhere. The large city of Oviedo was in the hands of rebels for more than a week.

Minnesota Woman Is Re-named President

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Oct. 25.—Mrs. A. C. Carlson, of Willmar, Minn., was elected national president of the American Legion auxiliary today. It was unanimous when her only opponent, Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, of Seattle, withdrew.

On Court House Hill

Ray Aylesworth, receiver of the Pittsburg company of Ellwood City, has presented a petition to court, asking the approval of a sale of property on Orchard avenue to Howard Duncan for $3600. There is a building and loan mortgage on the property, and an application in to refinance through the Home Owners Loan Association. Hearing will be held on November 5 on the question of whether or not the receiver will be allowed to go through with the deal as proposed, as there are other claims against the property.

Extension of time during which county taxes can be paid at their face expires on December 1, according to County Treasurer William O. Pitts. At that time the duplicates will go into the hands of the delinquent tax collector. The delinquent collector usually gets the duplicate on September 1, but this year the county commissioners and the treasurer, granted an extension until December 1. The majority of property owners who could raise the money paid in time to get the discount of five per cent. Since taxes became payable at face the payments have been slow, although it is said that considerable more than fifty per cent of the taxes have been paid.

While scanning an election proclamation at the prothonotary's office yesterday Attorney Norman A. Martin observed that it is the first time in several years that a state ballot has not contained some proposed amendments to the Pennsylvania constitution to be voted on. This year there will be nothing on the ballot but the list of candidates, and the local option issue in twelve districts and the issue of voting machines and swimming pool in New Wilmington. The ballot is smaller than usual and will be an easy one counted after votes are cast.

Tomorrow the Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund will open their new headquarters provided by the county commissioners in the Welfare department building. It will be the first time that the board has had a regular headquarters, the work heretofore having been conducted from homes of the members. From this headquarters the acts relating to pensions for mothers, the blind and the aged, will be administered in the future. Probably the greatest immediate work will be in connection with the aged, as there will not be so many of the blind to look after, and the mothers' fund has been in operation for some time.

Pensions for the aged will be available to those who have reached the age of seventy years. The requirements are that the applicant shall have been a citizen of the United States for fifteen years and a resident of the commonwealth for 15 years. It must also be shown that the applicant has no child able to support him or her, or other relatives able to bear the burden. The maximum pension is $30 per month, and $45 is the maximum for a husband and wife who have each reached 70 years or upwards. The person who accepts the pension is not eligible for help from any other charitable institution. It is anticipated that the board will have a busy time, once the headquarters are opened.

The amount of outstanding delinquent county taxes is now around $800,000, according to the best estimates. This is more than the total tax levy for one whole year, the levy for last year being around $760,000. As penalties are added to the amount of outstanding delinquent tax, the amount is steadily increasing. Suggestions have been made that if a moratorium were declared on the outstanding delinquent taxes, and those who owe permitted to pay them at face, without penalties, it would result in a large proportion of the delinquencies being met, as taxpayers would no doubt make special efforts to get the money. Such a course might draw criticism from those who have been able to pay their taxes, but even they would be helped, as by getting the delinquent tax into the treasury, the county commissioners would be able to decrease the tax millage for a year at least.

It can be readily seen that if even half of the delinquent taxes could be collected before 1935, the county commissioners would have $400,000 on hand, and it would not be necessary to levy $760,000, the amount necessary to meet expenses next year. Owing to economic conditions the county treasurer has held no tax sales for several years, but in 1935 it will be necessary to hold sales, unless there is some change in the laws. The present law provides that tax sales must be held at least every five years. County Treasurer Pitts stated today that he believes there has been more delinquent taxes in the past four years than in the twenty years preceding. It is a serious problem, and if there is any way that the situation can be relieved, it ought to be adopted. The plan suggested above of giving a moratorium and allowing delinquent taxes to be paid at face for a certain length of time, has been tried in several places and has been found to work out satisfactorily. Whether it could now be legally done in this state, has not been determined, but many believe that an emergency exists that should come before the next session of the legislature, if necessary. The above figures do not take into account the large amount of city and school tax delinquent.

Extension of time during which county taxes can be paid at their face expires on December 1, according to County Treasurer William O. Pitts. At that time the duplicates will go into the hands of the delinquent tax collector. The delinquent collector usually gets the duplicate on September 1, but this year the county commissioners and the treasurer, granted an extension until December 1. The majority of property owners who could raise the money paid in time to get the discount of five per cent. Since taxes became payable at face the payments have been slow, although it is said that considerable more than fifty per cent of the taxes have been paid.

While scanning an election proclamation at the prothonotary's office yesterday Attorney Norman A. Martin observed that it is the first time in several years that a state ballot has not contained some proposed amendments to the Pennsylvania constitution to be voted on. This year there will be nothing on the ballot but the list of candidates, and the local option issue in twelve districts and the issue of voting machines and swimming pool in New Wilmington. The ballot is smaller than usual and will be an easy one counted after votes are cast.

Tomorrow the Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund will open their new headquarters provided by the county commissioners in the Welfare department building. It will be the first time that the board has had a regular headquarters, the work heretofore having been conducted from homes of the members. From this headquarters the acts relating to pensions for mothers, the blind and the aged, will be administered in the future. Probably the greatest immediate work will be in connection with the aged, as there will not be so many of the blind to look after, and the mothers' fund has been in operation for some time.

Pensions for the aged will be available to those who have reached the age of seventy years. The requirements are that the applicant shall have been a citizen of the United States for fifteen years and a resident of the commonwealth for 15 years. It must also be shown that the applicant has no child able to support him or her, or other relatives able to bear the burden. The maximum pension is $30 per month, and $45 is the maximum for a husband and wife who have each reached 70 years or upwards. The person who accepts the pension is not eligible for help from any other charitable institution. It is anticipated that the board will have a busy time, once the headquarters are opened.

The amount of outstanding delinquent county taxes is now around $800,000, according to the best estimates. This is more than the total tax levy for one whole year, the levy for last year being around $760,000. As penalties are added to the amount of outstanding delinquent tax, the amount is steadily increasing. Suggestions have been made that if a moratorium were declared on the outstanding delinquent taxes, and those who owe permitted to pay them at face, without penalties, it would result in a large proportion of the delinquencies being met, as taxpayers would no doubt make special efforts to get the money. Such a course might draw criticism from those who have been able to pay their taxes, but even they would be helped, as by getting the delinquent tax into the treasury, the county commissioners would be able to decrease the tax millage for a year at least.

It can be readily seen that if even half of the delinquent taxes could be collected before 1935, the county commissioners would have $400,000 on hand, and it would not be necessary to levy $760,000, the amount necessary to meet expenses next year. Owing to economic conditions the county treasurer has held no tax sales for several years, but in 1935 it will be necessary to hold sales, unless there is some change in the laws. The present law provides that tax sales must be held at least every five years. County Treasurer Pitts stated today that he believes there has been more delinquent taxes in the past four years than in the twenty years preceding. It is a serious problem, and if there is any way that the situation can be relieved, it ought to be adopted. The plan suggested above of giving a moratorium and allowing delinquent taxes to be paid at face for a certain length of time, has been tried in several places and has been found to work out satisfactorily. Whether it could now be legally done in this state, has not been determined, but many believe that an emergency exists that should come before the next session of the legislature, if necessary. The above figures do not take into account the large amount of city and school tax delinquent.

Defiant Warning Issued By Japan

ALL LIMITATIONS MAY BE DISCARDED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A defiant warning that Japan will embark upon a "lone wolf" naval policy unless granted full equality with the British and American fleets was made in authoritative Japanese circles here.

The proposals which the Japanese delegation is making to the American and British representatives in London were outlined by these authoritative sources in a press conference initiated by them.

Japan was described as being determined to obtain the principle of full equality at all costs.

No Compromise.

Whether this warning was intended merely as a threat to influence the British and American governments to acquiesce to Japan's desire for naval equality or actually represented the intention of Tokyo remained to be seen. However, the Japanese sources sought to make it appear that Tokyo would accept no compromise on the question of equality.

Japan's position was outlined as a "take it or leave it" proposition. Either the United States and Britain would grant Japan the right to build a fleet as powerful as either the American or British or Japan would throw overboard all existing naval limitation treaties and build as it desired.

In this connection, it was reported Japan was entirely prepared to engage in a naval building race with the United States and Britain or both.

Abolish Capital Ships.

Japan, it was said, would like to see both the United States and Great Britain abolish all capital ships and airtraft carriers. This has been proposed by the Japanese delegation in London.

Japan, it was further stated, has reached the stage where it no longer is willing to concede naval superiority to either the United States or Britain. Tokyo's contention is that such superiority costs Japan loss of prestige in the eyes of China and may tempt the Chinese to attack her.

Furthermore, the Japanese were represented as failing to understand why the United States should wish to maintain a fleet stronger than their own if it not directed at them.

The intimation here was that Japan wishes to possess a free hand to do as she pleases in Asia and does not want to see any foreign fleet strong enough to interfere with her Asiatic policies.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 24, 11 arrests on charges as follows: Violating traffic regulations 7 and exceeding speed limit 4.

Arrests and receipts for the past 24 hours showed a decrease. No accidents were reported during the 24-hour period ending at 3:30 p. m. October 24, and receipts amounted to approximately $55.

James Hinish, proprietor of a gasoline station, Grant and Sampson streets, conferred informally with council relative to the action council ordered taken after it was alleged he had violated the law in reconstructing driveways. Following the conference, according to Streets Director Butler, the proprietor agreed to alleviate the situation according to the desires of council.

Police yesterday received word that schoolboys had set fire to leaves at Grant and North Mercer streets. A resident extinguished the blaze. This is a bad practice for the boys to start. An automobile may pass over the leaves in which fire still smoulders and in doing so might set fire to the the car.

Mr. Van Loon Says.

We Build Good Planes.

Why Pedro Jumped.

Quadruplets, All Died.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MR. VAN LOON, able writer, who is "Dutch," and proud of it, and doesn't want anybody to call him a Netherlander, or anything but just a plain "Dutchman", wishes this fact made clear.

The two Dutchmen that followed so closely behind the British winners of the 11,000-mile air race were really demonstrating serious flying. They did not fly any made-to-order racing machine.

They piloted a regular commercial plane, and they carried passengers, as airplanes should do. By the way, you should read Van Loon's article about the Pacific Ocean in the November Cosmopolitan Magazine. It will make you think hard.

BRITISH AVIATORS, interested in making flying pay for itself, say that the Dutch fliers' American machine, a Douglas air liner, with Wright cyclone motors, and the United States Boeing transport plane, in which Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn were trailing for third place, are "straight stock commercial planes."

The British race winner is a "bullet-like racer."

This doesn't take away from the credit of the plucky Englishmen or diminish in any way their marvelous performance in cutting the flying time from London to Australia by 100 hours. They made the flight to Darwin in 52 hours. But the race does show that private enterprise in the United States is able to build useful commercial planes.

THE LONDON Evening News says: "We are miles behind other countries in commercial air transports. The race was an ordinary trip for the Douglas. The efficiency of American engines and aircraft was such that at no point did it have to stay long on the ground. Only one Royal Air Force fighting plane is as fast as this flying train. To compare it with our civil aircraft is too degrading."

Those that mourn the Americans' defeat may be comforted by that statement in a British newspaper.

WHILE THE swift planes were racing eleven thousand miles toward Australia, the Piccards made a successful ascent ten miles into the stratosphere—the first in which a woman has ever participated.

Dr. Piccard hoped to learn something more about the mysterious cosmic rays that, even as you read this, are drilling holes through your body at the rate of thousands a second, coming nobody knows whence. It is a complicated universe and we know little about it.

HERE IS a suicide story, brand new. Pedro Circcito, fisherman of the Island of Cerralvo, found a pearl weighing 100 karats, thought it was worth $100,000. When, at La Paz, Lower California, dealers would give him only $1,000 for his pearl, Pedro hurled his pearl into the ocean, jumped in after it, was torn to pieces by sharks.

Moralists could have convinced him that $100,000, if he had got the money, would have done him no good. He did not wait.

PATRICK MULLIGAN, of New York, unemployed chauffeur, penniless, learned just before midnight that his wife, Cecelia, aged 25, had given birth to three boys and one girl in the Lincoln hospital, first quadruplets born in that hospital in more than 50 years.

The four babies, total weight only ten pounds, lived only four hours. Perhaps that illustrates the difference between the life chance of babies born in the city and babies born in the country air, as were the still living Dionne Canadian quintuplets.

THE BABIES were dead, they were small, but they must be buried, undertakers and burial plots must be paid for and Patrick Mulligan, in his small top floor apartment with no money, feared they would go to potters' field, which would break their mother's heart.

Publicity has power, however. Now a Bronx undertaker has come forward and offered his services without charge. As a result, the babies will receive a proper burial in a cemetery in consecrated ground.

WALTER WINCHELL, whose intellectual pabulum is exclusive information from the cradle to the grave, and even before the cradle, writes that inside information, which to his sorrow he cannot print, shows him that Hauptmann really is guilty of the Lindbergh kidnaping.

The suggestion made here that Hauptmann's friend, Fisch, who went to Germany and died there, might have left the ransom money with Hauptmann, is outside the realm of probability, according to Mr. Winchell.

Winchell, young and a good reporter, is probably right. But before executing Hauptmann somebody should be SURE that he is guilty.

PACIFIST LADIES and gentlemen who think the United States should promote peace by remaining unprepared, please read:

One of the best known men in the United States, perhaps THE best known man in the United States, next to the President, traveling in a crowded subway, felt the hand of a pickpocket stealing under his coat toward his wallet in his inside pocket.

The gentleman about to be robbed stood still, until, suddenly, the pickpocket's hand came in contact with "a gun" that the distinguished individual always carried.

THE EFFECT on the pickpocket was amusing and instantaneous. His face turned white, he withdrew his hand, suddenly, violently. The owner of the gun burst out laughing.

The effect of that gun on that pickpocket was exactly the same as the effect on foreign nations would be if they came prowing around here and found Uncle Sam in possession of a submarine fleet big enough to sink the commercial navies of the world and a fighting air fleet big enough to destroy the cities of any foolish attacking nation.

Such fleets of submarines and airplanes would have a remarkable protective effect IF Uncle Sam possessed them. Unfortunately, he is an unprotected infant, convinced that his eight billion dollar lump of gold in Washington and big bank deposits are all the protection he needs.

WASHINTON, where American bankers are gathered to discuss worries and sorrows, announces that the banks have "been assured of President Roosevelt's friendly help."

How are the mighty fallen! There was a time when presidents were assured of the bankers' friendly help, and the assurance made the presidents very happy.

On Court House Hill

Ray Aylesworth, receiver of the Pittsburg company of Ellwood City, has presented a petition to court, asking the approval of a sale of property on Orchard avenue to Howard Duncan for $3600. There is a building and loan mortgage on the property, and an application in to refinance through the Home Owners Loan Association. Hearing will be held on November 5 on the question of whether or not the receiver will be allowed to go through with the deal as proposed, as there are other claims against the property.

Extension of time during which county taxes can be paid at their face expires on December 1, according to County Treasurer William O. Pitts. At that time the duplicates will go into the hands of the delinquent tax collector. The delinquent collector usually gets the duplicate on September 1, but this year the county commissioners and the treasurer, granted an extension until December 1. The majority of property owners who could raise the money paid in time to get the discount of five per cent. Since taxes became payable at face the payments have been slow, although it is said that considerable more than fifty per cent of the taxes have been paid.

While scanning an election proclamation at the prothonotary's office yesterday Attorney Norman A. Martin observed that it is the first time in several years that a state ballot has not contained some proposed amendments to the Pennsylvania constitution to be voted on. This year there will be nothing on the ballot but the list of candidates, and the local option issue in twelve districts and the issue of voting machines and swimming pool in New Wilmington. The ballot is smaller than usual and will be an easy one counted after votes are cast.

Tomorrow the Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund will open their new headquarters provided by the county commissioners in the Welfare department building. It will be the first time that the board has had a regular headquarters, the work heretofore having been conducted from homes of the members. From this headquarters the acts relating to pensions for mothers, the blind and the aged, will be administered in the future. Probably the greatest immediate work will be in connection with the aged, as there will not be so many of the blind to look after, and the mothers' fund has been in operation for some time.

Pensions for the aged will be available to those who have reached the age of seventy years. The requirements are that the applicant shall have been a citizen of the United States for fifteen years and a resident of the commonwealth for 15 years. It must also be shown that the applicant has no child able to support him or her, or other relatives able to bear the burden. The maximum pension is $30 per month, and $45 is the maximum for a husband and wife who have each reached 70 years or upwards. The person who accepts the pension is not eligible for help from any other charitable institution. It is anticipated that the board will have a busy time, once the headquarters are opened.

The amount of outstanding delinquent county taxes is now around $800,000, according to the best estimates. This is more than the total tax levy for one whole year, the levy for last year being around $760,000. As penalties are added to the amount of outstanding delinquent tax, the amount is steadily increasing. Suggestions have been made that if a moratorium were declared on the outstanding delinquent taxes, and those who owe permitted to pay them at face, without penalties, it would result in a large proportion of the delinquencies being met, as taxpayers would no doubt make special efforts to get the money. Such a course might draw criticism from those who have been able to pay their taxes, but even they would be helped, as by getting the delinquent tax into the treasury, the county commissioners would be able to decrease the tax millage for a year at least.

It can be readily seen that if even half of the delinquent taxes could be collected before 1935, the county commissioners would have $400,000 on hand, and it would not be necessary to levy $760,000, the amount necessary to meet expenses next year. Owing to economic conditions the county treasurer has held no tax sales for several years, but in 1935 it will be necessary to hold sales, unless there is some change in the laws. The present law provides that tax sales must be held at least every five years. County Treasurer Pitts stated today that he believes there has been more delinquent taxes in the past four years than in the twenty years preceding. It is a serious problem, and if there is any way that the situation can be relieved, it ought to be adopted. The plan suggested above of giving a moratorium and allowing delinquent taxes to be paid at face for a certain length of time, has been tried in several places and has been found to work out satisfactorily. Whether it could now be legally done in this state, has not been determined, but many believe that an emergency exists that should come before the next session of the legislature, if necessary. The above figures do not take into account the large amount of city and school tax delinquent.

New Castle High Eleven Drills On New Intricate Plays

Game At Warren To Start At 8 O'clock, Field Is Well Lighted

When New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team takes the field at Warren, Ohio, Friday night to do battle with the powerful Warren High Presidents, they will do so with many new intricate plays at their command. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Bridenbaugh realizing that after two or three weeks of scouting Warren high coach Pierre Hill would know practically every move the locals made, has changed the manner of attack almost entirely.

"Phil" dug deep into the bag of tricks to pull out some "foolers." New Castle has not used much this year in the games except an off-tackle thrust, and a few simple forward passes. Warren high can expect to face a tricky New Castle high eleven.

Regulars In Shape

It is going to take New Castle wits to upset that big Warren high team. Sheer power and strength is with the Ohioans. New Castle will be outweighed about 10 pounds per man, on an average.

Every one of the New Castle regulars is in the best of shape for the Warren game. Fleming and Wisosky have rejoined the squad and big "Gob" Palkovitch is back in uniform.

The Warren team will wear white jerseys with red numbers and the New Castle team will wear their flaming red jerseys with white numbers. It is understood that the Warren high Harding field is one of the best lighted fields in this part of the country.

PITT GAME WILL START AT 2:30

The Pitt-Westminster football game to be played at Taggart stadium on Saturday afternoon will start at 2:30 o'clock, it is announced by the Westminster college authorities.

Allegheny, Grove City Will Battle At Meadville, Pa.

District Colleges Will Tangle On Football Field; Grovers Are Favored

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 25—One of the oldest and finest of small college football rivalries will be renewed this Saturday on Montgomery Field when Allegheny takes on Bill Amos' well-coached Grove City team before a Homecoming crowd that is expected to break all records of recent games.

Coach Tippin and his assistant, Art Daniels, have been grooming the Allegheny squad carefully for this contest for it means much not only to the undergraduate but to the many alumni who will return for the game carrying memories of many other well fought games between the two teams.

Grove City will enter the contest as the favorite because of their record to date which consists of an easy opening win over Holbrook, an 18-0 decision over a strong Slippery Rock team and a 30-0 romp over John Knight's Bethany Bisons. Allegheny on the other hand, can only show a 6-0 win over Clarion, a 7-7 tie with Alfred and a 21-0 loss to Dickinson.

Geneva, Wesleyan To Play Friday

Geneva Hopes To Break Into Victory Column In Game With Mountaineers

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 25—For the second week in succession Geneva College will oppose one of the strongest teams in the Tri-State district. The West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats have already taken the measure of New York University in a decisive manner and will be out to avenge the Geneva-Wesleyan game of last season in which they were defeated in the last quarter only after a terrific struggle. Coach Cebe Ross has rounded out a strong squad which is composed of nine three year varsity men and a wealth of other valuable material.

Last year Len Barnum, 195 pound fullback, was the mainstay of the team. Barnum beside placing on the West Virginia All Star Team last season, received honorable mention on the All-American Board. He is a triple threat performer who will bear constant watching in the coming encounter.

"Shatter" Nelson, 190 pound sophomore halfback is giving Barnum valuable assistance this season as he is a shifty ball carrier and accurate passer, scoring two touchdowns against N. Y. U.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Gallant Sir, famous stake horse and winner of $116,000 has gone into training in preparation for his entry in the Los Angeles and Bay Meadows meets this winter, according to dispatches from San Jose where Norman W. Church has his stables. The veteran trainer, E. L. Fitzgerald, armed with 35 years experience declares Gallant Sir the greatest and meanest horse he ever trained. He said recently that "many a day when we start working him he refuses to breese either way of the track and we have to take him round to the barrier to start him. If he had a disposition like Riskulus he would be the greatest horse in the world. In spite of this Fitzgerald has trained the horse ever since Church purchased Gallant Sir in 1930 from A. B. Hancock as a yearling. "The boss passed him up and I kept bringing him back to look the cold over. Finally the horse was developed and he came through and is the only horse to win the Caliente handicap two years in succession.

Death played its part in horse racing this year and three of the stars which died were Mrs. J. Bosley's Chase Me which met an untimely death on the threshold of a great career: Sylvester Labrot's Springsteel, which had been 1 of the country's most noted sprinters and Wheatley Stable's Dark Secret which died in one of the gamest finishes ever seen on the American turf when he staggered across the finish line on three legs after breaking one to win the Jockey Club Gold cup at Belmont park. Sickness and injury kept many good horses inactive. Hoof trouble kept Equipoise out of action after he had been primed for a final onslaught on the world's money-winning title. He went bad at the Suburban Handicap at Belmont. Cavalcade and High Quest went bad after a successful season.

He never played a game of intercollegiate football in his life but they call him the "miracle man of football." His name is 'Babe' Hollingberry of San Francisco. He coached Lick-Wilmering high at San Francisco and produced prep elevens that won state titles. He mentored the Olympic Club team which halted the five year winning streak of the University of California after which he went to Washington State and in 1930 captured the first Pacific Coast conference title. This season the Washington State eleven seems destined for the championship again as Southern California was humbled 19 to 0.

Luis Carpentero knocked out Charlie Kennedy in three rounds at Newport, Ky. The Filipino has been quiet for some time but he still has his punch.

Miss Barbara Ransom, of Stockton, Cal., won from Mrs. Philip Atwood, Chicago, former western open champion, 3 and 1, in the second round of the women's western golf tourney yesterday. The defending champion, Miss Lucille Robinson, of Des Moines, Ia., beat Mrs. O. J. Woerner, of Los Angeles, 1 up.

Sport Lovers To Pay Over Billion

All Forms Of Sports Will Draw Tremendous Crowds, Gate Receipts Soar

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The sporting proclivities of Uncle Sam's sport loving children will cost them over a billion bucks this year.

You think that's an exaggeration? Shucks, I can find you any number of race track men who will assure you that much at least is bet on races in this country.

How much is bet on all kinds of sports events nobody knows. The exact figures probably would stagger the imagination. Certainly, at a most conservative estimate, the amount would be sufficient to pay off the war debt of many a small nation.

Pay Enormous Sums.

Why, even the gates at sports events this year—and surely 1934 is not to be compared with some of the banner years when everybody seemed to have money to toss around—will exceed $100,000,000.

Football fans alone will pay not less than $25,000,000 to see their favorite sport this fall. That seems a staggering figure until you take your pencil in hand. Let's figure a bit.

Last Satruday 17 colleges drew 500,000 who padi—to be extremely conservative—not less than $1 a head. There's half a million for just 17 games. But there are about 300 college games every Saturday. Let the average attendance be only 2,000 at $1 a copy. Now multiply that by eight or ten Saturdays.

And, mind you, this doesn't begin to take into consideration the hundreds of high school and prep school and professional football games every week. Individually, these games may not run into important money but when you lump them all together, the figures are startling.

Fights used to draw tremendous gates but the biggest one of the year—the Carnera-Baer title fight—drew only a little over $400,000.

Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, is authority for the statement that fight fans will not lay more than $3,000,000 on the line this year for their favorite sport.

Ball Games Draw.

The major league ball clubs will total about $10,000,000 on the year and minor league, college and semi-pro games another $5,000,000.

Hockey—majors, minors, collegiate and amateur—will easily gross $2,000,000.

Track meets, tennis, pro and amateur—golf, wrestling and other sports will add several million more to the total.

Then there is horse racing. With at least four tracks running somewhere the year round and with several thousand for a daily average, you can readily see where many more millions are added.

Among Pitt Stars Here Saturday

Art Detzel

Izzy Weinstock

"Doc" Hartwig

Powerful factors in the showing of the University of Pittsburgh Panther this year are these three stars. The man carrying the ball is Izzy Weinstock, line-smashing star of Coach Jock Sutherland's backfield. Art Detzel, top, and "Doc" Hartwig, below, are being mentioned as All-American guard possibilities for their strong line play. Fullback Weinstock also is under All-American scrutiny.

HALFBACK ON TITAN TEAM

RAY SWEENEY, Youngstown, O., South high product, is playing his fourth year on the Westminster college grid team. Ray has been quarterback and left halfback, and has been one of the outstanding Titan players ever since he entered college. Although he weighs less than 150 pounds, he has broken away for long runs in almost every game in which he has played. His size does not seem to bother him in sports (He's about 5 ft. 6), for he has won three letters in football, three in basketball, and two in track.

SWEENEY

Mike DeCarbo On Freshman Eleven

Louis Sorto of Superior street, former New Castle high grid star, received word on Wednesday morning from South Bend, Ind., that Mike DeCarbo of East Lutton street, who also is a former New Castle gridder, was successful in making the Notre Dame freshman eleven.

The local lineman plays right guard. The freshman team opposes the Notre Dame regulars several times a week.

Gridiron Rivals To Play Saturday

Binder And Beres, New Castle Boys, Guards At Grove City On Injured List

GROVE CITY, Oct. 25.—Traditional rivals who have not met on the gridiron since 1931, will resume competition Saturday at Meadville when Grove City and Allegheny play their 40th football game. With hardly an interruption since the first game in 1899, the long series of games furnished the outstanding attraction of the season, and the rivalry has persisted through the three-year lay-off.

For the first time this season scrimmage has been taboo in the Crimson camp this week. This has not been to the liking of Coach Amos, who preferred to iron out serious flaws in actual competition, but the physical condition of the squad will not permit him to take chances. Orris, halfback, and Binder and Beres, guards, acquired injuries last week reqiring attention, and Soich, end, and Gross, halfback, are not improved sufficiently to take part in active work. So, the week is being spent developing deception in the attack, checking up on plays which have not worked satisfactorily, and in handling the ball. The Crimson coach is not taking Allegheny lightly, although the Grovers are favored to win.

Grove City registered a major upset in gaining a 7-7 tie with Allegheny's great 1931 team, in the last meeting. All of the Methodist players of that year have passed out of the picture, but the Grovers will present three boys who as freshmen played in the last game. They are Beres, now a guard, and Tomko, who played ends, and Verne Smith, back.

WESTMINSTER QUARTERBACK

ARROWSMITH

BOB ARROWSMITH, Erie, Pa., a junior, has, following an operation on his throat, rounded into form and won the varsity quarterback berth at Westminster. Arrowsmith's triple-threat ability makes him a valuable man in the Titan backfield. He has speed, can pass and kick, and has the feel for the right play.

Albright Grid Coach Resigns

Coach Jay Kelchner Returns To Campus And Resigns Job, Had Severe Cold

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Oct 25—John W. Smith, formerly assistant coach of football at Albright College, today began his regime as head mentor in place of Jay Martin Kelchner whose absence of several days created a stir in college circles here.

The replacement followed Kelchner's resignation which was accepted by the Athletic council at a special meeting last night.

Kelchner, formerly connected with the coaching staff at the University of Pennsylvania, was reported missing by Rev. Dr. Warren F. Klein, president of the institute after last Friday night's game with Muhlenberg College at Allentown. His return to the Albright campus yesterday abruptly ended a statewide search.

Kelchner explained his disappearance by saying he had been in Philadelphia recuperating from a severe cold contracted Saturday while "scouting the Ursinus-Franklin and Marshal game at Collegeville, Saturday."

Sign New Players For Castlewood

Miller club of Castlewood will play a return football game with the Hazel Dell Scholastics at the Castlewood baseball field at 3 p. m. Saturday. Last Saturday Hazel Dell won 7 to 6 in a good game. There is plenty of rivalry between the elevens. Castlewood has signed several new players, it was reported today.

Correct this sentence: "They are quitting good jobs," said the critic, "to go on relief."

How To Get To Football Field At Warren, Ohio

New Castle football fans who will go to Warren, Ohio, Friday night for the big Warren-New Castle football battle, will use two routes to reach Warren. The question has been asked, "where is the Warren High field located?

—Here 'tis—

Going into Warren on Route 422 follow 422 until you come to Elm street and turn right and go north on Elm street and direct to field.

Going in on Route 82—go to Elm street and turn right, going northeast.

There will be signs showing the way to the field.

Policemen will be stationed along the two routes to direct the New Castle fans.

The game starts at 8 p. m.

Suggests Route 82

B. N. Harlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club today recommended a route to Warren, O., for the football fans on Friday night that will take them directly to the Warren stadium where New Castle plays.

The route recommended is 35 miles in length. Take Route 422 to Coitsville, then turn right and go into Hubbard, O. At Hubbard take Ohio Route 7 to Brookfield, turn left onto Route 82 and on to Warren. Upon entering Warren follow No. 82 to the junction of 82 and 86, turn right on Route 5 and follow through to the stadium.

Fine Parking Space

Ample parking space is provided on the school property and all visitors should avail themselves of this parking space as the school will have the grounds properly policed and the police department will have the surrounding grounds properly policed.

The Warren Motor club will have the streets entering Warren properly marked enabling visitors to follow a direct route to the stadium.

Pitt-Westminster Game Here Saturday Will Be Colorful

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 25—Looking ahead to four important grid games with colleges of its own class, Westminster will try to make a good showing against Pitt Saturday at Taggart stadium, New Castle and at the same time, to avoid any possible injury.

With the important Grove City battle carded for November 3, and with contests scheduled with Waynesburg, Muskingum, and Geneva on succeeding weekends, the Titans hope to come out of the Pitt encounted with all players in shape to do their best against small-college rivals.

Light Drills

Light drills held so far this week have seen a number of the leading Titan players taking things rather easy. The reason is that at least five players were injured in the hard Thiel game on Saturday, and Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane are taking no chances of adding to the injuries.

Coach Jock Sutherland, of the Panthers has said that he will start the same eleven men who faced Minnesota last Saturday, while Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane will probably start the same team which faced Thiel at the pickoff. Pitt will have a squad of at least 45 men in New Castle for the contest while Westminster will have 32 players.

Pitt Band To Play

Professor Donald O. Cameron, band master at Westminster, together with Donald Donaldson and Bruce Bower, cheer leaders, is planning music, parades and other features to add color to the New Castle contest. The Pitt band of 100 pieces will be on hand. Pitt officials state, and the Westminster band of 40 pieces will also be present. The Westminster cheering section, composed of 700 students and faculty, will occupy a special block of seats.

After having stacked up against Fordham's big team in New York City, the Titans feel that they can stand another hard game. This contest, provided it does not result in injuries to Titan players, will serve to roughen the Westminster outfit for district contests even more than an easy game would do. While it will provide little opportunity for offense, it should help in developing defensive tactics.

Titans In Blue

Westminster will wear royal blue jerseys in the contest, while Pitt probably wear white jerseys. The Titans will use the stadium dressing room, and the team will use the bench on the stadium side of the field. Pitt will use the Benjamin Franklin junior high dressing rooms and will be seated on the eastern side of the field.

Westminster students will enter the North gate, and will sit in section 2. The Westminster band will be seated on the band platform in front of section 2. Pitt's band will occupy special bleacher seats in front of section 4. New Castle high school's football squad and coaches will also have special bleacher seats in front of section 3.

PRINCETON'S PREMATURE WORRY

It seems that Princeton's uneasiness over the bouquets being tossed to Pitt and Minnesota is just a little bit untimely. Before last Saturday's games, Coach Crisler appeared a little upset because the Tigers were being given the cold shoulder when championship football teams were being written or talked about.

However, after the Jersey entry's performance last Saturday against W. & L., it appears that, perhaps, Fritz Crisler was crossing bridges too soon because Princeton may not have any Pasadena bouquets to worry about. The Tigers are undefeated, yes, but so are Grove City, Penn State, St. Vincent's and others. Yet, these teams, though they have played teams in the class of Amherst and Williams, aren't clamoring for Rose Bowl bids.

Hand Princeton the schedule of either Pitt or Minnesota and the Tigers would have been beaten at least once by this time with the worst yet to come. Just imagine what the Gophers or Panthers would do to a string of opponents like Amherst, Williams, Washington and Lee, Cornell, Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth. There wouldn't be a real workout on the schedule until Yale and Dartmouth were met, and they could be taken in stride.

I don't mean to say that Princeton hasn't a good football team because they have. However, they are some distance from being the best in the nation. Even if they do go through the season undefeated, I still think that Pitt, Minnesota, Illinois, Tulane, Duke and a few others are better.

However, the possibility of their completing the schedule with a clean slate now seems very remote. The consecutive victory pressure which was turned on last season, now appears to be getting the best of them. Their case is parallel to that of last season's Southern California team which won a few games unimpressively and then were tied by Oregon State. On the following Saturday they were defeated by a Stanford team which at that time seemed, at least on paper, inferior to Jones' men.

But that defeat was all the Trojans needed: the pressure was relieved and they again were winning ball games decisively. Had Oregon State defeated the Trojans instead of only deadlocking them, it is very likely that the House of Troy would have beaten Stanford on the following Saturday.

Such is the case with the Princeton Tigers. If one of the weaker teams, Cornell or Harvard, polish them off they may find the stuff to beat Yale and Dartmouth. If not, however, either of these, especially the latter, will probably trim the Tigers' claws.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

When Marty Brill finished his college career at Notre Dame, he went to Columbia as assistant coach to Lou Little. Now Marty while at Notre Dame, became accustomed to football squads with at least a hundred members.

So when he reported to Little on the first day, Marty looked over the players and turned to Lou:

"That's a pretty fair bunch of halfbacks we've got to work with," he said.

"Halfbacks nothin' " replied Lou, "that's everything—halfbacks, fullbacks, tackles, guards, end coaches, line coaches and a few interested alumni."

Syndicate Club Names Officers

Charles Scaglione Heads New South Side Athletic Club

On Wednesday evening at 711 South Mill street, members of the Syndicate club, an athletic organization, which was started recently, elected officers for the remainder of this year and for 1935.

Charles Scaglione, well known baseball, football and mushball star, was elected president; Frank Isabella was named vice president; Frank Christopher is treasurer; Fred Marcella was elected secretary of correspondence, and the following were named trustees: Robert Quimby, Vincent Audino, Tony Aceto, Tom Conti, Ernie Gillest and Sam Colia. John George was appointed sergeant-at-arms.

During the course of the meeting, 30 new members were initiated into the club which promises to be one of the outstanding athletic clubs in the city. With the grid season almost over, the Syndicate club is now outlining plans for a fast basketball team.

New Castle High Eleven Drills On New Intricate Plays

Game At Warren To Start At 8 O'clock, Field Is Well Lighted

When New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team takes the field at Warren, Ohio, Friday night to do battle with the powerful Warren High Presidents, they will do so with many new intricate plays at their command. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Bridenbaugh realizing that after two or three weeks of scouting Warren high coach Pierre Hill would know practically every move the locals made, has changed the manner of attack almost entirely.

"Phil" dug deep into the bag of tricks to pull out some "foolers." New Castle has not used much this year in the games except an off-tackle thrust, and a few simple forward passes. Warren high can expect to face a tricky New Castle high eleven.

Regulars In Shape

It is going to take New Castle wits to upset that big Warren high team. Sheer power and strength is with the Ohioans. New Castle will be outweighed about 10 pounds per man, on an average.

Every one of the New Castle regulars is in the best of shape for the Warren game. Fleming and Wisosky have rejoined the squad and big "Gob" Palkovitch is back in uniform.

The Warren team will wear white jerseys with red numbers and the New Castle team will wear their flaming red jerseys with white numbers. It is understood that the Warren high Harding field is one of the best lighted fields in this part of the country.

PITT GAME WILL START AT 2:30

The Pitt-Westminster football game to be played at Taggart stadium on Saturday afternoon will start at 2:30 o'clock, it is announced by the Westminster college authorities.

Allegheny, Grove City Will Battle At Meadville, Pa.

District Colleges Will Tangle On Football Field; Grovers Are Favored

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 25—One of the oldest and finest of small college football rivalries will be renewed this Saturday on Montgomery Field when Allegheny takes on Bil Amos' well-coached Grove City team before a Homecoming crowd that is expected to break all records of recent games.

Coach Tippin and his assistant, Art Daniels, have been grooming the Allegheny squad carefully for this contest for it means much not only to the undergraduate but to the many alumni who will return for the game carrying memories of many other well fought games between the two teams.

Grove City will enter the contest as the favorite because of their record to date which consists of an easy opening win over Holbrook, an 18-0 decision over a strong Slippery Rock team and a 30-0 romp over John Knight's Bethany Bisons. Allegheny on the other hand, can only show a 6-0 win over Clarion, a 7-7 tie with Alfred and a 21-0 loss to Dickinson.

Geneva, Wesleyan To Play Friday

Geneva Hopes To Break Into Victory Column In Game With Mountaineers

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. Oct. 25—For the second week in succession Geneva College will oppose one of the strongest teams in the Tri-State district. The West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats have already taken the measure of New York University in a decisive manner and will be out to avenge the Geneva-Wesleyan game of last season in which they were defeated in the last quarter only after a terrific struggle. Coach Cebe Ross has rounded out a strong squad which is composed of nine three year varsity men and a wealth of other valuable material.

Last year Len Barnum, 195 pound fullback, was the mainstay of the team. Barnum beside placing on the West Virginia All Star Team last season, received honorable mention on the All-American Board. He is a triple threat performer who will bear constant watching in the coming encounter.

"Shatter" Nelson, 190 pound sophomore halfback is giving Barnum valuable assistance this season as he is a shifty ball carrier and accurate passer, scoring two touchdowns against N. Y. U.

Gallant Sir, famous stake horse and winner of $116,000 has gone into training in preparation for his entry in the Los Angeles and Bay Meadows meets this winter, according to dispatches from San Jose where Norman W. Church has his stables. The veteran trainer, E. L. Fitzgerald, armed with 35 years experience declares Gallant Sir the greatest and meanest horse he ever trained. He said recently that "many a day when we start working him he refuses to breese either way of the track and we have to take him round to the barrier to start him. If he had a disposition like Riskulus he would be the greatest horse in the world. In spite of this Fitzgerald has trained the horse ever since Church purchased Gallant Sir in 1930 from A. B. Hancock as a yearling. "The boss passed him up and I kept bringing him back to look the cold over. Finally the horse was developed and he came through and is the only horse to win the Caliente handicap two years in succession.

Death played its part. in .horse racing this year and three of the stars which died were Mrs. J. Sickness and injury kept many good horses inactive. Hoof trouble kept Equipoise out of action after he had been primed for a final onslaught on the world's money-winning title. Sport Lovers To Pay Over Billion

All Forms Of Sports Will Draw Tremendous Crowds, Gate Receipts Soar

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The sporting proclivities of Uncle Sam's sport loving children will cost them over a billion bucks this year.

You think that's an exaggeration? Shucks, I can find you any number of race track men who will assure you that much at least is bet on races in this country.

How much is bet on all kinds of sports events nobody knows. The exact figures probably would stagger the imagination. Certainly, at a most conservative estimate, the amount would be sufficient to pay off the war debt of many a small nation.

Pay Enormous Sums.

Why, even the gates at sports events this year—and surely 1934 is not to be compared with some of the banner years when everybody seemed to have money to toss around—will exceed $100,000,000.

Football fans alone will pay not less than $25,000,000 to see their favorite sport this fall. That seems a staggering figure until you take your pencil in hand. Let's figure a bit.

Last Satruday 17 colleges drew 500,000 who padi—to be extremely conservative—not less than $1 a head. There's half a million for just 17 games. But there are about 300 college games every Saturday. Let the average attendance be only 2,000 at $1 a copy. Now multiply that by eight or ten Saturdays.

And, mind you, this doesn't begin to take into consideration the hundreds of high school and prep school and professional football games every week. Individually, these games may not run into important money but when you lump them all together, the figures are startling.

Fights used to draw tremendous gates but the biggest one of the year—the Carnera-Baer title fight—drew only a little over $400,000.

Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden. is authority for the statement that fight fans will not lay more than $3,000,000 on the line this year for their favorite sport.

Ball Games Draw.

The major league ball clubs will total about $10,000,000 on the year and minor league, college and semi-pro games another $5,000,000.

Hockey—majors, minors, collegiate and amateur—will easily gross $2,000,000.

Track meets, tennis, pro and amateur—golf, wrestling and other sports will add several million more to the total.

Then there is horse racing. With at least four tracks running somewhere the year round and with several thousand for a daily average, you can readily see where many more millions are added.

Gridiron Rivals To Play Saturday

Binder And Beres, New Castle Boys, Guards At Grove City On Injured List

GROVE CITY, Oct. 25.—Traditional rivals who have not met on the gridiron since 1931, will resume competition Saturday at Meadville when Grove City and Allegheny play their 40th football game. With hardly an interruption since the first game in 1899, the long series of games furnished the outstanding attraction of the season, and the rivalry has persisted through the three-year lay-off.

For the first time this season scrimmage has been taboo in the Crimson camp this week. This has not been to the liking of Coach Amos, who preferred to iron out serious flaws in actual competition, but the physical condition of the squad will not permit him to take chances. Orris, halfback, and Binder and Beres, guards, acquired injuries last week reqiring attention, and Soich, end, and Gross, halfback, are not improved sufficiently to take part in active work. So, the week is being spent developing deception in the attack, checking up on plays which have not worked satisfactorily, and in handling the ball. The Crimson coach is not taking Allegheny lightly, although the Grovers are favored to win.

Grove City registered a major upset in gaining a 7-7 tie with Allegheny's great 1931 team, in the last meeting. All of the Methodist players of that year have passed out of the picture, but the Grovers will present three boys who as freshmen played in the last game. They are Beres. now a guard, and Tomko, who played ends, and Verne Smith, back.

WESTMINSTER QUARTERBACK

ARROWSMITH

BOB ARROWSMITH, Erie, Pa., a junior, has, following an operation on his throat, rounded into form and won the varsity quarterback berth at Westminster. Arrowsmith's triple-threat ability makes him a valuable man in the Titan backfield. He has speed, can pass and kick, and has the feel for the right play.

Albright Grid Coach Resigns

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Oct 25—John W. Smith, formerly assistant coach of football at Albright College, today began his regime as head mentor in place of Jay Martin Kelchner whose absence of several days created a stir in college circles here.

The replacement followed Kelchner's resignation which was accepted by the Athletic council at a special meeting last night.

Kelchner, formerly connected with the coaching staff at the University of Pennsylvania, was reported missing by Rev. Dr. Warren F. Klein, president of the institute after last Friday night's game with Muhlenberg College at Allentown. His return to the Albright campus yesterday abruptly ended a statewide search.

Kelchner explained his disappearance by saying he had been in Philadelphia recuperating from a severe cold contracted Saturday while "scouting the Ursinus-Franklin and Marshal game at Collegeville, Saturday."

Sign New Players For Castlewood

Miller club of Castlewood will play a return football game with the Hazel Dell Scholastics at the Castlewood baseball field at 3 p. m. Saturday. Last Saturday Hazel Dell won 7 to 6 in a good game. There is plenty of rivalry between the elevens. Castlewood has signed several new players, it was reported today.

Correct this sentence: "They are quitting good jobs," said the critic, "to go on relief."

How To Get To Football Field At Warren, Ohio

New Castle football fans who will go to Warren, Ohio, Friday night for the big Warren-New Castle football battle, will use two routes to reach Warren. The question has been asked, "where is the Warren High field located?

Here 'tis—

Going into Warren on Route 422 follow 422 until you come to Elm street and turn right and go north on Elm street and direct to field.

Going in on Route 82—go to Elm street and turn right, going northeast.

There will be signs showing the way to the field.

Policemen will be stationed along the two routes to direct the New Castle fans.

The game starts at 8 p. m.

Suggests Route 82

B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club today recommended a route to Warren, O., for the football fans on Friday night that will take them directly to the Warren stadium where New Castle plays.

The route recommended is 35 miles in length. Take Route 422 to Coitsville, then turn right and go into Hubbard, O. At Hubbard take Ohio Route 7 to Brookfield. turn left onto Route 82 and on to Warren. Upon entering Warren follow No. 82 to the junction of 82 and 85, turn right on Route 5 and follow through to the stadium.

Fine Parking Space

Ample parking space is provided on the school property and all visitors should avail themselves of this parking space as the school will have the grounds properly policed and the police department will have the surrounding grounds properly policed.

The Warren Motor club will have the streets entering Warren properly marked enabling visitors to follow a direct route to the stadium.

Pitt-Westminster Game Here Saturday Will Be Colorful

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 25—Looking ahead to four important grid games with colleges of its own class, Westminster will try to make a good showing against Pitt Saturday at Taggart stadium, New Castle and at the same time, to avoid any possible injury.

With the important Grove City battle carded for November 3, and with contests scheduled with Waynesburg, Muskingum, and Geneva on succeeding weekends, the Titans hope to come out of the Pitt encounted with all players in shape to do their best against small-college rivals.

Light Drills

Light drills held so far this week have seen a number of the leading Titan players taking things rather easy. The reason is that at least five players were injured in the hard Thiel game on Saturday, and Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane are taking no chances of adding to the injuries.

Coach Jock Sutherland, of the Panthers has said that he will start the same eleven men who faced Minnesota last Saturday, while Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane will probably start the same team which faced Thiel at the pickoff. Pitt will have a squad of at least 45 men in New Castle for the contest while Westminster will have 32 players.

Pitt Band To Play

Professor Donald O. Cameron, band master at Westminster, together with Donald Donaldson and Bruce Bower, cheer leaders, is planning music, parades and other features to add color to the New Castle contest. The Pitt band of 100 pieces will be on hand, Pitt officials state, and the Westminster band of 40 pieces will also be present. The Westminster cheering section, composed of 700 students and faculty, will occupy a special block of seats.

After having stacked up against Fordham's big team in New York City, the Titans feel that they can stand another hard game. This contest, provided it does not result in injuries to Titan players, will serve to roughen the Westminster outfit for district contests even more than an easy game would do. While it will provide little opportunity for offense, it should help in developing defensive tactics.

Titans In Blue

Westminster will wear royal blue jerseys in the contest, while Pitt probably wear white jerseys. The Titans will use the stadium dressing room, and the team will use the bench on the stadium side of the field. Pitt will use the Benjamin Franklin junior high dressing rooms and will be seated on the eastern side of the field.

Westminster students will enter the North gate, and will sit in section 2. The Westminster band will be seated on the band platform in front of section 2. Pitt's band will occupy special bleacher seats in front of section 4. New Castle high school's football squad and coaches will also have special bleacher seats in front of section 3.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

PRINCETON'S PREMATURE WORRY

It seems that Princeton's uneasiness over the bouquets being tossed to Pitt and Minnesota is just a little bit untimely. Before last Saturday's games, Coach Crisler appeared a little upset because the Tigers were being given the cold shoulder when championship football teams were being written or talked about.

However, after the Jersey entry's performance last Saturday against W. & L., it appears that, perhaps, Fritz Crisler was crossing bridges too soon because Princeton may not have any Pasadena bouquets to worry about. The Tigers are undefeated, yes, but so are Grove City, Penn State, St. Vincent's and others. Yet, these teams, though they have played teams in the class of Amherst and Williams, aren't clamoring for Rose Bowl bids.

Hand Princeton the schedule of either Pitt or Minnesota and the Tigers would have been beaten at least once by this time with the worst yet to come. Just imagine what the Gophers or Panthers would do to a string of opponents like Amherst, Williams, Washington and Lee, Cornell, Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth There wouldn't be a real workout on the schedule until Yale and Dartmouth were met, and they could be taken in stride.

I don't mean to say that Princeton hasn't a good football team because they have. However, they are some distance from being the best in the nation. Even if they do go through the season undefeated, I still think that Pitt, Minnesota, Illinois, Tulane, Duke and a few others are better.

However, the possibility of their completing the schedule with a clean slate now seems very remote. The consecutive victory pressure which was turned on last season now appears to be getting the best of them. Their case is parallel to that of last season's Southern California team which won a few games unimpressively and then were tied by Oregon State. On the following Saturday they were defeated by a Stanford team which at that time seemed, at least on paper, inferior to Jones' men.

But that defeat was all the Trojans needed: the pressure was relieved and they again were winning ball games decisively. Had Oregon State defeated the Trojans instead of only deadlocking them, it is very likely that the House of Troy would have beaten Stanford on the following Saturday.

Such is the case with the Princeton Tigers. If one of the weaker teams, Cornell or Harvard, polish them off they may find the stuff to beat Yale and Dartmouth. If not, however, either of these, especially the latter, will probably trim the Tigers' claws.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

When Marty Brill finished his college career at Notre Dame, he went to Columbia as assistant coach to Lou Little. Now Marty while at Notre Dame, became accustomed to football squads with at least a hundred members.

So when he reported to Little on the first day, Marty looked over the players and turned to Lou:

"That's a pretty fair bunch of halfbacks we've got to work with," he said.

"Halfbacks nothin' " replied Lou, "that's everything—halfbacks, fullbacks, tackles, guards, end coaches, line coaches and a few interested alumni."

Syndicate Club Names Officers

Charles Scaglione Heads New South Side Athletic Club

On Wednesday evening at 711 South Mill street, members of the Syndicate club, an athletic organization, which was started recently, elected officers for the remainder of this year and for 1935.

Charles Scaglione, well known baseball, football and mushball star, was elected president; Frank Isabella was named vice president; Frank Christopher is treasurer; Fred Marcella was elected secretary of correspondence, and the following were named trustees: Robert Quimby, Vincent Audino, Tony Aceto, Tom Conti, Ernie Gillest and Sam Colia. John George was appointed sergeant-at-arms.

During the course of the meeting, 30 new members were initiated into the club which promises to be one of the outstanding athletic clubs in the city. With the grid season almost over, the Syndicate club is now outlining plans for a fast basketball team.

When Ty Cobb Played in the Major Leagues, Remaining Outstanding Star for 24 Seasons

Various poses of Ty Cobb.

At the height of his popularity.

ONE OF THE mysteries of baseball since its origin was the ability of Tyrus Raymond (Ty) Cobb, the so-called "Georgia Peach", to last 24 seasons in the major leagues. Without question, Ty was one of the greatest players of all time. In each of his last 23 seasons in the game, he batted better than .300, leading his league in batting for 12 years. The champion base stealer of them all, Cobb has remained to baseball what James J. Corbett was to boxing, and Bobby Jones was to golf. He made his major league debut with Detroit in 1905, and retired from the game in 1928.

Dillinger and Floyd were killed by Federal agents. Makley died in an attempted prison escape. Van Meter was killed by St. Paul police and Pierpont died in the electric chair at Ohio State Penitentiary.

Jewels Enter Mode

Fashions have undergone a metamorphosis, declares Lucien Lelong, and are brilliant and distinguished for the 1934-5 season. Jewels are again resuming their rightful place. Diamonds, emeralds and rubies are being sent to the jewelers for new settings, and semi-precious stones have regained their popularity. In tune with the mode Lelong shows this black velvet evening dress with fancy sleeves and a jewel holding the decollette. It is sketched in Paris.

SPIRITS CAROUSE ON NIGHT OF ALL HALLOWE'EN

The spirits of the air have their one night out on All Hallowe'en, Oct. 31. The harvest is in, the "frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock", and there's time for everyone to have a good fling before buckling down to winter work. It's a swell time to entertain. Anything in the way of "good, clean fun" goes, for witches may be seen streaking across the sky on their broomsticks, pixies and elves do weird things to everything on which they can lay their hands, spooky jack o' lanterns shed a weird light on all proceedings, black cats scurry across the path, and wise old owls wail "who-o-o-o-o" as they look on. The hostess who cannot utilize these elements to aid her in entertaining her guests is indeed lacking in ingenuity. The dimmer and more mysterious the decorations, and the wilder the entertainment, the better. After all the fun, however, the refreshments should be fairly substantial. Sandwiches, fruit of all kinds, salads, pumpkin pies, doughnuts, with coffee and cider for the liquids, carry out the color scheme of orange and black.

The flowers that will adorn the pulpit this week end have been offered by Mrs. Nanette C. A contribution to the Temple Memorial Fund has also been received from Mrs. Linville and Mr. Cosel in memory of their parents.

New Castle High Eleven Drills On New Intricate Plays

Game At Warren To Start At 8 O'clock, Field Is Well Lighted

When New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team takes the field at Warren, Ohio, Friday night to do battle with the powerful Warren High Presidents, they will do so with many new intricate plays at their command. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Bridenbaugh realizing that after two or three weeks of scouting Warren high coach Pierre Hill would know practically every move the locals made, has changed the manner of attack almost entirely.

"Phil" dug deep into the bag of tricks to pull out some "foolers." New Castle has not used much this year in the games except an off-tackle thrust, and a few simple forward passes. Warren high can expect to face a tricky New Castle high eleven.

Regulars In Shape

It is going to take New Castle wits to upset that big Warren high team. Sheer power and strength is with the Ohioans. New Castle will be outweighed about 10 pounds per man, on an average.

Every one of the New Castle regulars is in the best of shape for the Warren game. Fleming and Wisosky have rejoined the squad and big "Gob" Palkovitch is back in uniform.

The Warren team will wear white jerseys with red numbers and the New Castle team will wear their flaming red jerseys with white numbers. It is understood that the Warren high Harding field is one of the best lighted fields in this part of the country.

Geneva, Wesleyan To Play Friday

Geneva Hopes To Break Into Victory Column In Game With Mountaineers

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. Oct. 25—For the second week in succession Geneva College will oppose one of the strongest teams in the Tri-State district. The West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats have already taken the measure of New York University in a decisive manner and will be out to avenge the Geneva-Wesleyan game of last season in which they were defeated in the last quarter only after a terrific struggle. Coach Cebe Ross has rounded out a strong squad which is composed of nine three year varsity men and a wealth of other valuable material.

Last year Len Barnum, 195 pound fullback, was the mainstay of the team. Barnum beside placing on the West Virginia All Star Team last season, received honorable mention on the All-American Board. He is a triple threat performer who will bear constant watching in the coming encounter.

"Shatter" Nelson, 190 pound sophomore halfback is giving Barnum valuable assistance this season as he is a shifty ball carrier and accurate passer, scoring two touchdowns against N. Y. U.

Allegheny, Grove City Will Battle At Meadville, Pa.

District Colleges Will Tangle On Football Field; Grovers Are Favored

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 25—One of the oldest and finest of small college football rivalries will be renewed this Saturday on Montgomery Field when Allegheny takes on Bil Amos' well-coached Grove City team before a Homecoming crowd that is expected to break all records of recent games.

Coach Tippin and his assistant, Art Daniels, have been grooming the Allegheny squad carefully for this contest for it means much not only to the undergraduate but to the many alumni who will return for the game carrying memories of many other well fought games between the two teams.

Grove City will enter the contest as the favorite because of their record to date which consists of an easy opening win over Holbrook, an 18-0 decision over a strong Slippery Rock team and a 30-0 romp over John Knight's Bethany Bisons. Allegheny on the other hand, can only show a 6-0 win over Clarion, a 7-7 tie with Alfred and a 21-0 loss to Dickinson.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Gallant Sir, famous stake horse and winner of $116,000 has gone into training in preparation for his entry in the Los Angeles and Bay Meadows meets this winter, according to dispatches from San Jose where Norman W. Church has his stables. The veteran trainer, E. L. Fitzgerald, armed with 35 years experience declares Gallant Sir the greatest and meanest horse he ever trained. He said recently that "many a day when we start working him he refuses to breese either way of the track and we have to take him round to the barrier to start him. If he had a disposition like Riskulus he would be the greatest horse in the world. In spite of this Fitzgerald has trained the horse ever since Church purchased Gallant Sir in 1930 from A. B. Hancock as a yearling. "The boss passed him up and I kept bringing him back to look the cold over. Finally the horse was developed and he came through and is the only horse to win the Caliente handicap two years in succession.

Death played its part in horse racing this year and three of the stars which died were Mrs. J. Bosley's Chase Me which met an untimely death on the threshold of a great career; Sylvester Labrot's Springsteel, which had been 1 of the country's most noted sprinters and Wheatley Stable's Dark Secret which died in one of the gamest finishes ever seen on the American turf when he staggered across the finish line on three legs after breaking one to win the Jockey Club Gold cup at Belmont park. Sickness and injury kept many good horses inactive. Hoof trouble kept Equipoise out of action after he had been primed for a final onslaught on the world's money-winning title. He went bad at the Suburban Handicap at Belmont. Cavalcade and High Quest went bad after a successful season.

He neved played a game of intercollegiate football in his life but they call him the "miracle man of football." His name is 'Babe' Hollingberry of San Francisco. He coached Lick-Wilmering high at San Francisco and produced prep elevens that won state titles. He mentored the Olympic Club team which halted the five year winning streak of the University of California after which he went to Washington State and in 1930 captured the first Pacific Coast conference title. This season the Washington State eleven seems destined for the championship again as Southern California was humbled 19 to 0.

Luis Carpentero knocked out Charlie Kennedy in three rounds at Newport, Ky. The Filipino has been quiet for some time but he still has his punch.

Miss Barbara Ransom, of Stockton, Cal., won from Mrs. Philip Atwood, Chicago, former western open champion, 3 and 1, in the second round of the women's western golf tourney yesterday. The defending champion, Miss Lucille Robinson, of Des Moines, Ia., beat Mrs. C. J. Woerner, of Los Angeles, 1 up.

Sport Lovers To Pay Over Billion

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The sporting proclivities of Uncle Sam's sport loving children will cost them over a billion bucks this year.

You think that's an exaggeration? Shucks, I can find you any number of race track men who will assure you that much at least is bet on races in this country.

How much is bet on all kinds of sports events nobody knows. The exact figures probably would stagger the imagination. Certainly, at a most conservative estimate, the amount would be sufficient to pay off the war debt of many a small nation.

Pay Enormous Sums.

Why, even the gates at sports events this year—and surely 1934 is not to be compared with some of the banner years when everybody seemed to have money to toss around—will exceed $100,000,000.

Football fans alone will pay not less than $25,000,000 to see their favorite sport this fall. That seems a staggering figure until you take your pencil in hand. Let's figure a bit.

Last Satruday 17 colleges drew 500,000 who padi—to be extremely conservative—not less than $1 a head. There's half a million for just 17 games. But there are about 300 college games every Saturday. Let the average attendance be only 2,000 at $1 a copy. Now multiply that by eight or ten Saturdays.

And, mind you, this doesn't begin to take into consideration the hundreds of high school and prep school and professional football games every week. Individually, these games may not run into important money but when you lump them all together, the figures are startling.

Fights used to draw tremendous gates but the biggest one of the year—the Carnera-Baer title fight—drew only a little over $400,000.

Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, is authority for the statement that fight fans will not lay more than $3,000,000 on the line this year for their favorite sport.

Ball Games Draw.

The major league ball clubs will total about $10,000,000 on the year and minor league, college and semi-pro games another $5,000,000.

Hockey—majors, minors, collegiate and amateur—will easily gross $2,000,000.

Track meets, tennis, pro and amateur—golf, wrestling and other sports will add several million more to the total.

Then there is horse racing. With at least four tracks running somewhere the year round and with several thousand for a daily average, you can readily see where many more millions are added.

City tenpin league got under way last night with six fast teams entered. Jack Steinbrink of the Rendevous team had high individual score of 235, while Drushel of the Penn Powers had high three game total of 563. The city league will bowl every Tuesday night.

Among Pitt Stars Here Saturday

Art Detzel

"Doc" Hartwig

Izzy Weinstock

Powerful factors in the showing of the University of Pittsburgh Panther this year are these three stars. The man carrying the ball is Izzy Weinstock, line-smashing star of Coach Jock Sutherland's backfield. Art Detzel, top, and "Doc" Hartwig, below, are being mentioned as All-American guard possibilities for their strong line play. Fullback Weinstock also is under All-American scrutiny.

HALFBACK ON TITAN TEAM

SWEENEY

RAY SWEENEY, Youngstown, O., South high product, is playing his fourth year on the Westminster college grid team. Ray has been quarterback and left halfback, and has been one of the outstanding Titan players ever since he entered college. Although he weighs less than 150 pounds, he has broken away for long runs in almost every game in which he has played. His size does not seem to bother him in sports (He's about 5 ft. 6).. for he has won three letters in football, three in basketball, and two in track.

Mike DeCarbo On Freshman Eleven

Louis Sorto of Superior street, former New Castle high grid star, received word on Wednesday morning from South Bend, Ind., that Mike DeCarbo of East Lution street, who also is a former New Castle gridder, was successful in making the Notre Dame freshman eleven.

The local lineman plays right guard. The freshman team opposes the Notre Dame regulars several times a week.

Binder And Beres, New Castle Boys, Guards At Grove City On Injured List

GROVE CITY, Oct. 25.—Traditional rivals who have not met on the gridiron since 1931, will resume competition Saturday at Meadville when Grove City and Allegheny play their 40th football game. With hardly an interruption since the first game in 1899, the long series of games furnished the outstanding attraction of the season, and the rivalry has persisted through the three-year lay-off.

For the first time this season scrimmage has been taboo in the Crimson camp this week. This has not been to the liking of Coach Amos, who preferred to iron out serious flaws in actual competition, but the physical condition of the squad will not permit him to take chances. Orris, halfback, and Binder and Beres, guards, acquired injuries last week reqiring attention, and Soich, end, and Gross, halfback, are not improved sufficiently to take part in active work. So, the week is being spent developing deception in the attack, checking up on plays which have not worked satisfactorily, and in handling the ball. The Crimson coach is not taking Allegheny lightly, although the Grovers are favored to win.

Grove City registered a major upset in gaining a 7-7 tie with Allegheny's great 1931 team, in the last meeting. All of the Methodist players of that year have passed out of the picture, but the Grovers will present three boys who as freshmen played in the last game. They are Beres, now a guard, and Tomko, who played ends, and Verne Smith, back.

WESTMINSTER QUARTERBACK

ARROWSMITH

BOB ARROWSMITH, Erie, Pa., a junior, has, following an operation on his throat, rounded into form and won the varsity quarterback berth at Westminster. Arrowsmith's triple-threat ability makes him a valuable man in the Titan backfield. He has speed, can pass and kick, and has the feel for the right play.

Albright Grid Coach Resigns

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Oct 25—John W. Smith, formerly assistant coach of football at Albright College, today began his regime as head mentor in place of Jay Martin Kelchner whose absence of several days created a stir in college circles here.

The replacement followed Kelchner's resignation which was accepted by the Athletic council at a special meeting last night.

Kelchner, formerly connected with the coaching staff at the University of Pennsylvania, was reported missing by Rev. Dr. Warren F. Klein, president of the institute after last Friday night's game with Muhlenberg College at Allentown. His return to the Albright campus yesterday abruptly ended a statewide search.

Kelchner explained his disappearance by saying he had been in Philadelphia recuperating from a severe cold contracted Saturday while "scouting the Ursinus-Franklin and Marshal game at Collegeville, Saturday."

Sign New Players For Castlewood

Miller club of Castlewood will play a return football game with the Hazel Dell Scholastics at the Castlewood baseball field at 3 p. m. Saturday. Last Saturday Hazel Dell won 7 to 6 in a good game. There is plenty of rivalry between the elevens. Castlewood has signed several new players, it was reported today.

Correct this sentence: "They are quitting good jobs," said the critic, "to go on relief."

How To Get To Football Field At Warren, Ohio

New Castle football fans who will go to Warren, Ohio, Friday night for the big Warren-New Castle football battle, will use two routes to reach Warren. The question has been asked, "where is the Warren High field located?

—Here 'tis—

Going into Warren on Route 422 follow 422 until you come to Elm street and turn right and go north on Elm street and direct to field.

Going in on Route 82—go to Elm street and turn right, going northeast.

There will be signs showing the way to the field.

Policemen will be stationed along the two routes to direct the New Castle fans.

The game starts at 8 p. m.

Suggests Route 82

B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club today recommended a route to Warren, O., for the football fans on Friday night that will take them directly to the Warren stadium where New Castle plays.

The route recommended is 35 miles in length. Take Route 422 to Coitsville, then turn right and go into Hubbard, O. At Hubbard take Ohio Route 7 to Brookfield, turn left onto Route 82 and on to Warren. Upon entering Warren follow No. 82 to the junction of 82 and 85, turn right on Route 5 and follow through to the stadium.

Fine Parking Space

Ample parking space is provided on the school property and all visitors should avail themselves of this parking space as the school will have the grounds properly policed and the police department will have the surrounding grounds properly policed.

The Warren Motor club will have the streets entering Warren properly marked enabling visitors to follow a direct route to the stadium.

Pitt-Westminster Game Here Saturday Will Be Colorful

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 25—Looking ahead to four important grid games with colleges of its own class, Westminster will try to make a good showing against Pitt Saturday at Taggart stadium, New Castle and at the same time, to avoid any possible injury.

With the important Grove City battle carded for November 3, and with contests scheduled with Waynesburg, Muskingum, and Geneva on succeeding weekends, the Titans hope to come out of the Pitt encounted with all players in shape to do their best against small-college rivals.

Light Drills

Light drills held so far this week have seen a number of the leading Titan players taking things rather easy. The reason is that at least five players were injured in the hard Thiel game on Saturday, and Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane are taking no chances of adding to the injuries.

Coach Jock Sutherland, of the Panthers has said that he will start the same eleven men who faced Minnesota last Saturday, while Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane will probably start the same team which faced Thiel at the pickoff. Pitt will have a squad of at least 45 men in New Castle for the contest while Westminster will have 32 players.

Pitt Band To Play

Professor Donald O. Cameron, band master at Westminster, together with Donald Donaldson and Bruce Bower, cheer leaders, is planning music, parades and other features to add color to the New Castle contest. The Pitt band of 100 pieces will be on hand, Pitt officials state, and the Westminster band of 40 pieces will also be present. The Westminster cheering section, composed of 700 students and faculty, will occupy a special block of seats.

After having stacked up against Fordham's big team in New York City, the Titans feel that they can stand another hard game. This contest, provided it does not result in injuries to Titan players, will serve to roughen the Westminster outfit for district contests even more than an easy game would do. While it will provide little opportunity for offense, it should help in developing defensive tactics.

Titans In Blue

Westminster will wear royal blue jerseys in the contest, while Pitt probably wear white jerseys. The Titans will use the stadium dressing room, and the team will use the bench on the stadium side of the field. Pitt will use the Benjamin Franklin junior high dressing rooms and will be seated on the eastern side of the field.

Westminster students will enter the North gate, and will sit in section 2. The Westminster band will be seated on the band platform in front of section 2. Pitt's band will occupy special bleacher seats in front of section 4. New Castle high school's football squad and coaches will also have special bleacher seats in front of section 3.

THE SPORT PATROL

PRINCETON'S PREMATURE WORRY

It seems that Princeton's uneasiness over the bouquets being tossed to Pitt and Minnesota is just a little bit untimely. Before last Saturday's games, Coach Crisler appeared a little upset because the Tigers were being given the cold shoulder when championship football teams were being written or talked about.

However, after the Jersey entry's performance last Saturday against W. & L., it appears that, perhaps, Fritz Crisler was crossing bridges too soon because Princeton may not have any Pasadena bouquets to worry about. The Tigers are undefeated, yes, but so are Grove City, Penn State, St. Vincent's and others. Yet, these teams, though they have played teams in the class of Amherst and Williams, aren't clamoring for Rose Bowl bids.

Hand Princeton the schedule of either Pitt or Minnesota and the Tigers would have been beaten at least once by this time with the worst yet to come. Just imagine what the Gophers or Panthers would do to a string of opponents like Amherst, Williams, Washington and Lee, Cornell, Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth. There wouldn't be a real workout on the schedule until Yale and Dartmouth were met, and they could be taken in stride.

I don't mean to say that Princeton hasn't a good football team because they have. However, they are some distance from being the best in the nation. Even if they do go through the season undefeated, I still think that Pitt, Minnesota, Illinois, Tulane, Duke and a few others are better.

However, the possibility of their completing the schedule with a clean slate now seems very remote. The consecutive victory pressure which was turned on last season, now appears to be getting the best of them. Their case is parallel to that of last season's Southern California team which won a few games unimpressively and then were tied by Oregon State. On the following Saturday they were defeated by a Stanford team which at that time seemed, at least on paper, inferior to Jones' men.

But that defeat was all the Trojans needed; the pressure was relieved and they again were winning ball games decisively. Had Oregon State defeated the Trojans instead of only deadlocking them, it is very likely that the House of Troy would have beaten Stanford on the following Saturday.

Such is the case with the Princeton Tigers. If one of the weaker teams, Cornell or Harvard, polish them off they may find the stuff to beat Yale and Dartmouth. If not, however, either of these, especially the latter, will probably trim the Tigers' claws.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

When Marty Brill finished his college career at Notre Dame, he went to Columbia as assistant coach to Lou Little. Now Marty while at Notre Dame, became accustomed to football squads with at least a hundred members.

So when he reported to Little on the first day, Marty looked over the players and turned to Lou:

"That's a pretty fair bunch of halfbacks we've got to work with," he said.

"Halfbacks nothin' " replied Lou, "that's everything—halfbacks, fullbacks, tackles, guards, end coaches, line coaches and a few interested alumni."

Syndicate Club Names Officers

Charles Scaglione Heads New South Side Athletic Club

On Wednesday evening at 711 South Mill street, members of the Syndicate club, an athletic organization, which was started recently, elected officers for the remainder of this year and for 1935.

Charles Scaglione, well known baseball, football and mushball star, was elected president; Frank Isabella was named vice president; Frank Christopher is treasurer; Fred Marcella was elected secretary of correspondence, and the following were named trustees: Robert Quimby, Vincent Audino, Tony Aceto, Tom Conti, Ernie Gillest and Sam Colia. John George was appointed sergeant-at-arms.

During the course of the meeting, 30 new members were initiated into the club which promises to be one of the outstanding athletic clubs in the city. With the grid season almost over, the Syndicate club is now outlining plans for a fast basketball team.

Profit Taking In Rails Halts Advance In Market At Opening Today

APPROVAL GIVEN ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Profit taking in the rails induced by yesterday's spectacular advance following the railway pension law decision turned the stock market into a hesitant affair today, despite the financial district's approval of the president's speech to the American Bankers' Association.

The realizing in the carrier shares was evident at the opening which was featured by blocks running to 2,500 shares and before the end of the first hour losses ran to more than a point. Trading, however, quieted down considerably on the reaction. Atchison, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific and Lackawanna, the first issues to respond to yesterday's favorable new were the weaker today.

Consolidated Gas after opening a point higher quickly ran into offerings and had its gain erased.

U. S. Steel opened fractionally lower and extended the loss to about hal' a point. Other industrial shares, however, held steady.

General Motors, Chrysler, Auburn and Nash were strong.

Commodity markets were steady with cotton showing little change and wheat worked fractionally higher.

Oils continued to mark time in the face of further gas price cuts. Liquors and specialties were quiet.

Profit Taking In Rails Halts Advance In Market At Opening Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Profit taking in the rails induced by yesterday's spectacular advance following the railway pension law decision turned the stock market into a hesitant affair today, despite the financial district's approval of the president's speech to the American Bankers' Association.

The realizing in the carrier shares was evident at the opening which was featured by blocks running to 2,500 shares and before the end of the first hour losses ran to more than a point. Trading, however, quieted down considerably on the reaction. Atchison, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific and Lackawanna, the first issues to respond to yesterday's favorable new were the weaker today.

Consolidated Gas after opening a point higher quickly ran into offerings and had its gain erased.

U. S. Steel opened fractionally lower and extended the loss to about hal' a point. Other industrial shares, however, held steady.

General Motors, Chrysler, Auburn and Nash were strong.

Commodity markets were steady with cotton showing little change and wheat worked fractionally higher.

Various poses of Ty Cobb.

At the height of his popularity.

ONE OF THE mysteries of baseball since its origin was the ability of Tyrus Raymond (Ty) Cobb, the so-called "Georgia Peach", to last 24 seasons in the major leagues. Without question, Ty was one of the greatest players of all time. In each of his last 23 seasons in the game, he batted better than .300, leading his league in batting for 12 years. The champion base stealer of them all, Cobb has remained to baseball what James J. Corbett was to boxing, and Bobby Jones was to golf. He made his major league debut with Detroit in 1905, and retired from the game in 1928.

Fashions have undergone a metamorphosis, declares Lucien Lelong, and are brilliant and distinguished for the 1934-5 season. Jewels are again resuming their rightful place. Diamonds, emeralds and rubies are being sent to the jewelers for new settings, and semi-precious stones have regained their popularity. In tune with the mode Lelong shows this black velvet evening dress with fancy sleeves and a jewel holding the decollette. It is sketched in Paris.

SPIRITS CAROUSE ON NIGHT OF ALL HALLOWE'EN

The spirits of the air have their one night out on All Hallowe'en, Oct. 31. The harvest is in, the "frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock", and there's time for everyone to have a good fling before buckling down to winter work. It's a swell time to entertain. Anything in the way of "good, clean fun" goes, for witches may be seen streaking across the sky on their broomsticks, pixies and elves do weird things to everything on which they can lay their hands, spooky jack o' lanterns shed a weird light on all proceedings, black cats scurry across the path, and wise old owls wail "who-o-o-o-o" as they look on. The hostess who cannot utilize these elements to aid her in entertaining her guests is indeed lacking in ingenuity. The dimmer and more mysterious the decorations, and the wilder the entertainment, the better. After all the fun, however, the refreshments should be fairly substantial. Sandwiches, fruit of all kinds, salads, pumpkin pies, doughnuts, with coffee and cider for the liquids, carry out the color scheme of orange and black.

Woman Suicides With Sash Cord

Woman Grieves Over Slaying Of Dope Peddler-Son, Ends Own Life

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25. — A broken heart, caused by grief over the sordid death of her only son in a dope peddling feud, was blamed by relatives today for the suicide of Mrs. Amada Schwalbe, 50, estranged wife of a prosperous motion picture theatre owner of Bala.

A piece of sash cord wrapped about her neck by her own hand ended Mrs. Schwalbe's life. She was found hanging in the cellar of a house here. It was a piece of sash cord, drawn taut by the hands of rival gangsters, that strangled her son last March.

The son, William H. Schwalbe, 33, became a gangster for the sake of "thrills" and a "scientific interest in the underworld." With his partner in crime, Gus Masino, Schwalbe was found dead along the muddy banks of a creek near Wilmington, Del. The executioners left a penny in each of their hands —gangland's symbol of the "pay-off" to chiselers and double-crossers.

Honking Of Horns Hard On Nerves

Too Much Noise Said To Be Injuring Health Of Philadelphia Citizens

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25—Science has joined hands with civic leaders in an effort to abolish the greatest foe of metropolitan mankind's nerves —noise.

The board of directors of the Philadelphia County Medical society under the leadership of Dr. Seth Brumm, president, has indorsed a measure to still the strident honking of automobile horns and unnecessary noises in general.

A spokesman for the board of directors in explaining that body's attitude toward the noise nuisance, declared:

"The society fully realizes the tremendous effect on the health of our citizens of excessive noises in the streets throughout the day and particularly during the night."

"The loss of sleep occasioned by unnecessary sounding of automobile horns is clearly a matter vital to public health," he continued.

The medical society, in entering the battle against the din caused by automobile horns, pointed out that noise causes "nerve irritation" not only to the unfortunates confined in hospital beds but to healthy persons as well.

Young Gangster Throws Self On Mercy Of Court

Peter Talarico, 18, Of Philadelphia Pleads Guilty To Slaying During Holdup

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Facing death in the electric chair—the doom meted out by juries to two of the four other youths accused with him of slaying a policeman, 18-year-old Peter Talarico today threw himself on the mercy of the court.

Talarico's plea of "guilty as charged", failed to surprise either the court or spectators, coming as it did during a week in which his elder brother, Willie Talarico, 20, and Walter Mika, 24, were both condemned to die after being convicted of participating in the hold-up which culminated in the slaughter of Policeman William C. Wilson.

Refusing to accept sole responsibility for deciding the youth's fate, Judge Harry S. McDevitt, most feared of sitting judges by gangsters, elected to postpone sentence until two other judges can sit with him and share in the responsibility.

Dr. De Kleine To Address Red Cross Workers

Medical Adviser Of National Red Cross Coming For Dinner In November

Secretary Orville Potter of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, has been advised by Walter Davidson, manager for the eastern area of the Red Cross, that Dr. William DeKleine, medical adviser of the national Red Cross, will be present to address the roll call workers at the opening of the campaign in Lawrence county.

Instructions will be given the workers and supplies distributed at a dinner which will take place Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, in the Elks Club, when Dr. DeKleine will be the principal speaker.

The Lawrence county chapter feels fortunate in securing such a splendid speaker as Dr. DeKleine, and anticipates a full attendance of the members of the executive committee, in addition to the chairmen and workers from the different rural district, who will assist with the roll call this year.

WHO WON THE BET?

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said steering a ship was far easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten.

"Macpherson," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!"

"That's all right," replied the engineer; "ye needna bother — we're aground."

Dr. De Kleine To Address Red Cross Workers

Medical Adviser Of National Red Cross Coming For Dinner In November

Secretary Orville Potter of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, has been advised by Walter Davidson, manager for the eastern area of the Red Cross, that Dr. William DeKleine, medical adviser of the national Red Cross, will be present to address the roll call workers at the opening of the campaign in Lawrence county.

Instructions will be given the workers and supplies distributed at a dinner which will take place Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, in the Elks Club, when Dr. DeKleine will be the principal speaker.

The Lawrence county chapter feels fortunate in securing such a splendid speaker as Dr. DeKleine, and anticipates a full attendance of the members of the executive committee, in addition to the chairmen and workers from the different rural district, who will assist with the roll call this year.

WHO WON THE BET?

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said steering a ship was far easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten.

"Macpherson," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!"

"That's all right," replied the engineer; "ye needna bother — we're aground."

DOG GONE MYSTERY

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Domminek DeLelles here is having a "dog-gone" tough time! Five times Domminek bought dogs: five times those dogs were stolen. The latest acquisition was a German Police pup for which Domminek paid $15. He tied it in his cellar overnight: locked the door. The next morning the lock was broken and the dog was gone.

Escaping the law is easy. You just lie low while the cops beat some other fellow till he confesses.

Judge Retires To Enjoy Life With His Old Friends

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 25.—a member of the New York legislature at Albany for six years and for nearly 30 years a jurist in the municipal courts of New York City, Judge William Young has returned to the scene of his frst triumphs to live in retirement.

Elizabeth Young, a daughter of Judge and Mrs. Young, is one of the younger movie stars in Hollywood at the present time. Mrs. Young also is widely known as the author of magazine articles.

Before leaving Williamsport, his native city, 40 years ago, Judge Young was a successful attorney here. Early in the century he represented a New York City district in the legislature at Albany for three two-year terms. Then he was elected to the municipal court in Manhattan, served two ten-year terms, and then was appointed by Mayor Hylan to the juvenile bench.

Profit Taking In Rails Halts Advance In Market At Opening Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Profit taking in the rails induced by yesterday's spectacular advance following the railway pension law decision turned the stock market into a hesitant affair today, despite the financial district's approval of the president's speech to the American Bankers' Association.

The realizing in the carrier shares was evident at the opening which was featured by blocks running to 2,500 shares and before the end of the first hour losses ran to more than a point. Trading, however, quieted down considerably on the reaction. Atchison, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific and Lackawanna, the first issues to respond to yesterday's favorable new were the weaker today.

Consolidated Gas after opening a point higher quickly ran into offerings and had its gain erased.

U. S. Steel opened fractionally lower and extended the loss to about half a point. Other industrial shares, however, held steady.

General Motors, Chrysler, Auburn and Nash were strong.

Commodity markets were steady with cotton showing little change and wheat worked fractionally higher.

Woman Grieves Over Slaying Of Dope Peddler-Son, Ends Own Life

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25. — A broken heart, caused by grief over the sordid death of her only son in a dope peddling feud, was blamed by relatives today for the suicide of Mrs. Amada Schwalbe, 50, estranged wife of a prosperous motion picture theatre owner of Bala.

A piece of sash cord wrapped about her neck by her own hand ended Mrs. Schwalbe's life. She was found hanging in the cellar of a house here. It was a piece of sash cord, drawn taut by the hands of rival gangsters, that strangled her son last March.

The son, William H. Schwalbe, 33, became a gangster for the sake of "thrills" and a "scientific interest in the underworld." With his partner in crime, Gus Masino, Schwalbe was found dead along the muddy banks of a creek near Wilmington, Del. The executioners left a penny in each of their hands —gangland's symbol of the "pay-off" to chiselers and double-crossers.

Honking Of Horns Hard On Nerves

Too Much Noise Said To Be Injuring Health Of Philadelphia Citizens

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25—Science has joined hands with civic leaders in an effort to abolish the greatest foe of metropolitan mankind's nerves —noise.

The board of directors of the Philadelphia County Medical society under the leadership of Dr. Seth Brumm, president, has indorsed a measure to still the strident honking of automobile horns and unnecessary noises in general.

A spokesman for the board of directors in explaining that body's attitude toward the noise nuisance, declared:

"The society fully realizes the tremendous effect on the health of our citizens of excessive noises in the streets throughout the day and particularly during the night."

"The loss of sleep occasioned by unnecessary sounding of automobile horns is clearly a matter vital to public health," he continued.

The medical society, in entering the battle against the din caused by automobile horns, pointed out that noise causes "nerve irritation" not only to the unfortunates confined in hospital beds but to healthy persons as well.

Young Gangster Throws Self On Mercy Of Court

Peter Talarico, 18, Of Philadelphia Pleads Guilty To Slaying During Holdup

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Facing death in the electric chair—the doom meted out by juries to two of the four other youths accused with him of slaying a policeman, 18-year-old Peter Talarico today threw himself on the mercy of the court.

Talarico's plea of "guilty as charged", failed to surprise either the court or spectators, coming as it did during a week in which his elder brother, Willie Talarico, 20, and Walter Mika, 24, were both condemned to die after being convicted of participating in the hold-up which culminated in the slaughter of Policeman William C. Wilson.

Refusing to accept sole responsibility for deciding the youth's fate, Judge Harry S. McDevitt, most feared of sitting judges by gangsters, elected to postpone sentence until two other judges can sit with him and share in the responsibility.

Dr. De Kleine To Address Red Cross Workers

Medical Adviser Of National Red Cross Coming For Dinner In November

Secretary Orville Potter of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, has been advised by Walter Davidson, manager for the eastern area of the Red Cross, that Dr. William DeKleine, medical adviser of the national Red Cross, will be present to address the roll call workers at the opening of the campaign in Lawrence county.

Instructions will be given the workers and supplies distributed at a dinner which will take place Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, in the Elks Club, when Dr. DeKleine will be the principal speaker.

The Lawrence county chapter feels fortunate in securing such a splendid speaker as Dr. DeKleine, and anticipates a full attendance of the members of the executive committee, in addition to the chairmen and workers from the different rural district, who will assist with the roll call this year.

WHO WON THE BET?

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said steering a ship was far easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten.

"Macpherson," he shouted. "I can't get the engines to start!"

"That's all right," replied the engineer; "ye needna bother — we're aground."

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Domminek DeLelies here is having a "dog-gone" tough time! Five times Domminek bought dogs: five times those dogs were stolen. The latest acquisition was a German Police pup for which Domminek paid $15. He tied it in his cellar overnight: locked the door. The next morning the lock was broken and the dog was gone.

Escaping the law is easy. You just lie low while the cops beat some other fellow till he confesses.
